

FROM HIS HOME PAPER

J. W. Holland Was A Prominent Citizen of LaFayette, Ga.

The following notice of the death of Mr. J. W. Holland, whose body was brought here for burial a few weeks ago, appeared in the Walker County (Ga.) Messenger of November 11th: Following an illness of only two days, J. W. Holland, one of LaFayette's and Walker County's highly respected and popular citizens, died suddenly last Friday evening at 6 o'clock at the home of Mrs. P. A. Cooper, where he had resided during his residence here. Mr. Holland had served during the week on the grand jury and was taken ill Tuesday night. His illness was not considered alarming, and his sudden death came as a distinct shock to the entire community.

Mr. Holland came to LaFayette in 1905 from Seneca, S. C., and established the My-Ola Bottling Works, where he prosecuted his business with marked success and at the time of his passing was regarded as one of the county's substantial business men. He was a director in the Walker County Bank, and had considerable financial interests here and in Tennessee it is understood. He was a mason, being a member of Western lodge at the time of his demise and always took a deep interest in Masonry. He was also a member of Walker chapter R. A. M., a Knight Templar and a Noble of the Mystic Shrine. Mr. Holland was of a quiet disposition, and possessed the quality of making friends whom he numbered by the score.

Surviving him are his father, I. F. Holland, of Camden, S. C., four brothers, C. V., of Tulahoma, Tenn.; H. H., of Hickory, N. C.; I. J., of Montana, and A. A. Holland, of Camden, S. C., four sisters—Mrs. J. D. Pate, of Camden, Mrs. J. C. McLeod, of Spring Hill, S. C., Mrs. Elva Davis, of Carlton, Ga., and Miss Anna S. Holland of Camden, S. C.

The remains were taken to Chattanooga Saturday afternoon and shipped to Camden, S. C., accompanied by his brother, C. V. Holland, of Tulahoma, Tenn., and R. V. Thurman of this city. Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, at the old family burying place near Camden, conducted in the presence of a large crowd of relatives and friends. Many beautiful floral tributes or fraternal orders here together with the Walker County Bank, relatives and friends, attested to the esteem in which the deceased was held. The passing of this splendid citizen of Walker county is deeply deplored by the people of this section.

Marriage in Alabama.

The following marriage notice is reproduced from the Montgomery, Ala. Journal and will be read with interest by friends of the couple: "Simple, but beautiful" was the wedding at the home of Mrs. Sanford Hatton, at Eclectic, Ala., on November 21, when her daughter, Clara Lee became the wife of Mr. F. D. Marshall, of Camden, S. C.

"To the strains of the wedding march the bridal party entered. First came the little flower girl, Mattie Ruth Adams, strewing the bride's pathway with rose petals. Next came the ring bearer, little Ross Hatton, bearing the ring in the heart of a white chrysanthemum. The maid of honor, Miss Mary V. Adams of Eclectic, Ala., wore a suit of brown velvet and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums and was met at the altar by the groomsmen, Mr. Edmond Roberts, of Tallahassee, Mrs. Joe Gaskins, of Camden, S. C., sister of the groom was the dame of honor and wore a suit of navy blue tricotine and carried white chrysanthemums. Next came the groom with his best man, his brother, Mr. R. B. Marshall, of Camden, S. C. They were met by the bride who entered with her mother, who gave her in marriage. The impressive ring ceremony was performed by Rev. W. Nails, of Tallahassee, Ala. The bride was beautiful in a traveling suit of brown velvet with accessories to match. She carried a bouquet of brides roses.

"Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Marshall left by auto for their future home in Camden, S. C., where Mr. Marshall is a prominent business man."

BIGHAM BEFORE COURT

Judges Reserve Decision on Plea For New Trial.

Columbia, Nov. 26.—Voicing various contentions of irregularities in the conduct of the case, attorneys for Edmund D. Bigham, convicted of the murder of his brother, Smiley Bigham, at Pamplico, Florence county, some months ago, and sentenced to electrocution, appeared before the State Supreme court today and asked for a new trial. The court reserved its decision.

Many exceptions were made by Bigham's attorneys, but they based their appeal mainly on the refusal of Judge R. Withers Memminger, the presiding judge, to grant a change of venue, on the allegation that Bigham could not get a fair trial in Florence county; the failure of Judge Memminger to grant a continuance on the plea of attorneys that they were unprepared to go to trial; "extremely prejudicial" remarks of the bench to "A. L. King, attorney for Bigham, when Judge Memminger told him that "if he did not conduct the case more orderly he would appoint other counsel to defend Bigham"; the admission of improper evidence; errors in the judge's charge and his failure to instruct the jury that Bigham was presumed to be innocent until he was found guilty. Bigham's attorneys claim that any one of their exceptions, if sustained by the appellate court, will be sufficient to give their client a new trial.

The State ably contested the plea of Bigham's attorneys. Bigham, in addition to conviction of the murder of his brother, is charged with the murder of his mother, his sister and his sister's two adopted children, at the same time he is alleged to have shot his brother to death.

Captain George Calthey, who has a record of eighty-five years as a school teacher, celebrated his one hundredth birthday at the Confederate home in Raleigh, N. C., on last Saturday.

Engineer Gerow and brakeman Murphy, both white, and Fireman Jones, a negro, were killed in the wreck of a Seaboard freight train at Youngsville, N. C., at 8:15 o'clock Saturday night. The locomotive boiler exploded and eighteen cars were derailed.

A First Aid for "Weak Circulation"

Keep the favorite windows warm and safe

Many well-lighted parts of the house are not only uncomfortable but unsafe as well when a cold, raw wind is blowing outside. Cold drafts do get in, somehow. But you can turn them into warm ones with a Perfection Oil Heater.

There are some corners that you just can't seem to warm up with your regular coal heater. A Perfection will do it and save "rushing" the furnace for hours at a time.

Too much heat is almost as bad as not enough. Keep the chill out of the house with your regular heating device and then supply the rooms you use most with the cheery warmth of a glowing Perfection.

The Perfection is remarkably light and durable. Put it just where grandmother wants it. It burns for about ten hours with a single filling.

Economize on coal this year by using more kerosene for heating. The price of Aladdin Security Oil is only about half what it was a year ago.

Almost all hardware, housefurnishing and department stores sell the Perfection Heater.

Ask your dealer about the Perfection Oil Heater Contest—$5,000.00 in prizes.
