Don't Forget "Katcha-Koo" December 15th and 16th.

20,000,000 fully addressed letters. That means that the fully addressed letters must wait on the slow moving poorly addressed letters just like the larger boys and girls are delayed by a bunch of "bad kids" tagging along.

You boys and girls can help the Postal Service and save your father some money, because he has to help pay the cost of searching addresses on letters and parcels sent out by this one careless and thoughtless family in every ten.

First find out if your family is the careless one, then bear in mind that your letters must be handled by skilled mail distributors standing in post offices and on swaying postal cars of a mile-a-minute mail trains, often under poor light.

The address on every letter, card, or package must be correct, complete, and legible, including the house number and name of street, and the "From" address should be in the upper left-hand corner so that the mail will be returned to you in case it is not delivered. Do not abbreviate names of States, because so many look alike when abbreviated.

Put the proper amount of postage on your letters and wrap the parcels carefully. Avoid fancy writing, which causes post-office clerks and letter carriers to stop and study, and thus lose time. Make the address plain and easily read, and always use pen and ink or typewriter and light-colored envelopes, so as to save the eyes of the post-office clerks. Do not use envelopes of unusual size. The little ones that are so frequently used for cards and notes at Christmas and other holiday times cause an untold amount of trouble and labor, as they will not fit our cancelling machines and must therefore be canceled by hand. Because of their size and tendency to slip out of a package, these small envelopes are more likely to be overlooked or lost.

Mail your letters and packages early in the day, because this avoids overloading and delaying mail at the end of the day.

Your local postmaster and your teachers will tell you more about the Postal Service.

Do these things, and you will win the grateful appreciation of the people in your post office and especially of Your Postmaster General.

Will H. Hays.

P. S.—Don't forget to mail Christmas packages This Week!

Build Power Plant Soon.

J. B. Duke and party, Mr. and Mrs. C. I. Burkholder of Charlotte were at Great Falls Monday in Mr. Duke's private car. Messrs. Marshall and Burkholder are officers in the Southern Power Company, and with Mr. Duke were looking over the location of the new power plant, on which work will commence within a few weeks. The party also drove down to the Wateree Power plant, and on the way inspected the many farm dwellings and improvements being made on the company's farms.—Lancaster News.

DEVELOP HOG INDUSTRY

Many Counties Do Not Produce Enough Meat for Rural Population.

Clemson College, Dec. 2.—Twenty-seven counties in South Carolina are not producing sufficient pork to feed even their rural population, according to the animal husbandrymen at Clemson College who are urging to conservative development of the hog industry in this state as farm conditions will justify, as the meat bill is one of the biggest items in the grocery bill of the average South Carolina family. Four hogs averaging 150 pounds each will supply pork for the average family of five. The farm should produce this pork supply.

All feeds for hogs, save possibly a little tankage, should be home grown. It takes approximately ten bushels of corn and sixty pounds of tankage to produce a 150-pound pig. If the average family requires four hogs, then it will take forty bushels of corn and 240 pounds of tankage to produce these hogs. If buttermilk, soy bean pasture, rape pasture, or corn and velvet bean pasture is available, it will not be necessary to buy tankage. A splendid way to fatten hogs is to turn them on corn and velvet beans and let the hogs do the harvesting.

Good pastures are absolutely necessary for economical pork production in South Carolina, and it has been thoroughly demonstrated that good pastures will save about two-fifths of the grain ration. One or two acres of rape or rye for winter pasture, and access to Bermuda pasture for summer, will produce sufficient grazing for a brood sow and her litter.

Sows are usually bred so that they will farrow in March and September allowing 3 months, 3 weeks, and 3 days for the gestation period. It is important to use only purebred boars, as this is the most economical way of improving the herd.

Other facts and suggestions about the growing of livestock on the self-supporting farm may be found in Extension Bulletin 48, "Farming under Bol Weevil Conditions," which may be had from county agents or from the Extension Service, Clemson College, S. C.

CHRISTMAS MESSAGE

Office of the Postmaster General, Washington, November 22, 1921.—To the boys and girls of the United States:

Christmas is almost here. Your great Post Office Department has a big job ahead and needs your help.

Think what it means to be Santa Claus to our 100,000,000 people and to deliver Christmas parcels to every family in this great country within the short space of a few days and without disappointment.

It can be done, and we're going to do it if we may have your help. I want to enlist the active assistance of every boy and girl in the schools of our country in getting parcels mailed this week to relieve the rush that comes directly before Christmas.

Will you go home today and take this message to your parents and friends:

"Our postmaster has asked us to mail our Christmas parcels This Week, for, unless we do, Uncle Sam's load may be so heavy the last few days before Christmas that he won't be able to deliver all the presents by Christmas eve."
The parcels must be well wrapped and tied and addressed plainly in order that they may arrive in good condition with their Christmasy appearance unspoiled. You can put on your packages, "Do not open until Christmas."

And, there must be a number on your house and a mail receptacle, too, for, if there isn't, Santa Claus's messenger, your letter carrier, may not be able to find the house where the present belongs.

There are some other things, too, in which you can all assist in improving the mail service and in saving our great Government millions of dollars a year that is now wasted because of our carelessness—yours and mine.

Every day that you drop a letter in the mail box 40,000,000 other letters are already pushing and jamming through the postal machinery. One letter a day for each family of five persons in the United States is given to Uncle Sam to deliver.

When you send a parcel to the post office for mailing any day there are about 8,000,000 other parcels ahead of yours passing through the postal hopper. This is in ordinary days; at Christmas time it is multiplied many times.

One family in about every ten puts a badly addressed letter in the mail every day. This mixes up over 200,000 half addressed letters with the

Monument For Last to Fall

Indianapolis, Ind.—The American Legion has begun a nation wide canvass to determine who was the last soldier killed in action. The French government will erect a monument to the last to fall. A Legion post at New Haven, Conn., has put forward the name of Thomas J. Walpole, Jr., killed on the morning of Armistice Day in an outpost engagement.

Merely Lost His Life.

A newspaper editor relates this story about a green reporter. He was hurried off to write up the murder of a wealthy manufacturer. After describing the details graphically he concluded with this sentence: "Fortunately for the deceased, he had deposited all his loose money in the bank the day before, so that he lost practically nothing but his life."
