The city books of registration are now open at the lobby of the opera house for the registering of voters for the election on paving to be held in June. It is the duty of every voter to register and vote in the election whether they favor the paving proposition or not. The Chronicle is heartily in favor of the bond issue and we hope that it will be carried by a large majority. We understand, however, that there is some opposition. Some oppose it in its entirety while others think that the issue is too large. But to our way of thinking any smaller issue would not be worth the while and it would be so small that the good results could not be noticed.

Governor Cooper did not boost himself to a great extent in the estimation of many citizens of the state miles from the scene and replied to the when on his last day in office he distress signals with the assurance that granted pardons and paroles to eight she was speeding to the spot. American Women Drowned

Brest, May 22.-Ninetyeight persons are missing and 242 were saved of those who were on board the British steamship Egypt when it was sunk off the Ishing of Ushaut Saturday night by a collision with the French steamer Seine, according to latest official

Among those missing are two Amerian women, Mrs. M. L. Sibley and Miss V. M. Boyer, whose home addresses are unknown here. It is possible that some of the missing may have been picked up by the steamship Capricorn in addition to those brought here by the Seine. The Capricorn was nine sounding her siren continuously.

Suddenly there came the warning shrick of the siren on the Seine and the latter loomed up out of the fog and darkness and struck the Egypt amidships. The Forgery Case

There has been much sympathynot all mandlin by any means-expressed over the conviction of the young forger Milton Lyle, found guilty and sentenced to serve four years at Lyle was convicted was not committed only against the banks, it was a theft cleverly concocted and executed against the people who were depositors in the institutions. The jury selected were men in no wise connected with public welfare. Should be become a the banks defrauded, men, who while candidate for the office stated above they realized the pain inflicted on the innocent mother of the prisoner, felt that justice must be done the State and all alike. As our representative in whose laws the youth had cumningly violated, and men who would have probably died in defence of that same nother's honor and womanhood.

The evidence that out-weighed all verbal testimony was the written signatures of the man himself plainly the wave which turned the tide from all reasonable doubt to positive guilt.

The crime of forgery is always the act of a sneak thief. It takes thought and time in planning and executing it, and is seldom if ever done on the impulse of the moment as is some times the case in other crimes. There is nothing hold nothing savoring of the heroic in the cumping craft of the sneaking forger, and when he is caught up with in his crooked work he must be punished.—Aiken Journal.

Our Trail of Blood

There has just been issued by the State of South Carolina "A Report of the South Carolina Mental Hygiene Survey." by a committee of which Dr. Patterson Wardlaw is chairman, which ought to be in the hands of every citizen of this State. It very completely covers conditions in all of the penal institutions in South Carolina.

The report on the State penitentiary states that there are now 310 personthere, and of this number 108 were convicted of murder and manslaughter!

Of these 310 convicts, 103, or 33.2 per cent, had never gone to school and
