Beautiful Reception For Bride.
The largest and most brilliant function of the midsummer season was given Thursday afternoon, when Mrs. Leo Schenk entertained in honor of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Leonard Schenk, a recent bride. We can hardly say that it was introducing Mrs. Schenk to Camden society as she was already well known and pleasantly remembered here as Miss Phoebe Oswald, of Allendale, but a warm and cordial welcome was extended by the crowd that thronged the parlors from 5:30 to 7:30 in the afternoon.

The rooms were thrown ensuite and abloom with pink and white flowers, including quantities of roses, asters and great bunches of pink crepe myrtle, that with ferns, palms and forest greens mingled in a pleasing color scheme of pink, white and green.

The guests were met at the door by Mrs. Manus Baruch, and ushered into the front parlor by Mrs. Margaret C. Miller, both wearing lovely black lace. The hostess and Mrs. T. J. Lipscomb, who assisted in receiving were also becomingly gowned in black lace, with bright corsage bouquets. The honor guest wore a lovely afternoon gown of periwinkle silk lace over charmeuse, with a picture hat laden with periwinkles in all their lovely shades.

Blinds were drawn and electricity enhanced the beauty of the scene. In the dining room the table had as a center decoration, a bowl of pink asters, while green tapers gleamed in silver candelabras. Mrs. David Wolfe and Mrs. John T. Nettles presided and here again black lace was the chosen costume for both. The color scheme of pink, white and green was artistically carried out in the block ice cream, variety of delicious cakes and mints. The two sparkling punch bowls were in charge of Mrs. Gus Hirsch, and Mrs. Rufus Thurman. Mrs. Hirsch wore an exquisite dress of grey georgette while Mrs. Thurman was in orchid georgette. Mrs. Harry Baum also assisted in entertaining.

Among those serving the refreshments were Misses Sara Wolfe, Nancy Lindsay, Dorothy Smith, Emily Jenkins, Harriet Steedman and Harriet Lipscomb. And vying with them in beauty and brightness were the lovely afternoon summer frocks representing the tints of the rainbow.

Alexander Dalton Kennedy.

In the passing of Alexander Dalton Kennedy, at 1:30 p. m., last Sunday Camden lost one of her most honored and best loved citizens, and although not unexpected, a wave of genuine sorrow enveloped the entire city. A gentleman of the old South and true to its memories and traditions he was also loyal to the new South and its part in the nation and gloried in its achievements and progress. The casket held his form clad in the Confederate uniform he loved so well and was draped in the Starry Cross that once waved victoriously over the fields that won his youthful enthusiasm as a brave soldier.

Outstanding among the beautiful floral tributes was the laurel wreath tied with the colors and sent by the John D. Kennedy Chapter, U. D. C., who loved and honored him and was largely represented at his funeral.

Mr. Kennedy was a lovable man, who at all times and in every way gave his strength to the weak, his substance to the poor, his sympathies to the suffering, and his heart to God. As the large crowd turned away from the flower-laden grave in the beautiful old cemetery, the setting sun seemed emblematic of the sunset of this long, useful and well spent life, and the great Monarch of Day sent out a farewell message in flashes of crimson, purple and gold with promise of a bright tomorrow, for—

"Beyond the sunset's radiant glow, There is a brighter world we know, Where clouds and darkness never come, The soul shall find a welcome home."

An Honored Visitor.

Mrs. W. D. Blanding, of Lexington, Kentucky, is visiting at the home of Mr C J Shannon, Jr. Mrs Blanding is pleasantly remembered in Camden where she once lived, as Miss Sallie Anderson, daughter of "Fighting Dick" Anderson, ranking general of South Carolina in the Confederate Cause. The "wheel of time" sometimes brings us back to the old places, to the scenes and friends of our yesterdays. Mrs. Blanding is accompanied by her talented and accomplished daughter, Miss Ellen Shannon Blanding, who has been especially gifted with a wonderful voice, the clear bird-like notes winning a place in Grand Opera.

Visitor Complimented.

Miss Mazie Herbert entertained three tables of bridge, Saturday afternoon in honor of her house guest, Mrs. F. H. Whitehead, of Erwin, Tenn. A profusion of roses were used throughout the rooms. Mrs. Robert Team and Miss Wilbur McCallum tied for top score and cut for the prize, Mrs. Team being the lucky winner of a lovely bottle of perfume. The honor guest was presented with a pair of silk hose. After cards delicious refreshments were served.

A Revival Meeting.

A revival meeting will begin at Pleasant Plains Church on the fourth Sunday in July. Everybody welcome. Meetings will be conducted by former pastor Rev. E. B. Jenkins, now of West Palm Beach, Fla. Morning services at 11 o'clock, evening services at 8:30.

Hamel-Buist.

A very simple, tho pretty wedding was that of Miss Louise Hamel, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hamel, of this place, to Sam Izlar Buist, of Blackville, Tuesday at twelve o'clock at the home of the bride's parents.—Kershaw Era.

Peach Show Next Week.

Hamlet, N. C., July 18.—Just one week from today, Tuesday, July 25th, the Second Annual Carolina Sandhills Peach Show will be held in Hamlet. A most interesting educational program is arranged. Prominent experts and authorities will speak on: "Orchard Development," "Building and Maintenance Cost of Orchard," "Markets and Marketing," "Conservation of By-Products." Demonstration in canning and preserving will be made during the day under the direction of Mrs. Jane S. McKimmon, State Home Demonstration Agent.

The Open Air Peach Harvest Festival on the evening of the 25th will bring together the young folks, the old folks, the frolicsome and many peach celebrities and peach queens. The band concert, peach pie eating contest, ye old time square dance, the heavy bombastic and the melon and peach feast for all will make a gladsome occasion.

Preparations are being made to entertain five thousand visitors during the day and evening. The big exhibit tent, housing the luscious Red Skin peaches will be lighted during the evening.

A tour through the peach orchards will be conducted on the 26th, leaving the Peach Show tent at 9 a. m. This tour will visit orchards in every stage of development from uncleared land to the full bearing trees. Demonstrations of modern machinery and methods will be given in orchards and every appliance for handling fruit to the best advantage will be shown. The Sandhill Cannery at Marston and the preserving plant at Vina Vista will be visited and the headquarters of the Sandhill Fruit Growers' Association at Aberdeen will be included in the trip.

Small Sale of Real Estate.

Perhaps one of the smallest titles to real estate made here in some time was that of last week, one foot front by forty-four feet deep on East DeKalk street from W. T. Smith to Isaac English. The price paid was $127.50.

English is using this additional space along with some other land to the rear to his barned buildings to erect three store rooms with a frontage of 14 feet with a depth of 44 feet, and he says when they are completed they will present a much better appearance than the building recently destroyed by fire.

NEARLY READY FOR BUSINESS.

War Finance Corporation Advances Ten Million On Cotton.

Columbia, S. C., July 17.—The South Carolina Cotton Growers' Cooperative Association has made arrangements with the War Finance Corporation for an advance of $10,000,000. This money will be used in making advances to the members of the association. Each member will receive 65 per cent of the current market value of his cotton at the time he delivers his cotton to the association.

With the financing problem solved, all officers elected and many of the technical heads chosen, and the headquarters practically in shape for occupancy, only the warehouse problem remains to be solved and the association will be ready to function. No trouble is anticipated in securing ample warehouse space. Owners of warehouses all over South Carolina have tendered their space to the association for its use if needed.

Now that the association is about ready to function there are many farmers over the state who have decided to join. There was a steady inflow of contracts last week and the number is expected to increase each week from now until September 1 when it will be necessary to close the membership books.

During the past week there has been a steady stream of visitors from every section of the state to association headquarters and without exception they have told of the strong loyalty on the part of the members in their respective sections to the association and of the growing enthusiasm for cooperative marketing.

Pitcher Luther Married.

Columbia, July 11.—"Punk" Luther, Columbia boy, recent graduate of Newberry College, and now-a-pitcher on the Columbia team of the South Atlantic baseball association, made a home run Monday, though he was not on the baseball diamond at the time. He motored to Newberry Sunday, and Monday morning took a side trip to Little Mountain and with him took Miss Louise Haltiwanger, of Newberry. At Little Mountain the two young people were married, Rev. John L. Long performing the ceremony. Miss Haltiwanger is the daughter of Mrs. A. C. Haltiwanger, former Columbian, but now matron of the Newberry College boarding hall.

When you get the Sign!

Do you get off with a good start or does your car lag behind? Not that there is usually any great advantage in being first, but there is much satisfaction in being able to be there when you want to!

The all-round satisfactory performance of "Standard" Gasoline, has made it the first choice of thousands of motorists who know from experience that gasolines differ.

Because "Standard" is the balanced gasoline it is quick starting and swift on the pick-up. It burns completely, leaving a minimum of light carbon; practically all of which is blown out through the exhaust. It is high-powered and delivers the maximum mileage that the motor can give you.

"Standard" is unequalled for uniform, year-round satisfaction—under all conditions and in all makes of cars. Use the proper grade of Polarine. It is just as satisfactory.
