

Social and Personal News
By Miss Louise Nettles

A Man's View.
Behold the society editor!
Think of the things
That she must write,
Think of the things
By day and by night,
Think of the parties
And dances, too;
Think of the worry
That she goes through
Names and initials
Must always be right;
The time and place
Forever in sight;
Adjectives, adjectives,
Oh, for a score;
Beautiful, elegant
Others galore.
Tell how the table
Was covered with flowers,
Speak of the ribbons
And roses and bowers,
Who was the hostess?
Name every guest,
Who were assisting
And how were they dressed
Who won the honors
If bridge was the game?
Who was invited?
Please give every name,
Pity, oh pity,
The woman who goes
To write of receptions
And dances and clothes;
Here is a lot
Which no one would choose,
Writing and writing
Society news.
—Spokesman Review.

Engagement Announced.
Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Kirkland announce the engagement of their daughter, Elise, to Mr. Sherborne D. Yardley, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Howard Yardley, of Philadelphia.

Mrs. Marye as Hostess.
The Thursday afternoon bridge club was charmingly entertained this week by Mrs. Robert Marye. In addition to the club members, Mrs. Marye had an extra table complimenting Miss Agnes DePass. The guests at this table were Misses Agnes Depass, Hope Savage, Nancy Lindsay and Emma Villepigne. The score prize was won by Miss Emma Villepigne. After the game the hostess served iced cream and cake.

Vacation Pleasures.
Misses Louis Lang and "Bunny" Lang have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Heyward, and at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Baker, Columbia, going home with Misses Sarah Heyward, Sarah Bostic, and Harriet Baker. After a gay house party at the old home of the deSessars on Mill street. These youthful merry makers are to continue the gaieties during the few weeks left of vacation at the home of Miss Louis Lang, in Bessemer City, where they are to go next week.

Services at Grace Church.
There will be services at Grace Episcopal church on Sunday conducted by the Rector, Rev. F. H. Harding, who has returned from his vacation. The services will be: The Holy Communion at 8 a. m., and morning service and sermon at 11 a. m. All are cordially invited.

A control device invented by New York man enables a musician playing one instrument to play a number of others at the same time in harmony and rhythm.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 16.—Mrs. Emma C. Bergdoll, mother of Grover C. Bergdoll, America's most famous slacker, has withdrawn her appeal from the finding of a Washington, D. C. judge who dismissed Mrs. Bergdoll's petition asking for the return of $1,500,000 worth of property seized by the Alien Property Custodian. No reason was given for the withdrawal. The government seized the property as it was unable to ascertain what belonged to Bergdoll and what belonged to his mother.

PERSONAL MENTION

Among those attending the dance in Lancaster, Wednesday evening from Camden were Misses Dorothy Allen, "Moody" Gibbs, Agnes DePass, Rebecca DeLoache, Messrs. Louis deLoach, James Henry Clyburn, Jr., Gene Zemp, and Nettles Lindsay.

Civic League Meets.
The August meeting of the Civic League was held at the Grammar school auditorium Monday afternoon and in the absence of the president, Mrs. E. C. Ritchey, the vice president, Mrs. Edwin Muller presided, and the League secretary, Mrs. H. G. Carrison, Jr. was also absent, Miss Minnie Clyburn filling that position.

An educational meeting had been planned. Miss Will Lou Gray was expected to address the meeting and several papers looked for. It was a disappointment to the League that Miss Gray could not attend and that absence from the city of the appointees caused the papers to fail also. However the League hopes that it is only a deferred pleasure and that the educational meeting may still be held in the not distant future. A musical programme had also been arranged but that too was unfortunately disarranged as Mrs. Clifton McKahn could not conveniently get to the piano on account of the work going on in the auditorium. Mr. Hollis Cobb, however, gave several beautiful selections on the violin.

In spite of the many unforeseen difficulties the meeting was a success from a business standpoint anyway as many important matters were discussed.

Miss Ernestine Bateman gave an interesting report from the Junior League. Mrs. Muller told of the success of the clothes campaign for the Near East Relief, and the different park committees gave favorable and encouraging reports.

It was decided to buy 100 bulbs to plant on the different parks—just where the flower and planting committee will decide. Mrs. Muller, as county chairman made an excellent plea for the Woman's Building at the Greater State Fair. Her plea was for individual interest and aid, however, as she did not ask anything from the League treasury. This is something that every woman in South Carolina should be deeply interested in and we trust that when the drive is made the response will be a generous and gracious one. Let us take Kershaw County "over the top."

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Lindsay and Billy Lindsay have returned from the mountains.

Mrs. F. Leslie Zemp and Miss Ella Zemp have returned from Mount Pleasant and Charleston.

Mr. E. L. Wooten spent several days last week in Gastonia and Charlotte, N. C.

Mr. Louis deLoache has returned from a visit to his father's plantation in the low country.

Misses Harriet and Cornelia Nelson, of Hartsville, were visitors here Sunday.

Jack Nettles is spending sometime in Columbia with the family of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. DeLoache.

Misses Corinne Lewis and Willie Belle Mackey left last Thursday to attend a house party in Greenwood.

Mrs. A. C. Ancrum is at home again after a pleasant visit to her old home in Abbeville.

Mrs. George Rhame and children have returned home after spending two weeks with relatives in Sumter.

Miss Elsie McDowell, of York, is visiting Miss Jessie L. and Mary Neal Campbell.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCurry, of Florence, spent the week-end in Camden.

Mrs. G. E. Taylor left Saturday afternoon for Huntsville, Alabama, where she will visit relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Mackey and family are spending this week in Gaffney.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Schenk will leave Sunday for a stay of a few weeks north.

Miss Mary Thomas and Miss Janie Bethune, of Bethune, were visitors here this week.

Miss Katherine Wallace has returned from a two weeks stay at the Isle of Palms.

Messrs. Leon Hicks, Wade H. Hicks and Hampton Hicks, of Hartsville, were the week-end guests of Mr. G. C. Bruce.

Mrs. J. C. Rowan and children are visiting in Camden before going to Mr. Rowan's new field in Concord, N. C.

Misses Dorothy Allen and "Moody" Gibbs, of Columbia, are the guests this week of Mrs. Ralph Shannon.

Faith, the winsome little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bratton deLoach, has returned from a visit in Winnsboro.

Mr. David Wolfe and daughter, Miss Sara Wolfe, are spending sometime at Oceanview, Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Carrison, Sr., are spending sometime in Pittsburg, Pa., visiting Commander and Mrs. William Ancrum.

Miss Emily Lang is visiting in Summerville. During her absence Miss Lois Williams will be pianist for "The Strollers."

Messrs. Ernest Wooten, Frank Wooten, George Coleman and Frank Cureton, left Wednesday for Hendersonville to spend several days.

Henry Thomas, of Charleston, is visiting at the home of his grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Carrison, Sr.

Mrs. Hickman, of Cheraw, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. H. G. Carrison, Jr., has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunter R. Lang and children, of Bessemer City, N. C., are here on a visit to Mrs. Lang's mother, Mrs. D. D. Parrish.

Misses Elizabeth and Dunnon Witherspoon, of Lancaster, and Miss Manship, of Hartsville were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Davidson last week.

Mrs. M. A. Cotten, and daughter, Mrs. William E. Sterling, of Baltimore, are expected to arrive on Sunday morning to make their permanent home in Camden with Rev. F. H. Harding at the Rectory.

The Rev. F. H. Harding returned from his vacation on Wednesday. Misses Estelle and Lucy Harding and Master Nat Harding who have been in Baltimore for a visit have also returned.

Knoxville friends will be interested to know that two former Knoxvilleans, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Burrier (Miss Iva McNutt) of Camden, S. C., are in the city the guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. George McNutt and other relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Niles of Camden accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Burrier. Mr. Niles is a well known South Carolina editor and publisher.—Sunday's Knoxville Journal.

Clubs Have Picnic.
The Lugoff and Crescent Home Demonstration Clubs held a delightful picnic at Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Heyward's on Thursday, August 11. In the morning Miss Jennie Boyd, County Home Demonstration Agent, gave a sponge cake demonstration, after which a most excellent picnic dinner was served. Mrs. Edwin Muller, of Camden, gave a very interesting talk on "A Greater State Fair." Then presented the matter of raising money for the Women's Building at the State Fair Grounds at Columbia. The apportionment for Kershaw County being one hundred and seventy-five dollars.

Mrs. Hugh McCullum, president of the Lugoff Club, then appointed Mrs. James Roseborough as chairman of a committee to be responsible for the funds of her community. Mrs. Shiers was appointed as chairman from the Crescent Club.

Mr. J. W. Sanders, County Farm Demonstration Agent, made a very enthusiastic talk on "A Greater Community Fair" for Kershaw County. The members of these clubs have already come forward in a very strong manner to show their appreciation and support of the fair.

The ladies invited their husbands and everyone had a good time.

Visitors and Bride Complimented.
Mrs. Clifton McKahn was hostess at one of the largest and most beautiful of the mid summer functions when she entertained twelve tables of bride in compliment to Mrs. Leonard Schenk, one of the season's brides, Mrs. William Beattie, of Florence, and Mrs. Hunter Lang, of Bessemer City, N. C.

The game was played amid a setting of pink crepe myrtle, the flower of other days that has again come into its own as one of the choice pets of the garden. An appropriate decoration for the old fashioned parlors that bear the imprint of "the days that are no more," and the abiding atmosphere of genuine Southern hospitality. The score prize, a lovely collar was won by Mrs. Margaret C. Miller, while Mrs. Leonard Schenk cut the consolation, a dainty collar and cuff set. Each of the three guests of honor were presented with a box of correspondence cards.

After the game other guests came in for an informal reception, and the hostess served ice cream, cake and mints, in which the color scheme of pink and white was effectively carried out.

Auxiliary to Legion Formed.
A unit of the American Legion Auxiliary has been formed, a charter sent for and it is hoped we will soon be functioning. As soon as our charter comes we hope to get a meeting of all who would join in this work. Camden's record in the world war is hard to find elsewhere and it is up to us to see that we women mean to help keep the records straight and keep the war history of our boys for future generations. Below you will find what constitutes eligibility to join the Auxiliary. Every body is cordially invited to become members, who is eligible. Look in the papers for further instructions as to meetings.

Eligibility.
Any person shall be eligible for membership in the American Legion Auxiliary who is a wife, mother, sister, or daughter of a man or woman who is a member of the American Legion or was in the naval or military service of the United States at some time between April 6th, 1917, and November 11th, 1918, and who died in line of duty or after honorable discharge and prior to November 11th, 1920; or persons who stand in a similar position in their various states.

Mrs. Bratton deLoach, Acting President.

Fined For Speeding.
Henry Eoni of Detroit was arrested last Wednesday after a chase of several blocks by a motorcycle policeman, who charged Ford's big Edicoln was making forty-three miles an hour in West Main Street, Leroy, N. Y.

George Burns, Mr. Ford's chauffeur, pleaded guilty in police court and was fined $30. Ford asked the name of the village and jotted it down. He and his private secretary waited in the car for Burns. The speed limit in Leroy, fifteen miles an hour, has been enforced since last fall, when the village assessor was killed by a speeding automobile.

Another Attorney for Camden.
Mr. George W. Nicholson, who recently graduated from the University of South Carolina, has opened law offices over the drug store of W. Robin Zemp. Mr. Nicholson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Nicholson of this city, and a brother of Magistrate S. N. Nicholson.

It is a far cry from command of an artillery brigade in the battle of St. Mihiel to the quiet of an Episcopalian pulpit in California. Yet that is the march about to be completed by Colonel Arthur P. S. Hyde, U. S. army veteran of three wars during his 26 years of service, who has just arrived in San Francisco from Fort Amador, Panama Canal Zone.

Killed By Lightning.
Latta, August 11.—Tuesday afternoon about 3 o'clock the home of Andrew Cox, who is a white tenant on the place of Vander Clark, near Sellers, was struck by lightning and his little son about five years of age was instantly killed. Mrs. Cox was cooking preserves at the time and had just returned from the kitchen into the main part of the house when the bolt struck the chimney, completely demolishing it, and also struck a chair and the bed in the same room. The child that was killed was following his mother back into the main part of the house at the time of the accident and although stunned by the lightning, they escaped injury.

Who Are You?
The things that haven't been done before,
Are the tasks worth while today;
Are you one of the flock that follow, or
Are you one that will lead the way?
Are you one of he timid souls that quail
At the jeers of a doubting crew,
Or dare you, whether win or fall,
Strike out for a goal that's new?
—Anon.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE.
I hereby announce myself a candidate for the House of Representatives from Kershaw county subject to the rules of the Democratic party.

Violence in Strikes.
European observers are almost invariably amazed at the tendency to violence which is a characteristic of strikes as generally conducted in America. The correspondent in this country of the Manchester Guardian, an exceedingly liberal journal which is more than friendly to labor, discusses this situation at considerable length in a recent number of that newspaper. Time and again, he points out, American labor struggles have been "a series of bloody battles." Writing on July 12, he notes that "soldiers—Federal or State—are, or have very recently been, on strike duty in 15 of the 48 States." In some instances succeeding in restoring calm, in other cases aggravating the situation.

"Certainly nowhere else in the world," says this observer, "is the industrial struggle so consistently and bitterly violent. American labor has always been conservative in theory, but violent and bloody in action. Its employers have been ready to meet violence, or, more often, to anticipate it. They hire and arm their own strike guards, and often equip and pay county sheriffs."

There are, of course, many communities where the prevailing sentiment among men on strike is absolutely opposed to any resort to force. This has been true generally, we think, in the South. But the fact that in general major strikes in this country have been attended by outbursts of savage lawlessness accounts in considerable measure for the deep prejudice which the public at large in America feels against the strike as a weapon of labor. The Manchester Guardian's American correspondent thinks labor would have made greater progress in this country, if its leaders had shown more diligence in suppressing violence. "Perhaps the extent to which the energy of American labor is burned out in these violent battles explains why in constructive statesmanship American labor is so far behind British labor," he says.

The strike is a clumsy weapon at the best. When it is associated in the popular mind with actions that horrify and terrify the public it cannot but suffer serious discredit.

Two of the worst curses which afflict this country are intolerance and the mob spirit. Americans are ready too often to condemn a cause or lynch a suspect without a hearing. The violence which so frequently accompanies a strike is symptomatic of both these evils. They should be fought both within and without the ranks of labor.
