ROLL DIMINISHING.
Only 75,066 Left of More Than a Million Soldiers.

Only 75,066 Confederate veterans, out of the more than a million who fought for the South during the Civil War, are now living, according to statistics compiled by Col. Francis M. Burrows, of the staff of the Gen. Julian S. Carr, commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans.

Of this number 65,707 are drawing pensions, 1,839 are in soldiers' homes and 7,500 are unknown. The statistics show that 57,987 widows of Confederate soldiers are receiving pensions and 607 negro veterans are in homes.

Texas leads in the number of surviving veterans with 14,969 on the pension rolls and 256 in homes. Georgia and Arkansas stand next with 9,010 pensioners and 105 and 100 respectively in homes.

Select Sweet Potato Seed Now.
Clemson College, October 9.—Seed selection in commercializing the sweet potato should be given most careful consideration; otherwise, our annual loss of 25 to 50 per cent of the entire production will continue. The up-to-date livestock breeder would not think of using a scrub sire to head his herd; neither would the corn grower think of selecting his corn from "nubbins." Yet the old idea of bedding sweet potato strings, irrespective of the high or low yield in hill, continues to prevail, and the result is poor quality, low yield, and an expensive crop.

South Carolina will produce, this year, about nine million bushels of potatoes and probably not more than one-third of this quantity will be of marketable quality. This loss should be attributed not entirely to poor storage methods employed, but largely to lack of careful seed selection. Seed stock planted from year to year, with no attention to selection, becomes infested with various rots and if an occasional off-colored potato, or mixed variety, is used, which could easily happen, under the very best conditions, it goes from bad to worse.

Seed selection should rest on the two general units of purpose and ideal, the variety and the hill. Select the variety that the commercial market demands—the Porto Rico or Nancy Hill, one exclusive of the other. Select those hills possessing and presenting, in the most noticeable way, outstanding characteristics of the variety. A hill might be high in number of potatoes but very low in the number of marketable potatoes. Therefore, selection should be at harvesting time and from the hills giving the greatest number of uniform marketable roots.

Where no attention has been given previously to seed selections the surest and most reliable source of seed would be from the vine-cutting patch.

So far as stem rot is concerned, potatoes must be carefully selected in the fall before going in storage. The stem should be split open down to the small root. Potatoes should not be used for seed that have black rot marks on them, or from vines the stems of which are blackened inside. To play safe, growers should select about double the quantity of potatoes that they anticipate bedding the coming season and thus be able to make a second selection. As to quantity, one should remember that three to four bushels, when properly bedded, will furnish at three drawings plants enough for an acre, or 10,000 to 14,000.

Believe It Or Not.
A big game hunter had just returned from the hills and was recounting some of his adventures.

"The most astonishing experience I had," he said, "was when I fired my last bullet at a bear and missed him."

"Did the bear give you a chase?" asked one of the listeners.

"No, you see he knew my reputation and was so surprised at my missing him that he fainted dead away."

Judge Pennington, in addressing the grand jury at the opening of the Chester court Monday, said 75 per cent of the crime in the state is traceable to liquor. He said further that only five per cent of the state's population is not criminally inclined.

Hunting Stories.
The big game hunter had just returned from Africa, and was relating some of his adventures.

"The most astonishing experience I had," he said, "was when passing through the bush I turned to find a lion just about to spring at me. He sprang, but I fell flat and the beast passed right over me, and apparently disgusted, batted into the bush."

"I had a goat tethered near the spot as bait and returned the next day in the hope of catching the lion feeding. What do you think were my feelings when, as I approached the spot cautiously, I saw the lion practicing low jumps?"

Mrs. Felton Named Senator.
Atlanta, Ga., October 3.—Mrs. W. P. Felton, of Cartersville, Ga., became the first woman member of the United States senate today when she was appointed by Governor Thomas W. Hardwick to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Thomas E. Watson until the people elect a successor in November.

At the same time Governor Hardwick announced his candidacy to succeed United States Senator Thos. E. Watson, Georgia, who died last week in Washington, in a formal statement issued here today. The primary will be held October 17.

Though she is conceded to be the most beautiful woman in Hungary, Countess Erosy is compelled to work or go to jail in accordance with the recent decree issued in that country.
