SEABOARD PLANS CHANGE.

Florida Limited Goes on in January For Tourist Season.

(From Tuesday's State.)

With the first run of the Seaboard Florida Limited, tourist train de luxe, scheduled to be made January 1, the Seaboard Air Line railway will put its winter schedule into effect November 12, according to the announcement of N. G. Ledbetter, traveling passenger agent of the Seaboard Air Line in Columbia. The inauguration of the winter schedules will also mark the beginning of the first run of the Mid-South Special, which therefore begins operations this year one month earlier than was the case last year. The Seaboard Florida Limited is operated between New York and Florida while the Mid-South Special has as its terminals New York and Columbia. The Seaboard, Mr. Ledbetter says, is anticipating a record-breaking tourist season.

The initial run of the three month season of the Florida Limited will be made, leaving New York at 6:20 o'clock on the afternoon of January 1, the first train passing Columbia at 1:20 p. m., January 2, and arriving in Jacksonville, Fla., at 9:40 p. m., January 2. The first northbound train will leave Miami at 6:40 p. m., January 3, and St. Petersburg at 8:30 p. m. the same day and will pass through Jacksonville at 8:45 o'clock on the morning of January 4. It will reach Columbia at 5 p. m., January 4, and will arrive in Washington at 6:20 o'clock on the morning of January 5, proceeding thence to New York, where the run ends at 12:10 o'clock on the afternoon of January 5. The train will be composed of all Pullman, all steel equipment, fitted with the latest conveniences and equipment, and will carry through sleepers from New York to Miami, Palm Beach, St. Petersburg, Tampa and intermediate points. At Columbia the trains, both southbound and northbound, will change engines and crews to continue their trips.

The Mid-South Special, the Columbia-New York tourist train, will make its first run November 12, coincident with the inauguration of the regular winter schedules, leaving New York on its first southbound trip at 2:05 p. m., November 12, and arriving in Columbia at 11:25 o'clock the following morning. The return trip will be made, leaving Columbia at 3:05 o'clock in the afternoon, passing Washington at 7:35 o'clock the following morning and arriving in New York at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon. The Mid-South Special will carry only all steel Pullmans, dining cars and coaches. The two trains known last year as No. 301 and No. 302, will be designated No. 15 and No. 16 this year.

The other schedule changes to be made November 12 are confined largely to the speeding up of running time and to the reinstatement of trains taken off during the strike period.

The schedule of No. 1, southbound, will remain practically as now with the exception that it will under the new schedule reach Columbia at 11:40 o'clock instead of 11:55 o'clock and will leave at 11:45 o'clock instead of 11:05 o'clock as at present. The hour of arrival in Jacksonville will remain unchanged. Train No. 2, northbound, will arrive in Columbia at 5:45 o'clock instead of 5:30 o'clock as under the schedules now in force and will leave at 5:50 o'clock instead of 5:30 o'clock as now, the run from Columbia northward being accelerated to permit its arrival in New York at the same time as now maintained.

The Seaboard Fast Mail No. 3, southbound, will reach Columbia at 11:35 p. m. instead of 12:05 p. m. as at present.

How to Get to His Shop.

Owing to the fact that lower Main Street on which my garage is located will soon be torn up and blocked on account of the paving work, I want to advise my friends that this need not interfere with work at my garage. My patrons can reach my place by driving by way of Market Street and then into Arthur Street where it can be reached from the rear door.

present, and will leave for Florida points at 11:40 p. m., thus allowing passengers at Columbia to take their sleepers before midnight. At Jacksonville it will make connection with the East Coast, Atlantic Coast Line and Seaboard Air Line trains for various Florida points. No. 4, the northbound fast mail, will leave Jacksonville at 8:25 p. m., and will leave Columbia at 5:20 a. m., five minutes later than the present schedule, and will arrive in New York at 6 a. m. as under the summer schedule.
