Miss Paine Again Honored.
Miss Beatrice Paine, the popular bride-elect of the week, was again honored on Saturday afternoon when Mrs. H. K. Hallett was hostess at a bridge party. The rooms were adorned with cut flowers and pot plants making an attractive setting for the four tables, and a color scheme of pink was cleverly carried out. Little Katherine Hallett, in a pink party dress passed brides attached to white satin bags of rice, with which to shower the happy pair. Miss Nancy Lindsay won the score prize; a pretty hand painted waiter, and the honor guest was presented with a silver salad fork.

Grapefruit salad served in natural fruit baskets, tied with pink satin ribbons, sandwiches, hot biscuits and tea were served on the prettily appointed card tables. Rose-pink baskets filled with salted almonds were the favors.

Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Dunn Entertain.
Among the prominent and enjoyable social events of the week were the two receptions given by Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Dunn in honor of their son, Dr. Ralph Dunn and his bride who have just returned from their wedding trip. The rooms of the entire lower floor were thrown en suite and made bright with yuletide decorations and the brilliancy of electricity, crimson holly and pearly mistletoe gleamed effectively among the forest greens throughout the house.

In the dining room the lace covered table held as a center decoration a tall silver vase of poinsettias fresh from their native home, the land of flowers and was further adorned by crimson tapers in silver candlesticks and two lovely tea services.

In the afternoon from 4 to 5:30 Mrs. Dunn received, with her guest of honor, around one hundred ladies. In the evening from 8:30 to 10 o'clock the guests included the professional men with their families and a number of the younger set. Greeting the guests at the door were: Mrs. Hughie Tindal and Mrs. T. Lee Little in the afternoon, Mrs. Tindal, Miss Catherine Wallace and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Schenk in the evening. The receiving line in the afternoon was composed of the hostess, who was becomingly gowned in black lace; the guest of honor, Mrs. Ralph Dunn, who wore a lovely afternoon dress of silver lace over turquoise blue satin; Miss Beatrice Paine, a charming bride of the week, in black lace with corsage of Killarney roses; and Miss Gist, of Georgia, a Converse student, who is here as maid of honor for Miss Paine, wore a lovely dress of black net over orange satin with corsage of Ophelia roses.

In the dining room hot chocolate, coffee and fruit cake were served. In the afternoon Mrs. S. A. Burrier, and Mrs. John T. Mackey poured coffee and chocolate and in the evening Mrs. T. Lee Little and Mrs. H. K. Hallett presided at the table that was beautiful in its appointments. Others assisting in this room were Mrs. Scott Dunn, Mrs. R. T. Goodale, Mrs. Henry Pierce, Mrs. Paul Brown and others.

An interesting feature of the evening reception was the number of "newlyweds," Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Schlosberg, Mr. and Mrs. Will Goodale, Mr. and Mrs. Kershaw deLoach.

Major General Leonard Wood has decided not to accept the post of Provost of the University of Pennsylvania to which he was elected some time back; but to remain in the Philippines as governor general indefinitely.

EDUCATIONAL RALLY.

Last Saturday Saw Long Line of School Children in Parade.

In spite of the inclement weather the rally for education in Camden last Saturday was very gratifying to the committee in charge. With Mr. Bratton deLoach as chairman the county was thoroughly organized and the message carried to forty-six school districts. We believe that a brighter day is dawning for South Carolina along educational lines. Hope, promise and wonderful possibilities loom up on the near horizon. Each speaker felt this as they looked into the bright faces of the boys and girls that greeted them on the campaign throughout the county. They seemed not only interested but enthused and we hope that the seed fell into good soil and will bring forth an abundant harvest.

The final exercises of the week were held at the Grammar school auditorium at 10:30 Saturday morning and were opened with prayer by Rev. W. H. Hodges, pastor of the Lyttleton Street Methodist church. Mr. L. A. Wittkowsky, city attorney, welcomed the visitors in behalf of the city council and Mr. Bratton deLoach introduced the speaker, Dr. W. D. Melton, president of the University of South Carolina. Dr. Melton gave a most excellent and timely address. We hope to hear Dr. Melton again and to give him a representative Camden audience. Mr. Bratton deLoach then gave a fine talk on education and was followed by Camden's beloved physician, Dr. John W. Corbett, who gave an interesting and instructive talk on Hygiene.

A brass band added much to the success of the day. This music was the generous contribution of the business men of the city. Mr. Sam Karesh, as chairman of the committee to get the band, "delivered the goods."

The long parade of school children was indeed an inspiring sight and our only regret is that every girl and boy in Kershaw county could not take part in it and rally around the standard of education—"Were I so tall to reach the pole. Or grasp the ocean with my span, I must be measured by my soul. The minds the standard of the man."

For Miss Paine.
Miss Catherine Wallace was the charming hostess at an enjoyable bridge party Friday afternoon complimenting Miss Beatrice Paine, whose marriage this week to Dr. Shepherd, of Spartanburg, has been of cordial interest to Camden's younger set of which Miss Paine was a popular member. Pink roses predominated among the cut flowers that were used in brightening the rooms. The score prize, a lovely box of stationery, went to Miss Margaret Taylor and the guest of honor received a beautiful guest towel. After the game delicious refreshments were served.

White Christmas Tree.
There will be a white Christmas tree at the Presbyterian Church Christmas eve at 6 o'clock, given by the Christian Endeavor Society, for the benefit of the poor of the community. The program will be a very attractive one consisting of songs appropriate for the Christmas season, after which a collection will be taken for the Thornwell Orphanage. The public is cordially invited to attend. After these exercises the Communicants Guilds of the Episcopal Church will join the Christian Endeavors at the Presbyterian church going around singing Christmas Carols. All those wishing them to stop at their house will please make it known by placing a red burning candle in a front window.

By an overwhelming majority Friday Chester voters cast their ballots for the one hundred and fifty thousand dollar new high school building bond issue. Bonds will be quickly sold, it is thought, and work on a new and modern structure will be started at an early date; it is hoped to have it ready for use by next September. Chester's high school facilities have been immensely overtaxed and the erection of this additional structure will be a wonderful step forward for the schools, which under the able leadership of Prof. M. R. Brockman, superintendent, are accomplishing excellent work.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mr. Dewey Creed returned last week from Washington where he went to drive a car through for its owner.

Miss Elizabeth Boykin, of Camden, was the honor guest at an entertainment given by Mrs. Edwin Malloy in Cheraw last Friday evening.

Friends in Camden are glad to welcome Mrs. Proctor and her sister, Miss Simpson, who will again spend the winter in Camden. They will be at "The Cedars," the home of Dr. and Mrs. F. I. Proctor in Kirkwood.

Miss Kate Villepigue is at home again after an extended visit North. Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Dunn have returned from their wedding trip and are at home to their friends at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Dunn, DeKalb street.

Mrs. L. L. Wallnau and son, of New Bern, N. C., and Miss Carrie Wolfe are visiting relatives here, and will remain for the holidays.

Mr. J. A. West, who recently married Miss Rebecca Nelson, of this city, and went to Florida on a wedding trip, has returned. Mrs. West will follow in a few weeks to make arrangements for moving, as they have bought a home in Lakeland, Florida.

Miss Harriet Nelson, who has been here a week on account of sickness, returned to Hartsville Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Kershaw deLoach, after a wedding trip north, have arrived in Camden, and for the next few weeks will be with Mr. and Mrs. Bratton deLoach on Lyttleton Street, before going to their plantation home in lower Carolina. Mr. and Mrs. deLoach are receiving many social courtesies.

At a recent meeting of the Civic League it was decided to have a get-together entertainment to which all the organizations of the city and the grown-ups in the families are to be invited. It will probably be held on the evening of January 2nd, but a fuller notice and all particulars will be given next week.

Friends in Camden of Mrs. Sarah K. Winkler will be glad to know that she has returned here for another season and is at present at The Kirkwood hotel, where she will be engaged in publicity work during the season. Besides her regular weekly contributions to The Chronicle, she will be the correspondent of several dailies in South Carolina and a good many of the northern dailies.

Mrs. Mina Fleischer, who has been the house guest of Mrs. Jacob Hirsch for the past two months, has returned to her home in Baltimore. She was joined before leaving by her attractive daughter, Miss Jeanette Fleischer, who also spent two weeks here. Many social affairs were given in their honor and the friends whom they made here were sorry to see them go.

Mrs. M. T. Evans has returned to her home in Monroe, N. C., after spending some time here with her daughter, Mrs. S. F. Brasington.

Mrs. Willie Dempsey, of Rock Hill, was a visitor here last week.

Mrs. W. R. Hough is spending sometime in McBee on account of the illness of her father, Mr. W. H. Sowell.

Do Not Purchase Holly.
All visitors and residents are earnestly requested by the Civic League not to purchase any holly as the trees in and near Camden which add much to the beauty are being ruthlessly destroyed.

No trace has been found of the three masted schooner Rossapeague, from New York to Georgetown, S. C., which reported by radio several days ago that its crew had been stricken with illness. The vessel which was reported at that time 60 miles off the Virginia capes has not been heard from since by coast guard officials here, and they had no information as to the nature of the illness.

Wood Simpson, alleged veteran moonshiner, staged a spectacular escape from "Little Cuba," an island in Savannah river, near Smith's ferry, 20 miles from Anderson, when he fled from a party of county and prohibition officers operating jointly and made his escape by rolling over several hundred feet of rugged shoals that held the officers' boat so that they could not follow. Simpson arose at the foot of the falls, his clothing badly tattered and disappeared in a clump of bushes on the river bank. A 70-gallon distillery in full blast, 12 gallons of liquor, 300 gallons of beer and Eugene Hardy, Simpson's companion, were taken in the raid. Simpson has been in a number of whiskey escapades, according to officers, having recently completed a year and a day for manufacturing.

Bishop R. G. Waterhouse, retired, of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, died at his home in Knoxville, Tennessee, Saturday, as the result of injuries sustained when he was struck by an automobile Thursday.

Professional Notice.
Dr. J. Ralph Dunn has returned to the city and will resume his practice at once.

John Wannamaker Dead.
Philadelphia, Dec. 12.—John Wannamaker, aged eighty-four, great merchant prince and former postmaster general, died at his home here today. He has been ill since early in November. Mr. Wannamaker was active in business until stricken with cold at his country home. He spent the summer at work, except for occasional trips to the seashore. Daughters Mrs. Barclay H. Warburton, and Mrs. Norma MacLeod, were at the bedside. His son, Rodman arrived after his death. Signs posted on his stores here and in New York said they would remain closed until further notice. The funeral will be announced later. His life was insured for over three million dollars.

Missionary Society to Meet.
The general meeting of the Circles of the Missionary society of the Camden Baptist church will be held at the church Tuesday afternoon, December 19th, at 3:30 o'clock. A full attendance is desired.

Subject to the approval of the national association the directors of the Southern Baseball association voted to make the "sky the limit," so far as salaries of players are concerned. Rules of the national association now make $4,500 the maximum monthly pay roll for Class A leagues. Seven directors voted in favor of the salary resolution and one opposed. The directors will meet in Mobile, January 19, to adopt the schedule of games for 1923.

MASTER'S SALE.
State of South Carolina,
County of Kershaw,
(Court of Common Pleas.)
Helen A. Savage, Plaintiff, against
Eugene Thompson and D. W. Thompson, Defendants.

Under and by virtue of an order of his Honor, W. H. Townsend, Presiding Judge of the Fifth Judicial Circuit, dated December 14th, A. D., 1922, I will sell to the highest bidder, for cash, at public auction, before the Court House door in Camden, S. C., on the first Monday in January, 1923, being the 1st day thereof, the following described real estate:

All that parcel or lot of land in the County of Kershaw and State of South Carolina, lying about seven (7) miles North of Camden, on the Liberty Hill Public Road, containing ninety-six and four-tenths (96.4) acres, and bounded on the North by lands of Savage, on the Northeast and East by the Liberty Hill Road, which separates this land from lands of L. A. Kirkland and John Lindsay, on the South by lands of Laurence Miller, and on the West by lands of Savage. The above described land is that conveyed to me by Helen A. Savage by deed of date December 18th, 1919, and is shown on a plat of same made by W. L. Kirkland, surveyor, of date November 3rd, 1919, to which reference is made for a more complete description.

Anyone desiring to bid at the said sale shall first deposit with the Master, the sum of one hundred dollars ($100.00) or certified check for like amount, as an evidence of good faith.

B. B. CLARKE,
Master for Kershaw County,
Camden, S. C., Dec. 14, 1922.

Columbia Barber Suicides.

David H. Means, well known negro barber of Columbia, took his own life Wednesday morning shortly after 10 o'clock by shooting himself in the head with a pistol. The fatal shot was fired in his room on the second floor of his home, 705 Blanding street, while no one was in the house except himself.

Ill health is supposed to have been the cause of the deed, witnesses testifying at the coroner's inquest that Means had been somewhat despondent for nearly a month on this account. No financial trouble was mentioned, and to the contrary, the witnesses said they did not think Means was in trouble of this nature.

Dr. W. D. Wright, Langley, S. C., physician, is dead and T. E. Fletcher, of Augusta, is at a hospital suffering from painful bruises as the result of an automobile accident at Johnston's crossing, on the Southern railway to Aiken county, Monday. The train demolished the automobile.

Secured an Acquittal.

Attorney M. L. Smith was in Beaufort last week where he represented Ralph Brown, a young furniture dealer, charged with the murder of T. P. L. Bettison, an aged furniture dealer. The verdict of the jury was an acquittal for the young man. The plea was self defense, Bettison being struck in the head with a revolver while engaged in a difficulty with the young man. The murder at the time attracted a great deal of attention because of a mass meeting of citizens being held on account of the fact that Sheriff J. H. Bailey did not incarcerate the young man in jail. The matter was taken before the grand jury and the grand jury reported a true bill against the sheriff at the same term of court at which Brown secured his acquittal. Sheriff Bailey was charged with general inefficiency.
