What Old Caesar Did.
When Caesar took a northward ride and grabbed the Gauls to Rome, what was the first thing that he did to make them feel at home? Did he increase the people's loads and liberty forbid? No; he dug in and built good roads that's what old Caesar did. Did Caesar put the iron heel upon the foeman's breast, or did he try to make them feel that Roman rule was best? What did he do to make them glad he came their land amid? He built good roads in place of bad that's what old Caesar did. He built good roads from hill to hill, good roads from vale to vale; he ran a good roads movement 'till old Rome got 'all the kale. He told the folks to stay at home; he built roads that's what he did. Until all roads led up to Rome; that's what old Caesar did. If any town would make itself the center of the map, where the roads come and settle down and live in plenty's lap, if any town its own mode of poverty would rid, let it go and build good roads just as old Caesar did.

Club to Present Play.
The Camden High School Dramatic Club which was organized at the beginning of the school year 1922-1923 under the supervision of Misses Corbett and Blackwell, has the following enthusiastic officers: Albert Evans, president; Martha Workman, vice president; Emily Wooten, treasurer; Louise Hirsch, secretary; Basil Bruce, business manager; Cecil Wittkowsky, stage manager.

They have been working some time in preparation of their first presentation, and it is hoped that their first efforts will be rewarded with a large attendance. The play which is entitled, "Her Husband's Wife," will be presented at the opera house on Friday evening, March 2nd.

"Her Husband's Wife" is a whimsical farce in three acts, full of amusing situations and built along lines that will enable all the members of the cast to appear to good advantage. Tickets will be in the hands of the club members within a few days, and will also be sold at Zemp and DePas's drug store. The proceeds will be added to the fund for the school auditorium curtain.

The Sahara Desert embraces more than 3,500,000 square miles, being nearly as large as the European mainland. This desert is famous for its extensive trade in musk, gum, dates, alum, hides, spices, cotton, palm oil and ostrich feathers. It supports a population of 2,000,000.

For the first time in the history of Pennsylvania a woman was named a member of the governor's cabinet. The position is Commissioner of Public Welfare.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

Miss Dorothy Stauffer, of Pittsburgh, Pa., is the guest of Mrs. W. L. Goodale.

Camden regrets to lose Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Dunn, who have decided to make their home in Sumter. They were valuable additions to Camden's social and professional life and their leaving is a distinct loss.

Mr. Teddy DeLoach, now living in Winnsboro, spent the week-end at home.

Mrs. A. C. Ancrum has returned from Florida, and was accompanied by her grand-daughter, Norwood Eve, who will spend sometime with her.

Messrs. C. P. DuBose, R. E. Stevenson, R. M. Kennedy, H. K. Hallett and H. G. Carrison, Jr., went to Spartanburg last Friday as a delegation from the Camden Chamber of Commerce presenting Camden's claims as a suitable site for one of the large cotton mills soon to be established in this state.

Mr. Robert E. Stone and family of Boston have returned to Camden for the winter. They are occupying their cottage on North Lyttleton street.

Miss Olive Rhame is in Charleston on a visit to her brother, Dr. J. Sumter Rhame.

Mr. D. J. Carrison, of Newport News, Va., was in Camden one day this week. He drove from Newport News in his car and from here he was going to Jacksonville, Fla., where he will make his headquarters.

Miss Mattie Gerald returned Tuesday from Baltimore and New York, she was accompanied by Miss Ida Kibble, who will again be with Miss Gerald as milliner this season.

Mrs. Walter Sorrell, who has been visiting in the west arrived in Camden Tuesday to join her husband here. Camden is glad to welcome these former citizens here again. They have been making their home near Huntsville, Ala., for the past three years.

Mrs. C. W. Birchmore has returned home after spending sometime with her daughter, Mrs. Norman Head, in Charlotte, N. C.

Mr. B. G. Sanders, secretary of the Camden and Kershaw County Chamber of Commerce, left yesterday for a two days trip to Charlotte where he will attend a meeting of the mayors and secretaries in that city. Mayor Carrison was unable to attend on account of a pressure of business.

Miss Hope Savage has gone to Charleston for a two months' stay; while there she will take a course in art.

Birthday Party.

Miss Gertrude Zemp celebrated her fourteenth birthday Monday evening with an enjoyable party at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. S. C. Zemp on Chestnut Street. Valentine decorations brightened the rooms for the festive occasion. Hearts were everywhere and the valentine colors of white and red were everywhere in evidence. Old time games, guessing contests, and dancing were the evening's pastime. DuBose Blakeney won the prize for proficiency in guessing. Ice cream, cake and candy were served during the evening.

Visitor Complimented.

Mrs. William Lovett Goodale was a charming hostess on Friday afternoon at a bridge party complimenting Miss Dorothy Stauffer, of Pittsburgh, Pa., who is her attractive house guest.

The rooms of the beautiful new home on North Fair Street were flower filled and six tables were arranged for bridge. Miss Benjamin, who is a guest at the Kirkwood, won top score and Mrs. Leroy Wooten received the consolation. The honor guest was also remembered.

After cards a salad course was served with hot biscuits and coffee.

Important U. D. C. Notice.

We wish to correct an error in last week's Chronicle. The annual dues to the U. D. C. Chapter are one dollar and ten cents—a dime seems very small, but in a large membership it makes quite a difference. The chapter must pay by March the first one dollar and two cents for every member on its roll and that does not include Educational or Memorial pledges. Did you read U. D. C. information in last Sunday's State? The John D. Kennedy Chapter must fulfill its obligations. Ladies, if you have not paid your annual dues please see Mrs. C. M. Coleman, acting secretary at once, or if more convenient leave it with the Chapter president at the Camden Library.

The salary of M. F. Ansel, county judge of Greenwood county, has been raised to $3,000 a year—nearly as much as he got as governor.

The navy department has turned over two submarine chasers on the Pacific coast to the coast guard to be used for chasing whiskey smugglers.

KIRKLAND-YARDLEY.

Grace Church Scene of Pretty Wedding Last Saturday.

The marriage of Miss Elise Kirkland and Mr. Sherborne Yardley was the outstanding social event of last week. It took place Saturday, February 10th, at 4:30 p. m., at Grace church. The Rector, the Reverend F. H. Harding officiating. The church was decorated in white and green, the Southern long leaf pine and smilax making a suitable setting for the tableau effect of the bridal party.

The bride was lovely in her wedding dress of white crepe with brocaded satin train, she carried a shower bouquet of brides roses and lilies of the valley. She entered with her father, preceded by her sister, Mrs. Jack Whitaker, Jr., dame of honor. The bridesmaids were: Miss Yardley, sister of the groom; Miss Caroline Walker, of Columbia; Miss Lize Frampton, of Charleston.

At the foot of the chancel steps she was met by the groom and his best man, J. Hamilton Cheston, of Philadelphia. The groomsmen were: Andrew Van Piet, Winthrop H. Battles, and Gilman Spencer, of Philadelphia; T. Homer Platten, of New York; Geddings Crawford, of Columbia; M. Adicks Kirkland and William Lenox Kirkland, brothers of the bride.

Miss Alberta Team, organist, rendered several musical selections before beginning the inspiring march from "The Bridal Chorus."

A reception for the wedding party, relations and a few friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Kirkland followed the ceremony. The house was decorated with ferns and carnations. The brides table, aglow with candles in silver candelabras was a picture with its handsome silver, brides roses and ferns. Here Mrs. F. I. Proctor and Mrs. David Williams dispensed tea and coffee. Young girls passed sandwiches, cake, punch, almonds and mints.

The bride is a daughter of the Hon. and Mrs. T. J. Kirkland of this town, whose people have been prominent for generations. Miss Kirkland was one of Camden's most charming girls and one of the belles of the state. All who knew her, admire her loyalty and sincerity as well as her beauty and naturalness.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Yardley, of Philadelphia and is a successful young business man, who means to make his home in the south. He has many warm friends here as well as in all parts of the state. At present he is located in Columbia but expects to make Birmingham, Ala., his future home.

Out-of-town guests were: Mrs. Withers Adicks, York; Mrs. Joseph Hart, York; Mr. Bedford Moore, Columbia; Mrs. Livingston, Otis Livingston, Miss Jane Kealhofer, Roger Heyward, Gretha Moseley, Columbia; Mrs. Manning Simmons, Charleston; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Yardley, Miss Yardley, Philadelphia; Mrs. George Bull, wife of celebrated Dr. George Bull, of Paris and Canada; Mrs. Pierce and Miss Pierce, New Bedford, Mass.; Mrs. Eugene P. Carver, Brooklyne, Mass.; Mrs. Sheldon Potter, Philadelphia; Mr. Farnum Yardley, Orange, N. J.; Mrs. John Platten, New York; Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Cheston, Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Van Pelt, Atlanta, Ga.

There were many entertainments given for Miss Kirkland and the out-of-town guests. Among them are the following: Mrs. Randolph Kirkland and Mrs. Jack Whitaker, Jr., gave a reception on Thursday afternoon which was a delightful affair or I should say affairs as there were different hours for different ages. The rooms were gay with flowers and youth. Sandwiches, tea, ices and cakes were served.

Friday night Mr. and Mrs. Henry Savage gave a reception to the young people and to the wedding guests.

On Sunday Mrs. David Williams served afternoon tea for Miss Kirkland's visiting friends. Mrs. Williams' teas are celebrated and her friends are always delighted to be present at one of her charming teas. —Contributed.

Has Valuable Bible.

Representative A. F. Funderburk, of Chesterfield, brought with him to Charleston yesterday a very valuable Bible, which has been in the family possession for many generations. It was brought to this country by the first of the Funderburks, when he came to Charleston more than two hundred years ago. The printing is in the German language and it has the signature of Martin Luther as of 1545. In another portion of the book the year of 1545 is also printed. Dr. Henry Funderburk, grandfather of the present owner of the Bible, wrote with a pen "1816 was the locust year."—Sunday's State.

122 coal miners were entombed in an explosion at Dawson, New Mexico, Thursday. Exploring parties had ascertained that 100 were dead.

Civic League to Meet.

Although one week late, the Civic League will hold its regular monthly meeting next Monday afternoon at the Grammar school auditorium at 4:30 o'clock. The president urges a full attendance as there are many important matters to discuss and she also requests the committees on tree planting on the different streets to report. The residents of the different streets are to be given the privilege and pleasure of making a choice of trees. Henry van Dyke says: "He that planteth a tree is the servant of God, He provideth a kindness for many generations, And faces that he hath not seen shall bless him." Let us then, quit looking on the dark side and deploring the loss of a few trees whose cutting down was an absolute necessity and go forward.

Kiddies Have a Party.

Little Miss Olivia Buddin was hostess at a Valentine party Tuesday evening to which thirty of her little friends had been bidden to come in and make merry. The rooms were decked in cupid's emblems, and the kiddies enjoyed first the games and then the cake, punch and candy. Each had a valentine to remind them of the happy occasion.
