

The Grass in the Next Field

Always Looks the Greenest

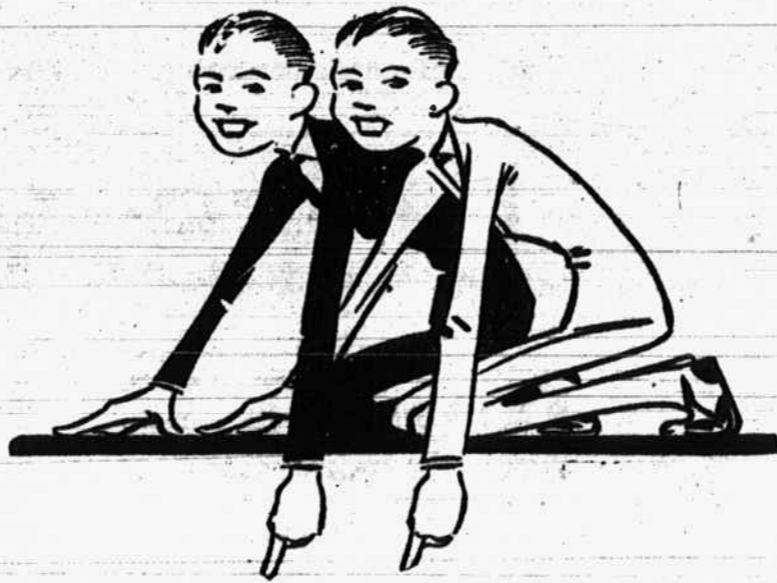

A certain lady, the wife of a Michigan furniture manufacturer, while visiting in Europe, purchased an especially beautiful suite of bed room furniture.

Later, when the furniture was unpacked at her home in Michigan, imagine her surprise and dismay upon discovering the name of her husband's firm stamped upon its back as manufacturer.

She had shipped thousands of miles, the same furniture she could have purchased at her home city for less.
