

THE CAMDEN CHRONICLE

H. D. NILES Editor and Publisher

Published every Friday at No. 1109 Broad street and entered at the Camden, South Carolina postoffice as second class mail matter. Price per annum $2.00.

Camden, S. C., Friday, July 4, 1924.

Ex-Governor Brough of Arkansas, who recently visited many South Carolina towns as a Redpath chautauqua lecturer, is still shaking hands and saying "my name is Brough," at the convention in New York. He put the name of Senator Joe T. Robinson of his state in nomination in a brief but able speech.

The late Marie Corelli on being asked why she never married said: "There is no need, for I have three pets at home which answer the same purpose as a husband—a dog which growls every morning, a parrot which swears all the afternoon, and a cat which comes home late at night."

A prominent South Carolina lady alternate at the Democratic convention in New York, who had been pondering over that great problem to all women—shall I bob my hair or not, visited an expert in this work Monday. She was in glee about the permanent waves, super process of bobbing, etc., until told that the cost would be sixty dollars. She told them she would take their address but to date hasn't been back.

Bernard Baruch is a New York millionaire who has not forgotten his love for his native state of South Carolina. He has entertained the South Carolina delegation royally. Thursday afternoon of last week quite a number of South Carolina delegates and alternates were his guests at tea at his handsome West 52nd street home and the previous evening he presented tickets to the South Carolinians to attend New York's most popular play—"Kid Boots." His brother, Herman Baruch, is chairman of the committee of the New York Cotton Exchange to entertain delegates attending the exchange where they are afforded every privilege of the floor and actually permitted to look into the pit where the wild excitement is raging. Friday morning of last week the following were entertained for lunch in the Cotton Exchange building: Senators Manning and Berry of Dillon county, Dr. Connor and Mike Gleaton of Orangeburg county and J. A. Lattimer.

Mrs. Eroy Springs, of Lancaster, has made a decided hit in little old New York. A combination of brains, beauty and bonnets is hard to beat, and Mrs. Springs has them all. Marion Star.

Judson W. Lyons, a prominent colored lawyer and leader of his race in the South, died at his home in Augusta on Sunday morning. Of him the Augusta Chronicle says: "As a figure in national politics, Judson Lyons ranked high, and honors far above the average, were conferred upon him. President William McKinley appointed him register of the United States treasury department, a position which he held during both terms of the McKinley administration from April 7, 1898, to June 11, 1906. He was one of his country in this capacity at the outbreak of the Spanish American War in 1898, and was at that time republican national campaign manager from Georgia and a demagogue of the republican party."

The Hon. A. Hugh, formerly cashier of the Bank of Paroleet, whose death at Max was charged to George Hutter, is being sought on a charge of embezzlement. He has been lately reported to have embezzled approximately $1,000 from the account of the institution mentioned by his examiners two weeks after his death, when they audited the books. He later fled to the assumption of office by a new cashier according to the statement of Albert S. Fant, a state state bank examiner. The shortage has been definitely traced to misappropriations of funds by Mr. Hugh and no other officer or director is connected in any way with the affair Mr. Fant declared.

Travelers through Greenville county will be protected by state officers if that becomes necessary. Sheriff Carlos A. Rector announced today: "I will station deputies at every mile along the road from this city to the North Carolina line to protect the tourists," Sheriff Rector said, "if this becomes necessary. I have been besieged with inquiries as to whether or not it is safe for visitors to go through this county. I want it advertised to the world that life and property are safe in Greenville county and that officers of the law will afford all necessary protection to visitors. They need have no fear of coming through our county." Sheriff Rector said he had had dozens of inquiries from persons in all parts of the country, following the shooting on the Buncombe road this week in which E. M. Ivey and Herndon Thomas of Atlanta, were shot in a clash with a federal prohibition agent, a state constable and a son of the state constable. "Without hesitation I have told them that life is safe here. I have made no decision as to the stationing of extra deputies along the highway to the mountains but will do so if after fuller investigation I deem it advisable."

Allendale Must Pay For Lynching.

Columbia, S. C., June 28.—Allendale county is liable to damage to the amount of $2,000 for the lynching of Edward Kirkland, who was taken from the sheriff of Allendale on October 24, 1921, his charred body being found that night in the burned ruins of a negro lodge building. The state supreme court today rendered an opinion—affirming the decision of Circuit Judge J. K. Henry, directing a verdict of $2,000 for Lillian B. Kirkland, administratrix of the estate of Kirkland, who brought the suit.

GENERAL NEWS NOTES

Kennesaw Mountain Landis and Hanford McNider, former commander of the American Legion, were slightly injured in an automobile collision at Osage, Iowa, Friday.

William B. Ward, negro, was hanged in the state prison at Florence, Arizona, Friday, following his conviction for the murder of Ted Grosh, a college student.

Twenty-two persons are reported dead and property damage estimated at upward of $3,000,000 in the Mississippi and Ohio river valley states as the result of the hot wave and storms that swept that section Friday and Saturday.

General John J. Pershing is touring in France and England and will make an inspection of American cemeteries in France.

The state of Ohio reported twenty-one deaths from heat during last Saturday.

For the third time in twenty years, Poll, a parrot owned by Miss Jamie McCall of Florence, has had reason for an outburst of parrot pride. When Poll laid her third egg the other day, it is said she walked majestically around the cage watching it with one eye, and finally cocking her head to one side, gazed over the onlookers and exclaimed, "Now."

Two aviators, Henry C. Clark and Ben Famm, fell into Lake Michigan, near Chicago, Saturday, with their plane from a height of 75 feet, and went to the bottom of the lake, but managed to crawl out of the machine and floated to the surface of the water with their machine. They were rescued by a tug boat.

Mayor William H. Reynolds of Long Beach, N. Y., has been sentenced to serve ten years in prison, following his conviction on charges of misuse of funds belonging to the resort. Other city officials are to be tried on similar charges.

Fire at Holly Hill last Sunday destroyed property valued at $50,000. A two-story brick building owned by J. S. Way, valued at $15,000 and on which there was no insurance was totally destroyed. The upper part of the building was used as a hotel and the Farmers Supply Co. occupied the lower floor and carried a $15,000 stock on which there was $5,000 insurance. The post office building valued at $7,000 was also destroyed with $1,500 insurance. Two bank buildings suffered some damage covered by insurance.

Harry K. Thaw has bought an old Virginia estate near Warrenton, and announced his intention to retire there and engage in fruit growing.

Letters From The People.

Editor Chronicle:—We wish to voice our approval of the article in last week's Chronicle signed "Observer," which referred to the habit of girls and young ladies having their hair bobbed in the barber shops here. It most certainly appears entirely out of place to see good-sized girls and young ladies in the barber chairs here. "Observer's" suggestion that the girls should have their hair bobbed at home is timely. Also the suggestion that ladies should have their hair bobbed by a lady barber is also timely. We think a lady barber in Camden with an office some place down town would be kept busy. —Citizen.

Virgil Shealy of Chapin, died Sunday in a Columbia hospital as the result of being kicked by a mule last Friday.
