Two More Convicts Captured.

A posse who have been searching for the convicts who escaped from the state farm in Kershaw County last week, succeeded in capturing William Washington, who was given a double life term in Richland county in January 1923 for burglary, and Sen Owens, who was sent up from Greenville county in June of last year to serve five years for house breaking and larceny. They were captured in the Spring Hill section. The details of the capture which was made on Wednesday of last week, are meager.

Efforts are still being made to apprehend the remaining two of the convicts, Joe Sanders and William McCleary, who made their escape at the same time. They are thought to be in hiding in the Spring Hill section between Bishopville and Sumter. Citizens of Dalzell are joining in the hunt, and it is thought their efforts will soon be rewarded by their capture.—Sumter Herald.

The De la Howe State school at Willington, the oldest manual training school in America, founded in 1796 by Dr. John de la Howe, physician and judge to the Huguenot colony lying along the Savannah river, has opened its 1924-25 session. This is a school for normal poor boys and girls of all South Carolina. It is virtually an orphanage but takes children whose fathers are living but too poor to care for them.

SCRAPS AND FACTS

Interesting Notes Gathered From Many Sources.

Four prisoners escaped from the county jail York, Pa., Monday night, and were recaptured within an hour by the military police force of the Pennsylvania National Guard.

Lewis B. Reed, who recently celebrated his one hundredth birthday anniversary in Los Angeles, California, is said to be the oldest college graduate in the country. He graduated from New York university in 1843.

C. A. McCarthy, former Federal prohibition agent in the state of Florida, and wanted there for assault on a brother officer and selling liquor, committed suicide at Seattle, Wash., Friday night on board a steamer on which he was employed after being told that he was under arrest.

Maurice Goodman, reported to be a New York theatre owner, was on an operating table at Battle Creek, Mich., for two hours Wednesday while Dr. J. W. Case of that city sliced nine inches off his "bay window." Goodman will return to New York forty pounds lighter than when he arrived there, his physician declares. Dr. Case was so enthusiastic concerning the success of the operation that he believes the physicians of the country will be able to do a thriving business in removal of excess fat. It will be possible, Dr. Case declares, to make slim, graceful men out of the fattest.

A verdict of $10,000 damage was awarded by a Spartanburg jury Tuesday to Mrs. Anna L. Counts, resident of Newberry county, against Charles A. Moss, Spartanburg florist, for injuries received by the plaintiff when she was struck by an automobile driven by Mr. Moss. The verdict was rendered after more than two hours deliberation on the part of the jury after the case was taken yesterday and it only remained for Judge J. W. DeVore presiding, to charge the jury upon reconvention of the tribunal. The accident occurred on October 3, 1923, at a point eight miles distant from Whitmore, in Newberry county, according to the complaint. The plaintiff charged that Mr. Moss was traveling at a high and unlawful rate of speed and failed to respect the rights of the plaintiff.

B. J. Foster, and W. S. Powell, said to be from Greenville, white, were arrested in Greenwood about midnight Sunday night in connection with the seizure of sixty gallons of liquor following the wreck of an alleged rum car and the escape of the driver of the car. The two men are alleged to have been lookouts for the whiskey car, officers said. The car was coming from the direction of Augusta at a rapid rate when a Greenwood man, not an officer, gave chase and the driver, suspecting the man to be an officer speeded up to beyond sixty miles it was said. Turning a curve in south Greenwood the whiskey car overturned and smashed seventy gallons of liquor. The driver was not hurt and made his getaway. A few minutes later Foster and Powell drove up in another car to look over the wreck and were arrested.

Congressman Stevenson on Blease's Election.

Greensboro News.

The Washington correspondent of The Greensboro News sends his paper the following interview with Congressman W. F. Stevenson of South Carolina.

How is it that you people decided to send Cole L. Blease to the senate? "You have a Democratic machine in North Carolina, and know what it is," he replied. "We have a like machine in South Carolina. 'Jimmie' Byrnes, we all like him and call him 'Jimmie', reached the conclusion that our Democratic machine had become moribund and that he would create a new machine by running for the senate and getting elected. He was warned that the old machine was not dead and that he had better not run up against it.

"Byrnes took his friends out of the old machine and defeated Senator Dial. So when the showdown came between Byrnes and Blease, the old machine decided that Byrnes must be properly disciplined for his rashness. No new machine and especially no new Byrnes machine could be tolerated in the Democratic party in South Carolina at this time. So part of the conservative Dial people turned in and elected Blease by a narrow majority. Byrnes has to take his medicine and his lieutenants, some of whom are back here in Congress, will have to take their medicine two years hence.

"What Blease will do when he gets into the senate no one can predict. He says he has quit drinking and gambling and has joined the church. Anyhow the Democrats thought it was better to send him here than Byrnes with his revolutionary ideas of a new machine for there is no fear of a Blease machine. If Byrnes had kept out of the fight as he was warned to do, Dial would have been returned to the senate, for the great majority of the South Carolina Democrats are not Bleasites."

Dr. J. W. Payne, a prominent physician of Greenwood county who believes in goats as an investment and in goat's milk as a health-producing fluid, has received his second shipment of fancy stock from J. B. McLaughlin, of Los Angeles, Calif., one of the leading breeders of Swiss Toggenburg milk goats in the world. Mr. McLaughlin produced Polly Mac, the famous world record doe that gave more than two gallons of milk a day, for which the owner refused $5,000, according to Dr. Payne. And now Dr. Payne is the owner of Rosemont's Rex Capricornus No. 7753, a royal son of Polly Mac, and with the blue-blooded buck to head his herd of splendid does he feels that he has as fine blooded herd of purebred registered Swiss Toggenburgs as there is in America. Dr. Payne began raising goats on his farm at Epworth about four years ago when he purchased his foundation stock from a prominent New York breeder, who by the way, offered $5,000 for Polly Mac. About a year later he replenished his stock with a shipment from San Francisco and now he has secured what he believes to be the blue ribbon of them with Rex. Dr. Payne is an enthusiastic breeder, who only deals in the best blooded animals obtainable and he states that as an evidence of the increasing popularity of the milk goat in this section where heretofore they have been so little known, Dr. Smith, the baby specialist of Saluda, N. C., had an experienced breeder from Erie, Penn., to bring a good herd of milk goats down to supply his little patients with milk. Dr. Payne believes that the masses are fast learning the great value of goat's milk as a superior article of diet because it has been found to be not only a delicious drink, but also easily and quickly digested and assimilated and absolutely free from tubercular germs.
