Miss Houston Honored.

In honor of Miss Laura Houston, a bride of the week, the Misses Loree and Cecile Truesdale gave a lovely bridge party Thursday afternoon. The rooms were ablaze with flowers, the lovely autumn roses predominating. Four tables were attractively placed, the one for the honor guest adorned with a miniature bride with other appropriate settings.

The score prize, a Japanese work basket was won by Mrs. Vernon McDowell, and the honor guest was presented with a dozen linen dinner napkins. Ice cream and cake were served and the pretty color scheme of pink and white was carried out in detail.

Cameron-Baum Cards Issued.

HOUSTON-GREEN.

Home Wedding Solemnized in Camden Tuesday Afternoon.

The wedding of Miss Laura Holmes Houston and Mr. Charles T. Green was solemnized at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Nettles, Tuesday, October the seventh, at four o'clock in the afternoon. Although characterized by simplicity, it was a wedding of great charm and beauty. The entire lower floor of this beautiful home was thrown en suite and converted into a greenery. The ceremony room was lovely in green and white, Southern smilax festooned walls and windows blending with the white lace draperies and green carpeted floor. Handsome ferns and a white and green arch formed an improvised altar in front of the spacious west windows that flooded the scene with October sunshine. Mingling with the white and green great bunches of autumn cosmos gave additional touches of golden beauty. In the hall and east parlor smilax and ferns were generously used and a profusion of flowers were in evidence and in this room a fine selection of gifts were displayed.

Guests were welcomed by Mrs. John S. Lindsay and Mrs. W. Robin Zemp. Before the ceremony several beautiful and appropriate selections on piano and violin were rendered by Miss Willie Belle Mackey and Miss Loree Truesdale, who also played the wedding march.

Adown the vine-garlanded stairway came the maid of honor, Miss Cecile Truesdale, lovely in an exquisite afternoon gown of georgette in two shades of yellow, with silver accessories. She wore a becoming picture hat in black and carried an armful of yellow chrysanthemums.

The bride followed on the arm of her father, Mr. W. B. Houston, of Clearwater, Florida. Becoming and well suited to her youth and beauty was the stylish going away dress in cocoa brown with hat and accessories to match, her corsage was valley lilies and orchids. She was met at the improvised altar by the groom with his best man, Mr. Nettles Lindsay. The Rev. J. P. Graham of the Baptist church was the officiating minister.

An informal reception was held immediately after the ceremony, the guest list numbered relatives and intimate friends of the contracting parties.

The dining room was lovely in every detail, having as a center decoration the bride's table which was adorned in the wedding colors, white, green and yellow. Snowy white tulle and lace ferns fell gracefully from the chandelier to the polished surface of the table which held as a center decoration a tall vase of yellow dahlias and was further adorned with white tapers in silver candlesticks and the proverbial bride's cake. This room was flower filled with an unusual blending of yellow, buff and orange dahlias. And here the guests were welcomed by Miss Louise Nettles while the refreshments consisting of block ice cream and bride's cake were served by Misses Nancy Lindsay, Eleanor Mitchell, Mary Blackwell and Emma Villepigue.

Mr. and Mrs. Green left on a north-bound train for New York and other points of interest for a wedding trip, after which they will make their home in Camden.

The Camden Baptist Get-Together.

A delightful social event in the history of the Camden Baptist congregation was the get-together meeting on Monday evening when in spite of the downpour of rain about three hundred were present. Under the skillful supervision of Mrs. R. B. Pitts, the church was beautifully decorated in autumn leaves and grasses, feathery ferns and varied pink flowers.

Different departments of church work were represented. Mr. W. G. Wilson as chairman of the board of deacons presided and told of the church, its progress and the bright future that apparently loomed up in the near horizon.

Miss Helen Phelps, as a representative of the Sunday School, told of its steady growth and the great need of more room to accommodate the ever increasing attendance, also pledging the support of this institution to the new pastor.

Mr. W. B. deLoach told of his interesting Bible class of forty men and twenty-five boys.

Mrs. Robert Goodale told of the splendid work being done by the Missionary Society, the members giving $1,310.00 during the past year to benevolent purposes.

Several beautiful organ selections were rendered by the talented organist, Mrs. F. N. McCorkle, and the choir gave several vocal selections, including a duet by Mr. and Mrs. Clifton McKain and a solo by Mr. McKain.

The new pastor, Mr. J. P. Graham, then made a short but appropriate

MET WITH MRS. DUNN

First Meeting After Summer Adjournment Largely Attended.

The John D. Kennedy, U. D. C. held its first meeting after the summer adjournment with Mrs. W. J. Dunn. It was largely attended, interesting and enthusiastic, the members showing renewed enthusiasm and zeal in this work that is dear to the hearts of every loyal Southern woman.

Mrs. Dunn presided and Miss Louise Nettles was in her place as secretary. After prayer and the reading of the minutes of the last meeting the president asked the members to stand while the secretary read a tribute to the late Mrs. Anna C. Anrum, whose death had occurred since the last meeting.

The chapter decided to give two pictures to the school, one of Lee and Jackson and one of Jefferson Davis, also to give one of Lee and Jackson to the Library. The president will appoint a committee to present them when ready.

The committee reported that the flag under which the Kirkwood Rangers went out in Sixty-One had been framed and placed in the Library, and a motion was made and carried to make an effort to get the pictures of Camden's six generals and present to the school.

The names of Mrs. Alva Humphries and Mrs. H. S. Zeigler were proposed and accepted for membership. Delegates to the general U. D. C. Convention to be held in Savannah in November were elected as follows: Mrs. H. G. Carrison, Sr., Mrs. W. J. Mayfield, Mrs. W. J. Dunn, Mrs. L. A. Wittkowsky. Alternates—Miss Leila Shannon, Miss Minnie Clyburn, Mrs. N. R. Goodale, Miss Louise Nettles.

Mrs. Dunn as president gave a very full and interesting account of her stewardship which proved her efficiency and popularity. She declined however, to stand for re-election. A ballot was taken which resulted in the choice of the following officers: President, Miss Louise Nettles; first vice president, Mrs. W. J. Dunn; second vice-president, Mrs. John T. Mackey; secretary, Mrs. N. C. Arnett; treasurer, Mrs. E. E. Sill; historian, Mrs. W. B. deLoach; registrar, Mrs. W. F. Nettles.

A letter was read from Mrs. Sill declining to stand for re-election but the chapter refused to consider this, feeling that her retiring would be nothing short of a calamity to the chapter, that it could not dispense with her faithful and efficient service and all promising to make her duties as agreeable and light as possible.

The chapter was pleased to have as guests, Mrs. William Darlington, who was one time a member, Mrs. A. S. Paine, and Miss Julie Crane, of New York.

After business the hostess served refreshments consisting of ice cream and cake.

Mrs. N. C. Arnett will be hostess for the November meeting.

American Legion Meeting.

The monthly meeting of James LeRoy Belk Post of the American Legion will be held headquarters on Monday, October 13th, at 8 p. m. All members are urged to attend.

New Warehouse Opened.

The Hermitage Warehouse Company has an advertisement in this issue of The Chronicle. This is their first season—the warehouse being built near the Hermitage Cotton Mill during the summer. It is managed by local people and if you are interested in cotton storage see them.

Hugh Bond, 20, son of a wealthy citizen of New Zealand, has recently arrived in Philadelphia for the purpose of having a button removed from one of his lungs. He swallowed the button more than a year ago.

Three negroes were hanged simultaneously at Jonesboro, La., Friday for the murder on August 22, of Sheriff E. M. Rentz of Jackson parish. The negroes declared their plight due to whiskey and women.

Prohibition enforcement officers on Friday captured a British ship off New York that was loaded with $500,000 worth of liquor, and also arrested the crew of thirty, including two women.

address, expressing his appreciation for the warm welcome and cooperation that had been accorded him.

A social hour was enjoyed and delicious refreshments, consisting of ice cream and cake were served.

Mrs. N. R. Goodale and her capable committee won the thanks of the congregation for the complete success of the undertaking. The gloom outside was more than banished by the brightness and cheer within.

PERSONAL MENTION

Miss Sallie Alexander was a visitor in Columbia Monday.

Mrs. Robert Marye is visiting a college friend in North Carolina.

Mrs. Ernest Sheppard, of Spartanburg, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Paine.

Mrs. John E. Rhame and daughter, Frances, are visiting Mrs. J. N. Kirven in Darlington.

Misses Minnie Clyburn and Susie May Clyburn were visitors in Washington, D. C., last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Adams, of Rock Hill, were among the out of town guests for the Houston-Green wedding this week.

Mr. L. D. Alford left last week for Charlotte where he is employed by the American Railway express company.

Mr. Ferris McDowell, linotype operator for The Chronicle, has been confined to his home for the past two weeks by a severe illness, but is now improving.

Mrs. Norman D. McRae and little daughter, Norma, after spending the summer in Camden and Pennsylvania, have returned to their home in Tampa, Florida. They were accompanied by Mrs. McRae's mother, Mrs. J. E. Baggott.

Messrs. W. H. Pearce, T. Lee Little, and Dr. R. E. Stevenson saw Saturday's and Sunday's game between New York and Washington last week. Many more Camden fans had planned to see the games, but inability to secure tickets caused them to remain at home. The Washington base ball park could not accommodate half of the applicants for tickets.

Congressman John Phillip Hill, of Maryland, is to be arraigned in the Federal district court at Baltimore today on an indictment charging him with manufacturing and unlawfully possessing wine and cider at his home.

A Surprise Marriage.

Mr. Jess Barnett and Mrs. Dora Knapp Higgins, both of Camden, took their friends by surprise and were married by Judge of Probate McDowell at his residence last Thursday evening. Quite a number of the friends of the couple were present to witness the ceremony.

Mrs. Higgins is a native of Charlevoix, Michigan, and came to Camden about two years ago, where she and her mother and sister have been making their homes at DuBose Park, where they have purchased a home. She has made numbers of friends since coming to Camden. Mr. Barnett is a native of North Carolina, but has been residing in Camden a number of years where he is a valued employee of the Southern Cotton Oil Company at this place. They have many friends who will be interested in this announcement.

Tribute, Mrs. Anna Calhoun Anrum.

The following tribute to the memory of Mrs. Anna Calhoun Anrum was read by the secretary at the last meeting of the John D. Kennedy Chapter U. D. C., and adopted by the Chapter. This being the first meeting since her death:

We meet once more a broken band, and with a sense of loss that even Time with healing on his wing cannot efface. One of our brightest and best is not with us, nor ever will be more. In His infinite wisdom, God has called from this earthly home to the life beyond, Mrs. Anna Calhoun Anrum. She made brighter and happier every meeting that she graced. Her cherry presence is gone, her wise counsel is heard no more. Her kindly sympathy and gracious help is but a sweet and beautiful memory. She was a loyal Daughter of the Confederacy. Patriotism burned like a holy fire on the altar of her heart, and to Southern heroes she gave a loyalty and love passing all others. Her fluent pen was as ever used as a promoter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy and with a wealth of all that could minister to the beautiful growth of sense and intellect, through climate, scene and influence, it awakened a keen appreciation of Southern Womanhood as crystallized in this, one of her noblest daughters. Her most notable characteristic was loyalty to the traditions of the old South and this loyalty was equally strong toward the Daughters of the Confederacy. These were emphasized in her training and found full fruition in her life. Intellect and talent crowned her like a queen and we of her chapter are indeed bereft without her guiding influence. We ask that this tribute be placed on our minute book, published in the home papers and copies sent to her family.
