

Boy Kills Brother

Winnsboro, Jan. 26.—A tragic accident occurred near here yesterday morning when Grady Timms, aged 15, accidentally shot and instantly killed his brother, Sabie Timms, aged 13, near their home in the Hickory Ridge section of Fairfield county. The boys had been out hunting Saturday with their cousins, spending the night at the home of their aunt. Sunday morning when they left for their home their aunt made them unload the gun before starting, but on the way home one of the boys put one cartridge in the double barreled shotgun without his brother knowing it. When Sabie stopped at the spring to get some water he laid the gun across his brother's knee. Grady, thinking it unloaded, pulled the trigger, the shot entering Sabie's brain and instantly killing him.

Arresting Lawyer Boys

"Two young lawyers, one from Virginia and the other from a North Carolina city, were arrested in Raleigh within the past few days in connection with the statutes bearing the names of Messrs. Volstead and Turlington. It is possible to conceive that a lawyer might fracture the statutes, in a moment of weakness, same as other folks. The surprise is that they are arresting lawyers. That is contrary to the practice. Either the Raleigh police are growing careless, or the lawyer boys failed to exhibit the proper credentials.—R. R. Clark in Greensboro Daily News.

The North Carolina lawyer had to call in his partner from Charlotte to help him "put his feet on the ground." Recent disclosures in Raleigh would indicate that the capital city is pretty well shot through with meanness of one sort and another.—Gastonia Gazette.

The story is being told of a motorist who was so anxious to come from Newberry to Greenwood the other day when high water prevented travel on the highways near Chappells, that he drove over the railroad bridge and made the trip with little loss of time. Having surveyed the situation with a number of other travelers who were helpless on the Newberry sides of the river with 18 inches of water pouring over the road, this motorist declared: "Well, I've got to get over," and he drove his car to a point where he could get on the railroad tracks and then mounted the cross ties and bumped his way over the Saluda, a distance of about a quarter of a mile.

RUPTURE EXPERT HERE

F. H. Seeley, of Chicago and Philadelphia, the noted truss expert, will personally be at the Jefferson hotel, and will remain in Columbia this Tuesday only, Feb. 3. Mr. Seeley says: "The Spermatic Shield will not only retain any case of rupture perfectly, but contracts the opening in 10 days on the average case. Being a vast advancement over all former methods—exemplifying instantaneous effects immediately appreciable and withstanding any strain or position no matter the size or location. Large or difficult cases, or incisional ruptures, (following operations) specially solicited. This instrument received the only award in England and in Spain, producing results without surgery, injections, medical treatments or prescriptions. Warning—All cases should be cautioned against the use of any elastic or web truss with understraps, as same rest while the lump is and not where the opening is, producing complications necessitating surgical operations. Mr. Seeley has documents from the United States government, Washington, D. C., for inspection. He will be glad to demonstrate without charge or fit them if desired. Business demands prevent stopping at any other place in this section. P. S.—Every statement in this notice has been verified before the Federal and state courts.—F. H. Seeley, Home office 117 N. Dearborn St., Chicago.

CONVICT RETURNED

Had Escaped From Reid Farm Near Camden and Gone to Kansas

Columbia, Jan. 23.—Attempt to prevent the issuance of extradition papers allowing J. P. Harth, South Carolina constable, to return to this state with Odell Sims, Spartanburg county negro, who escaped in July, 1922, from Reid state farm, on the grounds that South Carolina had a kind of peonage system as did not exist in Kansas marked the hearing before the Kansas governor. Mr. Harth said yesterday on his return with the negro.

Sims and his attorney argued that the negro would be whipped, beaten and killed in South Carolina, but the assistant attorney general told Gov. Ben S. Paulsen there was no reason apparently for the denying of the requisition. Mr. Harth said.

Whereupon the state constable left Kansas City with Sims Tuesday and arrived yesterday afternoon in Columbia to place Sims back in the penitentiary to complete service of his six years' sentence.

Sims was convicted in Spartanburg county of assault and battery with intent to kill in connection with the shooting of R. L. Green, a railroad conductor. Two other negroes, Utley Michels and "Cooty" Weaver were convicted of the same offense and are now serving sentences.

Sims escaped from the farm after being there only 14 days. He ran all the way through Kershaw county, he told Mr. Harth, went to work as a roundhouse fireman at Charlotte, going later to Richmond, New York, Cincinnati and other places. At one time he returned to Spartanburg, according to his statement, expecting to be arrested. He afterwards went to Kansas City, Kan., where he has been profitably employed for some time, according to his statement to the South Carolina constable.

Investigation by railroad detectives led to the apprehension of Sims. Notification of his discovery was received last week by A. M. Scarborough superintendent of the penitentiary, from the office of the sheriff of Spartanburg county. Requisition papers were issued by Gov. Thomas G. McLeod and Mr. Harth went to Kansas.

On the return trip Sims was met by a host of friends and relatives in Spartanburg, Mr. Harth said, and there supplied with money.

Government operation of the railroads during the World war caused the nation a net loss of $1,764,500, according to the final summary submitted to President Coolidge by Director General of Railroads Davis.

THIS WEEK'S CROSS WORD PUZZLE

The cross word puzzle this week by Magdalene Tsak is a time limit test. This puzzle should be worked in not less than seven minutes. There are only two seven letter words and two five letter words, and not a hard or difficult word in the whole puzzle. There is no need of a dictionary—as all you will have to do is wrinkle your brow and think a bit. Equip now with a watch and pencil and see how far you can break the record of seven minutes. For every minute under the prescribed time mark score yourself a plus—which means yours is better than the average intelligence. For instance, if you can work it in five minutes, instead of the allowed seven minutes, your intelligence is plus two. On your mark. Get set. Go! (Answer next week.)
