

New Way to Quickly Stop Dangerous Cough

It is almost criminally careless not to properly attend a persistent cough, which by seriously weakening the system lays you open to far more dangerous infections. For by a very simple treatment you can stop the coughing spells almost instantly and often relieve the stubbornest cough in 24 hours.

This simple treatment is based on a remarkable prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You simply take a teaspoonful and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it, without following with water. The prescription has a double action, it not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the coughing. The prompt relief of the heaviest cough seems almost magical.

The prescription is highly recommended for coughs, chest colds, hoarseness and bronchitis, and is wonderful for children's coughs and spasmodic croup—no opiates or other harmful drugs. Economical, too, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. At all good druggists. Ask for

Officers Cut Up Five Still Sites

County officers were on the job last week, destroying five still sites, including a galvanized steamer and four outfits. All were bricked up, and all indications were that heavy operations has been carried on. Besides primary accessories usually found in such places, three doublers, three flakers and eight fermenters were destroyed, along with over 500 gallons of beer. The raids were made in the upper part of the county. Officers report having seen two men leaving one of the stills, but were unable to overtake them. No arrests were made. Officers Scarborough, Haskin, Grooms, Kellet and Woodham participated in the raids.—Bishopville Messenger.

The Japanese and United States departments have arranged for the exchange of language officers for a period of six months.

By J. G. McCORMICK

Many of you farmers have often found it necessary to take up with your fertilizer manufacturer various problems, complaints, adjustments, etc. Sometimes you find that your matter has to go through a maze of red tape and be passed along to somebody "higher up." We, of the Acme Manufacturing Company, seldom receive kicks about Acme fertilizers, but when you do have any matters to take up with us, they receive the personal and prompt attention of Mr. Gilchrist or myself. No red tape. No delays.

Thousands of Carolina farmers swear by Acme, and hundreds are switching to Acme brands each year, settling upon them as the best crop producers on the market. We want you, too, to give old, reliable Acme fertilizers a trial this season.

The satisfaction that comes from using Acme is shown by the following letter from Dr. J. W. Neal, Walnut Cove, N. C.:

"My father used Acme fertilizer some thirty years ago. I have been using it ever since. I find it equally as good, if not better than any fertilizer I have used on my soil."

I will consider it a pleasure to answer personally any inquiries you may have to make about your fertilizer requirements. Write me, care of the Acme Manufacturing Company, Wilmington, N. C.

YOUNG MAN KILLED

Died as Result of Being Hurlled Against Steam Shovel

Columbia, Feb. 26.—Bennie Moore, lost his fight.

The 17 years old youth who was brought to the Columbia hospital Tuesday night with his left lung and the chest wall gone, the result of his being hurled against a steam shovel by an avalanche of earth at Parr Shoals—died yesterday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock.

For 23 hours he kept up the struggle with physicians, relatives and friends able to do practically nothing. From the first practically no hope has been held out and as the day wore on yesterday that last ray of hope went glimmering.

Early yesterday morning the pulse of the patient was of good volume and the respiration of the patient regular the attending nurse reported, but at 10 o'clock the breathing became fainter, and from then on his condition grew worse. There were moments of consciousness when the dying man recognized relatives who had hurried to his bedside and then he would sink. The thousandth chance was not to be his.

The body of the youth was taken to Wedgefield for burial. Efforts to reach Moore's father—his mother is dead—who is supposed to live in Baltimore, were unavailing. At the bedside yesterday were Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Geddings of Wedgefield, Mrs. Geddings being a sister, and Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Hammond, uncle and aunt, respectively of 1402 1-2 Assembly street. Later in the day Miss Pearl Moore of Spartanburg, another sister, came. Moore was born and reared in Camden, later he lived at Wedgefield and about a year ago came to Columbia. He was working as a laborer with the Broad River Power Company, where the Barstow interests are erecting a new plant, when the accident that cut short his life occurred. The young man was walking up a cut where excavation had been going on, although he was not working at the time, when a landslide came, throwing him against a steam shovel, which took from him a part of his body—and 23 hours later his life.

Judge DeVore Directs Verdict

Greenwood, March 2.—A verdict of not guilty was directed by Judge J. W. Devore in sessions court this afternoon in the case of Leslie Devore, foreman of county chain gang No. 1, charged with the murder of Melvin Payne, a negro convict, who died, the state alleged, as a result of a whipping administered by the foreman on September 20, 1924.

Following the testimony of two physicians who made a post mortem examination of the man's body that they found no condition to which they could attribute death and the testimony of G. A. Horne, a chain gang guard, also a witness for the state, that Payne was given 10 or 12 licks with a leather belt which Devore wore. W. H. Nicholson, attorney for the defendant, made a motion for a directed verdict and Judge Devore granted it with the statement that the case was "too weak, indefinite, and uncertain" to go to the jury after all of the state's witnesses had said they did not know what caused death.

WANTS DEER PROTECTED

Complaints Made About Shooting Deer When River is High

At a meeting of the Wateree Swamp Hunting club held yesterday at Beach creek on the Sumter highway a resolution was passed asking the legislature to pass a law authorizing the game warden to close the deer season during high water on the rivers of the state, high water to be considered according to the reading of the United States weather bureau.

A number of deer were killed during the recent flood—in fact, in some instances they were slaughtered in numbers. By protecting the deer for a year or two the swamp will be replenished and there will be as many deer as there were 50 years ago.

The Wateree Swamp club is composed of a number of citizens of the state. The club controls about 30,000 acres between Camden and the Southern railway bridge crossing.

A delightful meeting was held at Beach Creek, a nice barbecue being served to the members by J. L. Cotton.

The members of this club are making an effort to protect the game on these rivers and each member is honor bound to assist the game warden to enforce the laws and to keep trespassers off their premises.

W. Ancrum Boykin of Boykin in president and J. A. Byrd of Columbia is secretary and treasurer.—Friday's State.

BURNED AT STAKE

Georgia Negro Had Confessed To Attack on Girl

Rockyford, Ga., March 2.—An unidentified negro, who confessed to assaulting a fourteen-year-old white girl near here this morning, was burned at the stake late this afternoon about 2 1-2 miles from Rockyford. He was captured after a chase lasting nearly throughout the day and was wounded in the back with a rifle shot.

This made his capture easier than it would have been otherwise. He was brought back to the scene of his crime and identified by his victim. He was then carried into a field where brush and wood were piled about his manacled form and after gasoline had been applied to his clothing and the wood was soon afire and it soon became the negro's funeral pyre. The victim uttered but faint cries and was stoical through the experience. There was little disorder and not much excitement.

Men well known in the community were in the mob. There was no attempt to concealment of features. The negro is known to have come from the vicinity of Perkins, Ga., but he did not tell his captors his name.

The attack on the girl, a member of a prominent family in this section occurred this morning while she was on her way to school. She gave the alarm after escaping from her assailant. He fled into nearby swamps, with a hastily organized posse, led by two county officers with bloodhounds, on the trail. Citizens armed themselves and joined the posse, the capture and lynching ending the chase.

HOG TALE FROM SUMTER

Fishermen Will Have To Go Some To Beat This One

To fully substantiate Mr. Norris' story about his hog which lived for about four months in an old dry well and was taken out Wednesday, and to put all doubt as to its authenticity at rest, the chief of police and a representative of The Item were sent out to the scene of the story Thursday morning. The hog, which disappeared in October from Mr. Norris' place at Wedgefield was discovered in an old dry well that had been covered up and out of use for some time.

The hog was in a terribly emaciated condition and showed the effects of his long fast. Mrs. Norris said that she had been in the habit of throwing scraps and slops in this old well occasionally and this accounts in some measure for the hog being able to live this length of time.

That he had not had much to eat in a long time is attested to by his condition. He weighs around fifty pounds now while his brothers and sisters running around the yard will scale well over a hundred.

The latest report is that the hog is taking nourishment at frequent intervals, and his condition is said to be very satisfactory. A speedy recovery is hoped for, and when he dies at an honorable old age there will no doubt, be a great many museums that will want to stuff him and keep him among its curiosities.

Mr. Norris has been the subject of a large amount of good natured chaffing since his tale was broadcast, but he takes it all good naturedly and sticks to his story which is now backed up by several citizens whose reputation for honesty is above reproach.

The devotees of the noble sport of Izaak Walton will have to go some this year to come anywhere near equalling the story of Mr. Norris' hog which, it is believed, has established a new world's record for endurance.—Thursday's Sumter Item.

Bride Kills Herself

Sumter, March 3.—Ruth Jackson, a bride of six months, died at her home here this morning from poison. A note was found in which she said she planned to take her own life, without any reason being given.

Her husband, R. M. Jackson, said he knew of no cause for suicide by his wife. She was apparently normal, he said, when he left home for work at 7 o'clock. Mrs. Jackson was still living when discovered suffering from the poison shortly before 9 o'clock but died soon after a physician arrived.

Her body will be taken to Conway, where her relatives live.
