H. D. NILES Editor and Publisher

Published every Friday at No. 1109 Broad street and entered at the Camden, South Carolina postoffice as second class mail matter. Price per annum $2.00.

Camden, S. C., Friday, May 1, 1925

All roads will lead to Camden to: day for the great historical pageant to be put on by a cast of 800 people. It will be staged on the historic Camden Heights, using the Kirkwood golf links as a stage. Superintendent Richards and Miss Blackwell and her associates have worked untiringly for weeks on the mammoth affair and it is safe to say that it will be put best example of a reporter's work that he had bought a stolen car when of Sumter, and a Sumter choir came on in grand style. Arrangements have been made for taking care of the large crowds who will undoubtedly be on hand to witness this production.

The Chronicle this week begins a series, of page advertisements for the Sears Roebuck & Co. corporation which will appear from time to time. This advertising comes to The Chronicle unsolicited from our foreign representatives, the American Press Association, who are selecting some of the best weekly publications throughout the United States in which to run this advertising. It is a part of is true that capital punishment sends a nation-wide campaign put on by this company and the expenditures for this newspaper advertising will run well into the millions of dollars.

It is a solemn thing to take the responsibility of snuffing out a human life, even the life of a desperate criminal. But it is also true that so and the mother is alleged to have will have to be capital punishment The burden of responsibility rests upon the criminal, not upon organized society that has willed his death. what his policies will be can not be There is entirely too much maudlin sympathy for criminals the world over. This is one of the reasons why it is difficult to bring them to justice. Law, to be effective, must have teeth. It cannot have teeth without power, nor power without the ability o enforce its will. To stop short of the death penalty is to stop short of sovereighty, and law without sovereignty is but a sham and delusion. "That's that.", Union Times.
