

Frequent Bilious Attacks

"I suffered with severe bilious attacks that came on two or three times each month," says Mr. J. P. Nevins, of Lawrenceburg, Ky. "I would get nauseated. I would have dizziness and couldn't work. I would take pills until I was worn-out with them. I didn't seem to get relief."

"A neighbor told me of

BLACK-DRAUGHT

Liver Medicine

and I began its use. I never have found so much relief as it gave me. I would not be without it for anything. It seemed to cleanse my whole system and made me feel like new. I would take a few doses—get rid of the bile and have my usual clear head, feel full of pep, and could do twice the work."

Bilious attacks are "seasonal" with many people. Millions have taken Thedford's Black-Draught to ward off such attacks, and the good results they have reported should induce you to try it.

All Druggists

Canada is to have a flag of its own soon. A red ensign bearing the Canadian arms is at present flown over Canadian buildings abroad. Although it has never been authorized, this flag, or the Union Jack with the Canadian arms in the center, may be decided upon, or an entirely new design may be arranged.

666

Is a Prescription for Malaria, Chills and Fever,
Dengue or Bilious Fever
It Kills the Germs

Electrical Repairs

ARMATURE AND MOTOR REWINDING

Repairs to Fans, Irons, and all Electrical Fixtures

PHONE 296-J

Dewey J. Creed

Ambulance Service Day or Night
Motor Equipment of the Best

C. W. EVANS MORTICIAN

Telephones 535 DeKalb St.
51 and 283 Camden, S. C.

T. B. BRUCE Veterinarian

Day Phone 30—Night Phone 114
CAMDEN, S. C.

COLUMBIA LUMBER & MANUFACTURING CO.

MILL WORK
SASH, DOORS, BLINDS
AND LUMBER

PLAIN & HULLER STS. Phone 71
COLUMBIA, S. C.

PIANO TUNING Lewis L. Moore

PHONE 346
CAMDEN, S. C.

Hayes Bus Line

(INC.)
DAILY SERVICE BETWEEN
Columbia, Camden, Kershaw,
Lancaster, Waxhaw, Charlotte,
Columbia, Camden, Bishopville,
Sumter, Hartsville, Darlington,
Florence,
Columbia, Batesburg, Aiken,
Augusta
Columbia, Chester, Rock Hill
For Information:
Terminal Phone 249

WANT FISH SAVED

Colleton County Citizens Are Becoming Alarmed

Walterboro, Aug. 4.—A general mass meeting of all citizens of the county has been called to meet at the court house on Monday, August 10, at 12 o'clock, noon, for the purpose of taking some action relative to the matter of conserving the fish and game of the county. A call signed by numerous citizens has been issued, and there will doubtless be a large crowd present to discuss ways and means to furnish protection for the fish and game of the county. Paul Sanders of Ritter had numerous petitions prepared to secure signers calling for this meeting. He has found great interest in the proposed protection, and is assured that there will be a large number of interested citizens present to discuss the matter. Some of the petitions are not in, but those returned indicate the interest of the people.

The following is the call issued:

"This call is addressed to every man and woman in Colleton county who is interested in the enforcement of the law, the suppression of lawlessness and the preservation from destruction of the fish and game in our county. If the present conditions are permitted to last for a short time longer our fish and game will be a thing of the past and we will learn, but too late what a priceless heritage it was. That we should sit with folded hands and permit this wilful and wanton destruction to continue is impossible to understand. The laws passed by the General Assembly for the protection and preservation of our fish and game are being openly and flagrantly violated in every stream and in every community from one end of the county to the other. Fish that escape the net are either dynamited or taken at night with the gig by lantern light. So widespread and persistent has become this practice, and the fish in our streams is depleted to such an extent that it is now almost impossible for the law abiding fisherman to secure enough to make a meal for himself and his family.

With reference to game private property has become a public common and every provision of the criminal law on the subject is being openly flaunted with very little, if any effort, at concealment. The whole year has become an open season and the darkness of the night the favorite time for the slaughter.

"The improved highways and the automobiles have done much to hasten the crisis. It is now an easy matter to reach our famed fishing territory from any point in the state or nearby points in adjoining states within a few hours. Advantage is being taken of this quick and easy method of transportation and the public highways are teeming with parties equipped with every device for the violation of the law and the rapid destruction of the fish and game.

"Realizing that the conditions are alarming and conscious of the necessity for immediate action, we are urgently requesting that every man and woman in Colleton county who is earnestly desirous of seeing the laws enforced and our fish and game preserved from utter and wanton destruction meet us at the court house at Walterboro, Monday, the 10th day of August, 1925, at 12 o'clock, noon, for the purpose of taking such action as may be deemed necessary."

The Rush To Florida

The rush to Florida is not a land settlement proposition, but a land trading speculation. Not one out of ten thousand of the buyers of Florida land expect to settle on the land or attempt to make a living by cultivating it. They hope to sell it at a profit to some other speculator and thus make some easy money in a hurry. There is much money circulating in Florida—millions of it—but it was not made in Florida, and when the land trading fever subsides much of the profits that shrewd and successful traders have gathered from the less shrewd will be salted down in stocks, bonds and steady income producing enterprises in other sections. The ultimate owners of much of the Florida land that is being gobbled up at fancy prices will find themselves possessed of permanent investments that will not pay carrying charges. Florida is a fine field now for traders, and those who know how and also know when to cash in and quit will live on easy street hereafter.—Sumter Item.

According to a recent report of the United States Public Health Service, the average length of life in the United States is 56 years, an increase of fifteen years since 1870. In the sixteenth century, human life averaged between eighteen and twenty years.

A Sweet Breath at all times!
THE FLAVOR LASTS
After eating or smoking Wrigley's freshens the mouth and sweetens the breath. Nerves are soothed, throat is refreshed and digestion aided. So easy to carry the little packet!

WRIGLEY'S
- after every meal -

THEY WILL MAKE BOOZE

Development of Hogback Mountain Will Not Drive Out Moonshiners

Greenville, Aug. 5.—"It makes no difference what they do up on old Hogback; they may build their roads, their club houses, their golf courses and their residential sections; they may make a summer resort out of it, they may make it a playground for the city folks, but there are some people up there who'll make liquor no matter what comes or what goes."

This was the substance of a statement made this morning by Alexander Pitman, a real son of the "dark corner," who with his son, Holland, are held in the county under the death sentence, they having been convicted of the murder of State Constable J. H. Howard on January 1, 1924.

News that has come down from the majestic heights of old Hogback and neighboring mountains, to the effect that R. C. Renick, an eastern real estate man has bought upwards of 14,000 acres of mountain land embracing Hogback and other mountains, and that he is building a mammoth resort development in these hills, is more than interesting to Alex and Holl Pitman, who have not seen their beloved mountains and valleys for more than a year.

To both it seems inconceivable that the mountains could be anything more than they have been for eons and aeons of years—any more than they were when they (the Pitmans) roamed that country footloose and free with scarcely a care to trouble their minds.

But now comes to them news that the narrow, snakelike winding roads are being rebuilt into automobile highways over which the "city folks" with their 80-horsepower sixes, eights and twelves can whiz by leaving a trail of dust as they ascend the heights.

"Aw they're not doing all that up on old Hogback," chimed in Holland this morning, as he, his father and a reporter were discussing the development. "They're not doing anything but building a few little log shacks—I call them pole houses."

The "pole shacks" Holland was speaking of is a log club house, which in the future, no doubt, will be the center of social activity on the dizzy heights of the plateau which extends heavenward 3,228 feet above sea level.

Charged with the task of building a road to the top of old Hogback were three Greenville engineers, Dan Huillick, W. D. Neves and R. E. Dalton. They have effected the difficult engineering task of building a road from Tryon, N. C., to Hogback, a distance of seven miles.

All this is highly interesting to Alex Pitman, but he finds it very difficult to believe. He explained very carefully that no matter what comes or what went there were men in those mountains who were going to make liquor.

"Of course they're going to make it," he said. "Why, they're making it today and they'll be making it tomorrow."

It will be remembered that it was right in the shadow of Hogback that the "Pitman Murder Case" arose. On the morning of January 31, when Constable Howard ran in to "flush" some moonshiners at work, he was killed, shot four or five times. The Pitmans were accused. They were convicted, but they still protest their innocence.

One hundred and one homicides took place in South Carolina during the first six months of the present year, as compared with 81 during the corresponding period for 1924, as reported by the South Carolina Bureau of Vital Statistics. For the same period 34 persons committed suicide in the state, 32 suicides occurring during the first six months of last year.

Money

If you are wrong and the other fellow is right, the only way to get balm for your outraged vanity is to call him hard names. Continentals who wish to justify their unwillingness to pay their debts call Americans "dollar chasers." As a term of reproach, the expression bats a miserable 225.

Let it be said to the everlasting glory of Americans that they are dollar chasers. Chasing dollars keeps them close to the band wagon in the march of civilization.

The mare isn't the only thing that money makes go. It makes ignorance go—and superstition, and dirt, and disease, and crime.

Find a section of America in which an idea is regarded with suspicion—where men work long hours for small wages, where there is a little sale for books, and demagogues play on passions and line their pockets from the public treasury—and you have found a section that hasn't yet developed the art of dollar chasing.

To get money is the first business of those who would advance civilization. It isn't a sordid business, any more than the building of universities is a sordid business. It is a noble business, for all progress depends upon it.

When men get money, they begin to have a little leisure. With leisure and full pockets, they begin to invite their souls. They get a bath and a manicure; they buy a book; they learn good table manners; they learn to scorn ignoble things and filthy things; they begin to cultivate a taste for talk that does not concern itself with personalities, and to enjoy an exchange of ideas.

America is cleaner and more attractively attired and broader-minded today than it was fifty years ago because it has more money. It leads civilization because its pockets are full.

You can't train men to become gods while they live in hovels and wonder when they will eat. The beginning of salvation is cash.—Fountain Inn Tribune.

E. J. Eckert, a radio amateur of Philadelphia, picked up a message from Dr. Alexander Hamilton Rice, explorer, sent from the upper waters of the Amazon River for transmission to his wife in Paris, France.

DOESN'T BELIEVE SHE'D BE UP BUT FOR KARNAK

"Why, But For This Glorious Medicine I Don't See How I Could Do My Housework To day, Much Less Feel So Splendid," Says Columbia Woman.

"I don't believe I would even be able to be up and doing my housework today if it hadn't been for this glorious medicine, Karnak, much less feeling so splendid," declares Mrs. Daisy Moore, of 128 Sumpter St., Columbia, S. C.

"Oh, how I did suffer from indigestion and gastritis for the past five years. I had just gotten in such a wretched state of health I didn't know what to do. The gas pains in my chest and around my heart were so terrible I just felt like I would smother. And nights I had such fearful pains in my side and chest I couldn't sleep. I tried so many treatments without results that I was alarmed over my condition.

"But, oh, what a blessing four bottles of this wonderful Karnak has been to me. I began improving from the very start, and now all that awful gas and indigestion has entirely gone. The pains have disappeared from my side and chest and I eat just whatever I want and as much as I want now without it hurting me one moment afterward. And nights I simply sleep like a child.

"It just seems almost like a miracle that four bottles of Karnak could have done what it has for me. I can never praise it enough and I want to help every person I can find out about this wonderful medicine."

Karnak is sold in Camden exclusively by Zemp & DePass and by the leading druggist in every town.

Cats, dogs and other household pets, will not be abandoned by New York City vacationers this season. The S. P. C. A. has 17 ambulances which will be used in transporting the animals to a place where they will be properly cared for during the vacation period.

Incarcerated in the Florence county jail and charged with the theft of an automobile, Claud Doyle, young white man of Darlington, attempted suicide, slashing his wrist with a pen knife.

Will the last man know how to talk to the other planets, and will he know just what is going to happen to him after he dies, or will he be like ourselves, still wondering, with only faith to comfort him, and save him from painful thought and speculation?

The National Board of Fire Underwriters announces that fire destruction in this country in 1894 amounted to $548,810,639—the largest total ever known. This means a daily loss of $1,500,000.

Prescriptions

DEKALB PHARMACY
PHONE 95 CAMDEN, S. C.

for Economical Transportation

CHEVROLET

New Low Prices

The Coupe	- -	'675	- former price $715
The Coach	- -	'695	- former price $735
The Sedan	- -	'775	- former price $825

All prices f.o.b. Flint, Michigan

Increased demand has made it possible to improve the quality and lower the price. Come in and see these remarkable values.

SMITH'S GARAGE
405 East DeKalb St. Camden, S. C.

QUALITY AT LOW COST