DRUGGIST KILLED

Thomas Parker Was Salesman For Murray Drug Company

Bishopville, Nov. 20.—Thomas L. Parker of Sumter, traveling salesman for the Murray Drug Company of Columbia, was almost instantly killed near here this afternoon about 5 o'clock when his automobile left the road and turned over, pinning him underneath. Dr. Parker was en route to Hartsville from Bishopville, where he had spent the day. It is said that he was driving at a very rapid rate of speed just before the accident occurred, and it is thought that he lost control of the car, which was overturned in a very shallow dugout by the roadside.

Dr. Parker had been with the Murray Drug Company for 27 years, it is said. He was between 55 and 60 years of age and unmarried. He was a brother of the late Dr. H. L. Parker of Bishopville and had many friends in Bishopville, in addition to a number of distant relatives.

A large truck came by just as the accident happened and the injured man was taken to the home of Hugh Woodham, about a half mile from the scene of accident. He died before medical aid reached him. It is said that there was no blood on him, but the car was resting upon his head. Dr. Parker is survived by two brothers, A. P. Parker of Martin, Ky., and J. Roscoe Parker of Fort Myers, Fla., and two sisters, Miss Mary Parker of Laurinburg, N. C., and Mrs. B. K. Armstrong of Spartanburg, and a nephew, A. Otis Parker of Spartanburg. Relatives have been notified, but no funeral arrangements have been made.

Death of John R. Haile

John Reed Haile, aged 67 years, died Thursday, November 12, at his home in the Heath Springs section and the body was buried on Friday at Beaver Creek church, Rev. A. F. Drennan of Heath Springs, Rev. F. M. Hawley of Kershaw and Rev. B. J. Guess of Heath Springs officiating at the funeral service. The deceased is survived by one brother, B. F. Haile, of Camden, and one sister, Mrs. R. A. McDowell, also of Camden. Besides his widow, who was Miss Louise Stover, the following children mourn him: Miss Daisy Haile of Mt. Croghan, Miss Dewey Haile of Jefferson, Miss Madeline Haile of Winthrop College, Miss Rita Haile of Columbia, John C. Haile of Heath Springs, Roland Reed Haile and Miss Mary Elizabeth Haile of Heath Springs, all of whom came for the funeral. Miss Ella Haile of Camden and Miss Susie Lee Haile of Columbia, relatives, also were present at the funeral. Although Mr. Haile had been in declining health for a number of years, his death was very much unexpected by his family and friends.—Lancaster News.

PORTRAITS PRESENTED.

Pictures of Six Generals Given To Camden Schools.

The chapel exercises of the Camden Schools were marked by a most unique and interesting program on Tuesday morning, the occasion being the presentation of the portraits of the six Generals furnished the Confederacy by our historic town. The stage had been most appropriately decorated with palms and ferns, Confederate flags and white flowers, the portraits placed in full view among them, by Mrs. John Nettles and her committee. Mrs. F. I. Proctor and committee being responsible for the choice of these excellent portraits and their simple, tasteful frames.

It was indeed an inspiring sight when the auditorium filled from stage to gallery with the youth of today, proud and anxious to do honor to the heroes who wore the gray.

In spite of the early hour many of the relatives of the generals so honored and ever-faithful Daughters of the Confederacy were present, but it was regretted that the former president, Miss Louise Nettles, for many years the head of the John D. Kennedy Chapter U. D. C., was unable to be present.

After reading from the Scriptures and a prayer by Mr. Richards, superintendent of the schools, the exercises were turned over to Mrs. N. R. Goodale, President of the John D. Kennedy Chapter, U. D. C. The Glee Club, clad in the white and red of the South, enthusiastically sang the old favorites, the Bonnie Blue Flag and Dixie. In a few well chosen words Mrs. Goodale gracefully and earnestly presented the portraits to the Superintendent, in behalf of the Chapter, reading for the edification of the pupils a short sketch of the life of each general as presented. In passing, she brought to the notice of the gathering that a petition signed by her for the Chapter and by the heads of all the other organizations of the city and county had been sent to Governor McLeod requesting that the name of General Joseph B. Kershaw be considered as one of the five most outstanding figures, in peace as well as war, from South Carolina, to be carved on the face of Stone Mountain.

We are the only town in the South to furnish six Generals to the Confederacy and the record probably can not be equalled in the United States record.

After the acceptance of the gift by Mr. Richards in a most timely talk to the pupils, the audience, led by Miss Bolton at the piano and her well-trained glee club, rose and sang America, and an event long looked forward to by the John D. Kennedy Chapter U. D. C. was successfully concluded.

Judge Sease overruled a motion for a new trial provided the $100 punitive damages were cut off. The cost to the school including court expenses and costs amounted to $567.26.

Mr. and Mrs. Osborne, of Hendersonville, were Thanksgiving Day guests at the home of their son, Mr. J. H. Osborne.

GENERAL KERSHAW SELECTED

With Four Others For Place on Stone Mountain Memorial Carving

(From Tuesday's State)

Five South Carolinians who rendered distinguished service to the Confederacy during the Confederate war were selected yesterday by the duly constituted committee appointed to name the men whose recognizable likenesses are to be carved in the Confederate Memorial on Stone Mountain. Each of the 13 Confederate states is to select five men and the figures of these 65 gallant soldiers will have a place on the mountain along with Jefferson Davis, Robert E. Lee, Stonewall Jackson and others.

But one ballot was taken by the committee composed of six members, the ballot resulting as follows:

Wade Hampton, six.
Richard H. Anderson, six.
Joseph B. Kershaw, six.
Stephen D. Lee, five.
Martin W. Gary, four.
M. C. Butler, three.

The first five having received a majority vote of the committee were declared duly selected and the names of the first five will be forwarded to the executive committee in Atlanta. Work on the making of a model from which the figures will be transferred to the mountain will be started in the near future.

"It was the unanimous opinion of the committee," Governor McLeod said, after the committee had adjourned, "that General Hampton should be in the central group on the mountain—the group which includes Jefferson Davis, Robert E. Lee and 'Stonewall' Jackson and other leaders in the Confederacy—men who belong to the entire Confederacy rather than to any one particular state.

"Efforts will be made to have a place given General Hampton in the central group. Should this 'promotion' be given General Hampton, a vacancy will be made in the five already selected and another soldier from South Carolina who rendered 'conspicuous service' will be chosen."

Before the committee went into executive session, an open meeting was held in the supreme court room and opportunity was given all visitors present to present the names of Confederate soldiers to the committee.

After Governor McLeod had called the meeting to order he announced that the committee would be glad to hear from any one in the advocacy of any Confederate soldier. He said the committee was to select five heroes whose likenesses were to be carved on Stone Mountain.

H. G. Garrison of Camden presented the name of Gen. Joseph B. Kershaw and then introduced Mendel L. Smith, also of Camden, who made an eloquent speech in telling of the life and career of General Kershaw.

Thomas E. Richardson of Sumter, representing the "Dick" Anderson camp, United Confederate Veterans, presented the name of Gen. Richard H. Anderson.

W. Lykes of Lykesland presented the name of Gen. A. H. Gladden and Mrs. Sophie S. Swindell presented the name of Gen. Martin W. Gary. B. H. Boykin made a short speech in which he endorsed the tribute which had been paid General Kershaw.

John M. Kinard of Newberry presented the name of Private M. M. Buford. Hal Kohn of Newberry read a resolution adopted by the Newberry post of the American Legion in which the work of the private soldier in the Confederate army was stressed.

The governor announced that a number of names had been sent in by letter and telephone. The committee then went into executive session.

All members of the committee were present at the meeting as follows: Gov. Thomas G. McLeod, Gen. W. A. Clark, representing the state historical commission; Gen. D. W. McLaurin, state commander, United Confederate Veterans; Mrs. Alice Beard, representing the United Daughters of the Confederacy; Col. Henry D. Calhoun, state commander, Sons of the Confederate Veterans; R. C. Watts, associate justice of the state supreme court, elected by the members of the committee (not including the governor).

"Now that a majority of the committee, constituted under the resolution adopted by the Stone Mountain Confederate Monumental association, has made its selections, the work should go forward with unanimity," said Governor McLeod after the meeting. "We were authorized to select five—five from the wealth of material before us. South Carolina could

MAIL PARCELS EARLY

No Deliveries on Christmas Day This Year is Advice From Postoffice

No mail deliveries will go out from the postoffices of the nation this year on Christmas Day, giving the carriers their first holiday on Christmas Day. In view of this fact the department is urging patrons of all offices to do their mailing early.

Christmas gifts and cards addressed to points within one day's travel should be mailed not later than December 20; within two days' travel, not later than December 18; within three days' travel, not later than December 16; for more distant points, not later than December 14. Parcels and cards for local delivery should be mailed not later than December 22.

Parcels and envelopes may be endorsed "Please do not open until Christmas."

The early mailing of Christmas cards is just as important as parcels. Millions of these cards, separate and in envelopes, are mailed each Christmas. Consequently, great congestion and delay occurs in large post offices, where they are all mailed within a day or two of Christmas. Therefore, if you want your Christmas greetings to reach your relatives and friends on or before Christmas Day, follow the instructions in the preceding paragraph relative to mailing early and be certain of delivery before Christmas.

All parcels must be securely wrapped or packed. Use strong paper and heavy twine.

Articles easily broken or crushed must be crated or securely wrapped. Use liberal quantities of excelsior, or like material, in, around, and between the articles and the outside container.

Glassware, fragile toys, crockery must be packed so as to prevent the escape of particles or pieces if broken in transit.

Ordinary boxes of cigars wrapped in paper only will not be accepted. Pack in a manner to prevent damage by shock and jar. Wrap in corrugated pasteboard or similar material.

All articles easily broken or damaged must be marked "fragile."

Articles likely to spoil within the time reasonably required for transportation and delivery will not be accepted for mailing. Wrap or pack carefully, according to contents, and plainly mark all such parcels "Perishable." Use special delivery stamps to expedite delivery.

Addresses should be complete, with house number and name of street, post office box or rural route number, and typed or plainly written in ink. A return card should be placed in the upper left corner of every piece of mail. If a tag is used, the address and return card should also be written on the wrapper for use if tag is lost, and a copy of the address should be inclosed inside the parcel.

Paper Late This Week

The Chronicle is nearly a day late reaching its subscribers. The delay is occasioned by the fact that the entire force took holiday on Thursday and then, too, we had a large lot of extra advertising to come in at a late hour—necessitating a ten-page paper this week.

Posters Were Pleasing

Of especial interest to fair visitors this year were the posters exhibited by the Antioch high school booth illustrating the daily program of American Education Week, state and local needs and showing the value of visiting your school. These posters were drawn by the high school pupils under the supervision of Mrs. W. L. DePass, Jr., and will be sent to Columbia to compete with high schools throughout the state for prizes to be awarded December 12.

Under New Management

The Camden Beauty Parlor is under the management of Mrs. D. M. Davis assisted by Vera McGirt. A complete line of powders, perfumery and other beauty aids will be carried in stock at all times. Mrs. Davis in the past has been employed as a saleslady at L. Schenk & Company.

fill many more places—and fill them with men who bore themselves with distinguished gallantry during and after the war.

"The expense of carving these five figures will be paid, in part, with the premiums on the sales of Stone Mountain Confederate Memorial coins, now being distributed throughout the state.

"South Carolina, the first state to secede from the union, will not be laggard in absorbing her quota of these coins and I am hoping that this state will be the first in the South to purchase its full allotment."
