given to her in a most pleasing and graceful manner by Mrs. I. J. McKenzie, in acceptance of which Mrs. DeLoache expressed her thanks and appreciation in gracious and sincere words.

Mrs. Sanders and Mrs. Mitchell declining re-election as circle leaders the following were nominated and elected: Mesdames I. J. McKenzie, D. M. McCaskill and Wiley Shearn. Under the leadership of these competent workers a successful year of church work is assured.

Mrs. Rebecca West, who has had the church yard in charge for the entire year has contributed in a substantial way to the successful work done by this organization.

Miss Annie Long, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. S. C. Zemp sang a Christmas carol, which added greatly to the pleasure of the afternoon.

Mrs. N. C. Arnett entered the room with a stocking six feet long, filled to overflowing with a wealth of dainty and substantial gifts which were presented to Mrs. Joseph Peeler by friends and members of the Missionary society. In placing the gifts before the surprised honor guest she was assured that each gift represented the friendship and love of the many friends who had found such great pleasure in helping to fill the stocking for her. Mrs. Peeler expressed her surprise and pleasure in a graceful way and opened the packages that all might see and enjoy the beautiful contents of the interesting looking packages. Although having been in our midst for only a year, by her gracious personality, charming friendliness and willing spirit of co-operation in all of the work that has come before the church and community, Mrs. Peeler has greatly endeared herself to the hearts of her friends and co-workers.

The hostess assisted throughout the afternoon by her mother, Mrs. Henry Truesdell, served Christmas candies and on leaving each guest was given a dainty package of candy tied in Christmas ribbons.

The rooms were attractive in their decoration of smilax and holly and numerous bowls of white narcissi and white chrysanthemums were used. Christmas bells hung from the chandeliers and vases of red berries added to the cheery glow of fires, brightened the rooms adding to the pleasure and comfort of the afternoon.

More than fifty guests shared this delightful occasion and the coming year is looked forward to with great interest and enthusiasm by the members of the Woman's Missionary Society.

The Best Christmas Remembrance

A present that will last for 20 years, never wear out, never be lost or go out of style, and thieves cannot break through and steal.

Of what other gift can you say the same?

PERSONAL MEMORANDUM TO L. C. SHAW, AGT. December 1, 1925.

I take pleasure in reminding you of a form of policy issued by this Company which is especially appropriate at Christmastime.

I refer to our Christmas and Birthday Trust issued in units of $10,000 on any one of our regular plans of insurance. The unique provisions of this Trust are as follows:

- 1—The Trust provides, in the event of the insured's death, for an income to be paid to the wife of $50 a month for 20 years.
- 2—Furthermore, the Company agrees to send each Christmas Day, after the death of the insured, direct to the wife, a check of $27.50 for 20 years.
- 3—And, upon the wife's birthday, every year for 20 years, the Company will send her a check for $25.
- 4—It can be arranged that should the wife die before the 20 years are completed, the remainder may be paid in a lump sum to the estate of the beneficiary or to the children.

I venture to say that not a man in a hundred realizes that he can provide in advance in such a way as this. If he does, nothing that he leaves behind him will be of such a warm and grateful memory. How does it strike you?

Very sincerely yours, THOS. A. BUCKNER, Vice-President.
