

Soon Felt Improvement

"The first time I took Cardui I was in an awful bad way," says Mrs. Ora Carille, R. F. D. 5, Troup, Texas. "I went fishing one day. A heavy storm came up and I got soaking wet in the rain. I was afflicted with awful smothering spells. I could not get my breath. My mother had some in the house that she was taking, so she immediately began giving it to me. In a few days I got all right. "Last fall I got run-down in health. I was weak and puny and I began to suffer. I would get so I could hardly walk. Having taken Cardui before, I sent to the store for a bottle of it. Almost from the first dose I could feel an improvement.

"Cardui has helped me a lot and I am glad to recommend it. I don't feel like the same woman I was last fall. My appetite is good now, and I'm sure it's Cardui that's made it pick up."

SNOWSLIDE TAKES TOLL

Caused Death of Many Persons in Utah Mining Town

Bingham, Utah, Feb. 17.—Upwards of 57 lives were snuffed out when a snowslide, thundering down the mountainside today buried the Little Highland Boy mining settlement at the foot of Sap Gulch, near here. Twenty-eight bodies had been recovered tonight by rescue workers digging in the debris of the score of buildings destroyed.

Twenty-nine persons were listed by the Utah-Delaware Mining company as missing and believed to have perished. This number may be increased, Frank A. Wardlaw, superintendent of the mining company, said, as he did not know how many others were in the buildings engulfed. It was feared the toll might mount to 75.

Wardlaw and physicians said they had abandoned all hope of recovering any one alive from the ruins, but the search of the debris went on tonight with a dozen electric searchlights on the scene.

Ten persons were in the Bingham hospital and an emergency hospital in the Highland Boy mine office.

Fire added to the horror of the catastrophe, flames breaking out in the crushed buildings a few minutes after the avalanche struck. The fires still smoldered tonight and a heavy pall of smoke and fog overhung the scene of destruction.

The bodies, as fast as they were extricated were placed in sleighs and taken three miles down the canyon to the morgue, where they were placed in a double row on the floor. Tags bearing the names were placed on some of the silent forms, while others were simply numbered pending identification.

Many of the bodies were frightfully burned. Others were scarcely scratched and Dr. F. E. Straup, the county physician, also mayor of Bingham, said that in most cases death was due to asphyxiation.

Property damage, Superintendent Wardlaw said, would not exceed $40,000.

Half a dozen men, armed with shotguns, were sent tonight to patrol another gulch above the Highland Boy mine office in anticipation of another slide. They were ordered to fire several rounds of shots as a warning to those below should the snow begin to move.

"The slide was like a bolt of lightning from a clear sky," Superintendent Wardlaw said.

J. H. Rentz escaped from the McDonald boarding house, but his wife, his sister and brother were entombed.

"There was no warning other than a thump and a trembling of the building," he said. "I was buried beneath bedding, snow and the walls and ceiling of my room. Somehow or other I managed to drag myself from the suffocating snow and I was pulled from the wreckage."

Luther McCandless was taken from the debris uninjured, but his bedmate, Ben Benson, was buried so deep that he suffocated before rescuers could reach him.

Two Held Without Bail

Hendersonville, N. C., Feb. 17.—Charles Kendrick, 22, and Wells Green, 19, of Gaffney, S. C., were held without bail here today by Magistrate Battle for trial in the Burke county court beginning on March 8th, on a charge of having murdered Frank Butler, 29, of Burke county on the morning of January 30th. Roy Hill, 20, and Otis Jolly, 25, also of Gaffney, were held on the same charge but will be allowed to give bond in the sum of $1,000 each. J. B. Bell, Esq., of Gaffney, represented Hill and Jolly, while the Green boy and Charles Kendrick were represented by Ervin & Ervin of Hendersonville, and Gardner & Burreis of Shelby. The courthouse during the hearing this afternoon was filled to overflowing. Mrs. Butler, widow of the slain man, was the first witness for the state. She told how in the early morning of January 30, her husband was awakened by some men who asked if he could get them some whiskey. He complied with their request and was gone for half an hour, when the party returned to the house. A minute or two later she heard two shots and a little later her husband staggered into the house, where he fell dead after saying "Those devils shot me." The four men were arrested at Gaffney and have been in the Burke county jail since February 4th.

Heir To Millions Burned to Death

Chicago, Feb. 20.—Frederick W. Pearson, 30, whose father died two years ago leaving a $2,000,000 estate, was burned to death in a fire in his room at the Claridge Hotel, started by a lighted cigarette. John H. Hogshead, a young companion in a night revelry, narrowly escaped a similar fate.

How to Stop That Weakening Cough

Why let a heavy, stubborn cough wear you down when you can get speedy relief and often break it up completely in 24 hours through a remarkable new method based on the famous Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs?

Here is the method: You simply take one teaspoonful and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it. It has a double action, but also soothes and heals irritation, and also removes the phlegm and congestion which are the real cause of the coughing. So with the cause removed the worst cough soon disappears.

Dr. King's New Discovery is for coughs, chest colds, bronchitis, spasmodic croup, etc. Fine for children, too—no harmful drugs. Very economical, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. At all good druggists. Ask for

HOW STRIKE WAS SETTLED

Grant Succeeded as Mediator When Politicians Failed

Philadelphia, Feb. 16.—R. F. Grant of Cleveland, who is credited by miners and operators as the instrumentality who settled the strike, was all smiles when the final announcement was made.

In a formal statement to the Associated Press he said:

"When a coal strike develops, many champions of the people with political hopes start to develop ways and means to capitalize the situation for their own benefit. The first thing to do is to convince the people of their general love for humanity. There is no publicity value in being a private lover and so their love is proclaimed loudly. The next thing is to have a plan or to offer their good offices. This is done so that later when the strike is settled they can point with pride to their helpfulness.

"Hundreds of plans have been submitted. Generally they follow the plan of the Ten Commandments, the Episcopal marriage ceremony of Mrs. Rorer's 'Cook Book.'

"The champions of the people accomplish nothing except to confuse everything and everybody and prolong the strike.

"For three days I have been the sole contact between operators and miners. Right at the start it seemed sure that a formula could be written to end the strike. My only fear was that some great friends of the people would have a heartbreak and start loving out loud and spill the party.

"I call attention to the great common sense and wisdom of President Coolidge. It is my firm conviction that if he had yielded to the great pressure upon him and had tried to intervene this contract would not be signed today. The American people are entitled to know this solemn conviction of mine and to honor this great president of ours, who has shortened the strike by his wisdom.

"I would like to paste across the sky in eternal letters a warning to America who want to do their loving out loud and who would capitalize the distress of our people for personal reasons."

Stockings at $500 a Pair

A fifth avenue store in New York sells silk stockings at $500 a pair—hand woven on special looms, the most sheer, delicate stockings possible, as carefully made as old hand-made lace. They are a bargain at that and the store assumes the profit is not large. It also sells $250 stockings and plenty of $100 stockings. But the best seller is a line of silk stockings at $15 a pair. One society woman buys eight dozen $18-a-pair stockings at a time. Plenty of customers buy $500 worth at a time. These expensive stockings break as readily as the cheaper ones. The store employs several expert women menders who are paid a dollar an hour, the store making no profit on the mending. Sometimes a mender will spend eight hours repairing a single "run" in a stocking, using very small fishhooks set in wooden handles for the work. "What will women folks with two pairs of $2 stockings say, when they read this?"—Capper's Weekly.

Farmer Attempts Suicide

Kershaw, Feb. 18.—Henry T. Horton, well known farmer of the Abney section near here, made an unsuccessful attempt to end his life Tuesday afternoon by cutting himself in the throat and wrists with a razor. Fortunately a physician was calling upon him and found him shortly after he had committed the rash act and prompt attention saved his life and last accounts from the patient, indications were that he would survive the wounds. Ill health and despondency over financial matters were assigned as causes.

Ford Buys Famous Village Smithy
 Uxbridge, Mass., Feb. 18.—Henry Ford has bought Longfellow's famous village smithy.
 The shop was built in 1787 by Japhet Taft, grandfather of the late Caleb Taft. It has among its implements a sling used in shoeing oxen, the only one in this vicinity in use up to ten years ago when Mr. Taft retired. Henry W. Longfellow was inspired by seeing Japhet Taft before the forge to which his famous poem was written.
