Nobody's Business

Written for The Chronicle by Gee McGee, Copyright, 1927.

The word e-g-o-t-i-s-m sprang from the French word "egg" meaning fruit from a hen, guinea, or duck, and the German word "tism," meaning bad, and the English language saw fit to transpose the appellation, and we have the definition—"bad egg."

Egotism, unlike other "tisms," such as Rheumatism, which affects the muscles and bones, and Astigmatism, which hurts the eye, settles on the weakest part of the human diaphragm, (the brain), when it settles at all. It is not painful to the afflicted person, but causes much pain and misery to the people he, she, or it comes in contact with.

Egotism is a disease which makes its owner feel his or her importance when there really isn't any importance to feel. A person who has a bad case of this malady will never say—"I don't know," or—"I made a mistake," or—"I beg your pardon," or—"I am sorry, but I have forgotten," or—"Please show me how." There's not so awfully much difference between an egotist and a Smart Aleck.

An egotistically sarcastic embryo, common to Main street, and hotel lobbies, thinks everybody thinks he's the smartest man in his school district; and that he leads all others in the matter of dress, public speaking, golf, expert bull slinging, necking, anticipating markets, fore-telling bad financial conditions, and mashing the fair sex.

When a man gets a genuine case of "away-from-home" ego, he's worse off than if he had contracted the 7-year itch, or galloping consumption, or several bad debts. He simply ain't fit to stay at home with his folks, or loaf down-town with his enemies, or possum hunt by himself.

An egotist generally thinks everybody is admiring his new suit, when nobody but the pressing-club remembers to have seen it, and he believes the "bunch" is talking about the big diamond he is wearing in his shirt bosom, when, as a matter of fact, nobody ever suspected that it was a diamond, and he imagines that the crowd is saying: "Who is that handsome man walking down the aisle dressed so immaculately" when the only guy that noticed him at all is wondering who in the thunder that pimp, or wart is.

Egotism is mostly fatal. Very few people ever get over it, and some of them mebbe are looking forward with much Big-1-Ness to the time when the weeping throngs will gaze upon his cold face in the casket, and say—"There lies a leader of men and women."

Worthwhile Statistics.

1. The cost of re-claiming furniture bought on the installment plan is 184 millions dollars per year. The installment buyer foots the bill.
2. Every fourteenth man in the country beats his grocer out of his food supplies, and uses his income to keep his lizzie and hooch goozler a-going.

RHEUMATISM

While in France with the American Army I obtained a noted French prescription for the treatment of Rheumatism and Neuritis. I have given this to thousands with wonderful results. The prescription cost me nothing. I ask nothing for it. I will mail it if you will send me your address. A postal card will bring it. Write today.

3. Every 20 minutes between 8:10 p. m. and 6:20 a. m. of each and every day of every year, 2 men get shot about other men's wives, and 424,564 pounds of fresh potatoes are consumed.

4. One woman out of every 67,777 either shoots, shoots at, or poisons her husband during June and December of each year, while the consumption of canned salmon on the farms has increased 75 per cent since the cost of cutting stove wood went to 3 dollars a cord.

5. During each work-day a month, no less than 999,999 bogus checks are negotiated—and 623 babies are born that will never know their daddies.

6. Between lunch time and dinner time, 675,423 wrong numbers are given, and 765,456 lipsticks and 1,876,986 powder puffs are used.

7. The total weight of teddies worn in the United States (while on duty) does not exceed the gross weight of June bugs that get killed in the month of July by having sudden contact with telephone wires.

8. Only 5 per cent of the graft which is extracted from the hands and mouths of the taxpayers of our land ever serves any useful or ornamental purpose, yet—oysters that sold for 40 cents a quart before the World War now fetch 55 cents a pint at most beef markets.

9. While you were reading this article, that is—if you really read it, 2,354 old maids looked under the bed and were disappointed, yet—only half of our gasoline tax appears to have been spent on the public highways.

November, 1927, has exactly half the normal rain at the weather bureau station at Greenville, 1.55 inches compared to a normal of 3.10 inches. The deficiency of rainfall for the eleven months of this year is a trifle over 17 inches. The November just ended was 2 degrees per day warmer on the average than the normal temperature for the month.

Evidence Enough

"Why do you ask a new trial?" "On the grounds of newly discovered evidence, Your Honor," said the lawyer earnestly. "What is the nature of this evidence?" "My client has dug up $400 that I didn't know he had." Exchange.

COW-HOG-SCHEME PAYS EDGEFIELD FARMER

Edgefield, Dec.—"Home-grown, home-mixed feeds fed to cows and skimmilk from those cows fed to pigs and chickens give me a good three-way profit and make my land richer for growing crops of any kind." That, briefly, tells the story of Todd Rainsford, another Edgefield county farmer who believes in the cow-hog-hen plan of better farming. Nineteen purebred Jersey cows, 11 and 1500 sows, and 175 White Leghorn hens are the basis of Mr. Rainsford's diversified farming scheme, with ample storage in feeds and limited but productive acreage in cotton. His cows do well on a home-mixed feed of cottonseed meal and corn the latter being ground up with shuck, cob and all, and mixed in the proportion of 200 pounds to 10 pounds of cottonseed meal and fed along with oats and-fed hay or peas.

"My cows," he says, "make my land better for larger crop yield, including cotton, if we could only get it." Milking regularly, 10 to 12 cows have an average output of 25 pounds of butter per week, which he sells on the Augusta market to special trade at 55 cents per pound except some 500 pounds yearly which he sells in Edgefield at 45 to 50 cents per pound. This he finds more profitable than selling cream.

The 11 brood sows give him under his farrowing system an average of five litters in two years, or about 18 pigs per year per sow. This means some 200 pigs which he sells as pigs at $5 per pig on a good demand. Skimmilk from the Jerseys is an important part of the feed of these pigs.

Starting his poultry flock in 1921, Mr. Rainsford now has besides 175 White Leghorns about 50 Banded Rocks. He uses skimmilk and other home-made feeds and mixes his own, using yellow corn, wheat, oats and some bought meat scrap and wheat bran. Eggs and chickens bring him a good price on the Augusta market, averaging over 40 cents per dozen for eggs.

"Except for the cow, hog and hen, I couldn't get on now," said Mr. Rainsford to sum it all up.

One man in 2,600 reaches the age of one hundred in Serbia, one in 8,130 in Ireland, one in 43,000 in Spain, one in 177,000 in England, Scotland, and Wales, and one in 180,750 in France.

To Meet In Greenville

The second South-wide Baptist Sunday school conference, January 17-20, 1928, Greenville, S. C., is to be the greatest Sunday school meeting ever held in South Carolina and from the standpoint of attendance, possibly the greatest Sunday school meeting ever held anywhere. Upward of 3,000 people from all over the South will be in attendance. Great departmental conferences on separate phases of Sunday School work will be running simultaneously—a stupendous six-day performance—also general meetings with from three to five thousand people gathered together in the great Textile Hall, where outstanding Sunday school speakers from all over the world will be heard. It is expected, according to Mr. J. L. Corzine, director of Sunday School and B. Y. P. U. work for the Baptist denomination in South Carolina, that one thousand Carolinians, outside of Greenville, will be in attendance.

Reduced fare can be had on all railroads to Greenville by means of the certificate plan. All who are desirous of securing these certificates, from the rank of Baptist association, should apply to L. H. Catoe at Kershaw, S. C., R. F. D., who has been furnished a goodly supply for the Sunday school workers of this section. Or you may apply to Mr. J. L. Corzine, Baptist House, Columbia, S. C.

"The Spermatic Shield will not only retain any case of rupture perfectly, but contracts the opening in 10 days on the average case. Being a vast advancement over all former methods—emphasizing instantaneous effects—immediately appreciable and withstanding any strain or position no matter the size or location. Large or difficult cases, or incisional ruptures (following operations) specially solicited. This instrument received the only award in England and in Spain, producing results without surgery, injections, medical treatments or prescriptions, with distinguished personal patrons of all nations. His method has always been most satisfactory."—Late Dr. Edward Shippen, former Medical Director, U. S. Navy.

Caution—All cases should be cautioned against the use of any elastic or web truss with understraps, as same rest where the lump is and not where the opening is, producing complications necessitating surgical operations.
