Twin Babies Die In Fond Embrace

No two persons are closer together than twins. They usually have the same likes and dislikes, and quarrel less than regular brothers and sisters.

Seldom it is, though, that twins are so close that they draw their last breath in each other's arms. But little Rebecca and Joseph Austin, five months old, died in that manner at the home of their parents, near Honkins.

No Santa Claus; Slays His Family

Vernon, Texas, Dec. 30 .- Evidence of a tragedy of poverty which wiped out a family of six persons in the midst of surrounding Christmas cheer, the bodies of a father and his five children lay today in a county morgue. The children apparently were killed by their father, who then committed suicide.

The dead were J. H. Haggard, 56, farmer, and his children, Simon, 18; John 10; Alta 15; Alma 12; and Dorothy 6. The mother died three years ago.

A note reading "All ded. I had ruther be ded. Look in Cellar," found on the door of the house, was interpreted by authorities as conclusive evidence that the slayings were the final act of a father stricken by grief at his inability to provide his children with Christmas toys.

Justice of the Peace H. C. Justin returned no verdict after an inquest yesterday, but indicated the verdict would be suicide in Haggard's case, and death by gunshot wounds in the case of the children.

The bleak farm home where the six lived was without a sign of Christmas decoration or festivity when the bodies were found by a Mexican who stopped at the house, and contained only the barest necessities of life. Authorities believed the deaths occurred on Christmas Day or the day following.

Beall Preaches Bloodshed

Waterbury, Conn., Dec. 5 .--- (AP) -"Textile workers in the South have pistols, every one of them, and these guns will come in handy at a future date when the workers will use them in the right way," said Fred Beal, Communist organizer, at a meeting in the Lithuanian hall here last night.

Beal charged the United Textile Workers, a branch of the American Federation of Labor, with "betraying" the textile workers of Charlotte, N. C., in 1919 and 1920.

Beal also charged a "frameup" in the first Gastonia trial, when one of the jurors suddenly went insane. He claimed the presence of a dummy of O. F. Aderholt, murdered chief of poe, caused the juror's breakdown.

He asserted that the "bosses hired thugs and gunmen," gave them badges and these gunmen shot down Ella May Wiggins in cold blood," during the strike called April 2 of this year.

During the open deer hunting season of Pennsylvania, recently closed, there were a total of 22,395 bucks killed. The number of bears killed in the state during the open season totaled 408.
