THE HOME-TOWN NEWSPAPER

The country paper is still the favorite paper with the women in the Big City, according to the questionnaire that has been answered by college women, members of the Panhellenic Association, at the Panhellenic Hotel in New York City of twenty-one national fraternities.

The questionnaire showed that the novelists are right when they call New York City a big place where the small town people meet. Members of the Panhellenic Association were asked a number of questions about their favorite papers, their favorite news topics, and their favorite news writers. After giving their answers to these queries they remarked that their favorite paper was still their home town one.

One woman answered: "I read every item in the paper the family sends me because it gives me news about all the neighbors that my family never write me about. My family's weekly letter tells me the news about themselves and that's about all. The paper gives me all the facts about the friends I have known since I was knee-high."

Another successful woman in New York City wrote: "After all, the news we care the most about is the news about the people that mean the most to us, and they are at home."

LET HOARDERS BEWARE

More than $600,000,000 in gold and gold certificates have been returned to the banks since President Roosevelt issued his ukase against hoarding, but Washington dispatches say that gold certificates to the amount of $1,300,000,000 are outstanding and the government has fixed May 1 as the last day for the return of this money. Those who hold gold or gold certificates after that date, except in amounts of $100 or less and for purposes otherwise specified, will be subject to a fine of $10,000 or 10 year's imprisonment, or both.

Hoarding is going to be mighty unpopular in these United States and he who tries to beat the government is likely to run into a nest of troubles. Ten years in the pen is a big price to pay for not having confidence in one's government and not being willing to exchange one form of currency for another.—Spartanburg Herald.

Furman university and Greenville Woman's college will be combined at the end of the present college year, the two year coordination program being completed. President W. H. Provence, of G. W. C. will leave, President McGlothlin of Furman, continuing to head the college. The reason for the combination are financial. "No good college," Dr. Provence said, "can successfully operate and maintain proper standards without adequate endowment and prospects of securing such endowment for G. W. C. were never bright."

The lower valley of the Mississippi from Vicksburg to New Orleans, is preparing for much trouble due to high waters in the Father of Waters.

Capital Observations

(Special Correspondence)

Washington, April 11.—The union station in this city is on one side of a broad plaza facing the capitol building. It is considered the finest railroad station in the world, and is one of the largest, being 760 feet in length and 343 feet wide. It was built with a view of the expansion of railway travel, before the buses had cut so extensively into the business. It is now seldom taxed to anything approaching its capacity, and is beginning to assume the appearance of departed glory.

It seems rather strange that Theodore Roosevelt, a Republican, should be followed in the presidency, a period of twenty-four years elapsing, by another Roosevelt who is a Democrat. Many of the name have been prominent in politics, and mostly Democrats. In the year 1904 when "Teddy" was running, an uncle of his, Robert B. Roosevelt, was asked to serve on the Democratic electoral ticket. The request seemed to be in bad taste, and the uncle declined, saying that he would support the ticket, but did not feel disposed to oppose officially his politically wayward nephew. A similar instance, also in bad taste, occurred last year when the Republicans endeavored to persuade Mrs. Corinne Roosevelt Robinson to serve on their electoral ticket. She recently died, and was a sister of Theodore. She declined also because of kinship, on both sides, being distantly related to Franklin D. Roosevelt, and saying that the wife of the Democratic candidate was her own beloved niece.

President Roosevelt drew largely upon the membership of the United States senate in making his cabinet. The lamented Senator Walsh of Montana, who had been named attorney general, died however before assuming his new post. As secretary of the navy Senator Claude A. Swanson was named, and a better selection could hardly have been made. He has been in public life for forty years, serving in the national house of representatives, as governor of Virginia, and in the senate, always ranking high as a statesman. During recent Republican control he was the leading Democrat on the senate committee on naval affairs, and consequently is well qualified to discharge his new duties. He has given indications of favoring a strong navy, so essential for protection against attack from the sea in case of the possibility of another war, while our country may rest with some assurance in view of the great difficulty of invasion by land.

There is a proposition before congress which seems likely to be enacted into law in some shape, to reduce the period of labor in factories to thirty-six or to thirty hours a week, and to extend over perhaps only five days. Its accomplishment could be brought about by prohibiting transportation in interstate commerce of any goods made in a factory where an individual was permitted to work longer than the specified number of hours or days. Action is being withheld pending an expression of the views of President Roosevelt. There could be no ban upon the number of hours a day or a week during which a factory might be kept running, but only upon the work hours of the individual employees, the intention being to cause a spread of work among many more people, and thus relieve unemployment to a great extent, especially in the large cities. It would not concern the farmer or any class except those employed in factories whose products might cross state boundaries. While the constitutionality of such a measure may be brought into question, the fact remains that the constitution of the United States gives congress jurisdiction over interstate commerce.

The mayor of Detroit, Frank Murphy, has been named for the important position of governor-general of the Philippine Islands, and in at least one respect he will be acceptable, as he is a Catholic. With the exception of a comparatively few Mahommitans in one section the Filipinos are preponderantly Catholic Christians. Probably what militated largely against former Congressman Hare of South Carolina, who had been favorably mentioned for the place, was that Mr. Stevenson, also a former congressman, had been appointed to a very responsible position, and in addition former Congressman Dominick has been urged for a Federal judgeship. So it was too much to expect in the circumstances.

The loss of the navy dirigible Akron, causing more than seventy deaths, will doubtless spell the doom of further experimenting along that line. This big balloon was the second belonging to the navy that went to destruction in a fall, and the belief is becoming general that such craft cannot be depended upon for practical purposes. Most other leading nations have abandoned their use after similar tragedies. Admiral Moffett,

Family Will Make Bank Deposits Good

Greensboro, N. C., April 7.—The people, who trusted Caesar Cone in life will have more reason to revere his memory since his death.

Members of the late Greensboro manufacturer's family announced yesterday that depositors in the Textile Bank of Greensboro, which Cone organized and which subsequently became the textile branch of the North Carolina Bank and Trust Company will be permitted to sustain no financial loss from the closing of the branch.

"Caesar Cone organized the Textile Bank," said a statement posted by members of the Cone family, "He did so in order to encourage his employees to save part of their earnings and to provide a safe place where they could deposit their savings."

"As a tribute to his memory, the members of the family of Caesar Cone have decided to see that all depositors in Textile Bank and its successor, the Textile branch of the North Carolina Bank and Trust company, shall receive full payment of the balances to which they are entitled."

Death of Dr. Hayes

Friends in Camden and elsewhere sympathize with Mrs. J. G. Richards, Jr., in the death of her father, Dr. I. R. Hayes, which occurred at his home in Kershaw Monday afternoon. He was 74 years of age.

Dr. Hayes was a native of Gulf, N. C., and came to Kershaw about 40 years ago and established the firm of Hayes and Gregory, druggists. He is survived by his widow and four children: Mrs. J. G. Richards, Jr., of Camden; Miss Mary Hayes, of Whitmore; Robert Hayes of Chattanooga and William Hayes, of Kershaw. He was a beloved citizen of Kershaw, held in the highest esteem.

His funeral was held at Kershaw Tuesday afternoon and many from Camden attended. Judge E. D. Blakey, of this city, served among a long list of others as an honorary pallbearer.

Beer sales in North Carolina are now legalized for the first time since 1908, the general assembly having on Tuesday last given its approval to the sale of the stuff from and after May 1.

Persecutions of the Jews continued throughout Germany on Monday and Tuesday, with many being arrested on one charge and another. American officials in Berlin were enraged over an allegation by the "Pangerman Press Service," edited by two Nazis, that an "atrocious lie factory has been set up in the American consulate general." The service claims that the American consulate, like the Polish, collects accusations of eastern Jews against Nazis. George S. Messersmith, United States consul general, said: "We strongly resent these unwarranted implications and will by proper representations insist on immediate stoppage."

The state's district attorney of Chicago, has ordered brewers of that city, not to have any dealings with racketeers in the handling of beer, and threatens to have the license of any brewer doing such business canceled. Soft drink stand proprietors have reported that they have had warnings from the racketeers to the effect: "You'll take our product or get a pineapple. (A pineapple is a bomb in the underworld vernacular.)"

General Johnson Hagood, U. S. A., in an address at Kansas City, Mo., expressed the hope that President Roosevelt would slash away the red-tape of the army and get rid of all overlapping bureaus. He termed the army as "top heavy and extravagant." "It needs close trimming to make it fit the pocketbook of the man without a job. It takes three hundred million dollars to run the army under its present organization. He can get a better organization for less."

C. G. Wyche, of Spartanburg the former law partner of Senator Jimmie Byrnes, will be the new United States district attorney, and Reuben Gosnell, of Greenville, a staunch henchman, of Senator Smith for a quarter of a century, will be the new United States marshal of this district. The two senators have settled those appointments, but have made no selection for internal revenue collector to succeed Victor Q. Hambricht who has resigned effective April 15. A dark horse not mentioned hitherto, may get that desirable place, to solve the trouble the senators are having to pick one of the 90 applicants for the job. Among these are Mrs. L. P. Jennings, former governor Heyward and Col. Wylie Jones of Columbia, and Robert A. Cooper, of Wyszacky.

who was a South Carolinian, was among those that lost their lives. His body was recovered and he will be accorded a funeral commensurate with his rank. Burial will take place in Arlington national cemetery.

Millions in Closed Banks To Be Freed

Washington, April 8.—A program to free millions of dollars of frozen deposits in thousands of unopened state banks assumed definite proportions tonight following closely upon Secretary Woodin's announcement of the appointment of Walter J. Cummings of Chicago, as his executive assistant to have direct charge of this work.

The treasury chieftain disclosed he had already worked out a concrete plan, subject to local variations. He was confident it would restore to solvency the majority of the state institutions, but said that premature announcement of its details would serve no useful purpose. It is this plan that Cummings will administer.

Fulfillment of Woodin's prophecy would mean that many thousands of state institutions again would be in a position to participate in America's business functions. No definite figures are obtainable at the treasury, however, as to the exact number, nor the amount of deposits involved.

However, at the end of March, 5,387 national and state member banks of the Federal Reserve system had reopened their doors, restoring a deposit line of about twenty-six billion dollars. In addition, 7,350 non-member state institutions had likewise reopened on a 100 per cent basis, but the amount of deposits was not given.

The latest statement of conditions for all banks in this country indicated a total of slightly more than 18,000 institutions of all classes, with deposits of approximately forty billion dollars.

In the absence of details, it is believed here that many of the distressed state banks will be opened on a full time basis through aid furnished by the Reconstruction Finance corporation under the provisions of the emergency banking act. This aid has taken the form of having the corporation match dollar for dollar in private subscriptions for new and preferred capital stock.

Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owens, of Florida, has been appointed by President Roosevelt as American minister to Denmark.

Macon, Ga., April 9.—Dr. Carl Gregory, pastor of the Mulberry Street Methodist church here died tonight of a bullet wound that police said was self-inflicted.

Dr. Gregory, who had held pastorates in Dallas and San Antonio, Tex., came to Macon from the latter city in January.

Knew Her Geography

He met the sweet young thing at a dance at one of our country clubs.

As they whirled around the dance floor she asked, "What part of the country are you from?"

He told her he hailed from South Dakota, but she appeared incredulous.

"Don't kid me," she told him. "You don't talk a bit like a Southerner!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

President Roosevelt's huge public works bill was outlined Tuesday by Chairman Vinson of the house naval committee, as including the building of 30 new warships at a cost of $230,000,000. Even with that addition the United States would still be under Japan, Great Britain, France and Italy in actual combatant ships except battleships.
