BENSON—GIBBS

The following wedding notice appeared in the Charleston News and Courier of Thursday, July 15. Miss Benson was born in Camden and attended the Camden graded school, later moving with her parents to Charleston. She has relatives residing in Camden:

The wedding of Miss Martha Benson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Darlington Benson, of 101 Tradd street, and Mr. James Gendron Gibbs, also of Charleston, took place at 4:30 o'clock (Scott) Presbyterian church, with the Rev. Edward G. Lilly, pastor, officiating.

Decorations were white flowers and smilax. The wedding music was played by Miss Lucille Phoenix, organist. The musical program consisted of Schubert's "Serenade," "O Promise Me," "I Love You Truly," the wedding march from "Lohengrin," the professional and Mendelssohn's wedding march as the recessional.

Miss Sarah Selina Benson was her sister's maid of honor and only attendant. She was dressed in delphinium blue net with a large picture hat and accessories to match. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses and blue delphinium.

Charles Haskell Gibbs, brother of the bridegroom, was the best man. The ushers included Messrs. Coming Hall Gibbs and John Ernest Gibbs, Jr., brothers of the bridegroom, Edward Bounetheau Reeves, Jr., and Richard J. Volzet, Jr., all of Charleston.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a dress of orange and lace in flesh rose and a large picture hat with accessories of the same shade. She carried a colonial bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Benson, mother of the bride, was gown in flowered chiffon with white accessories. Mrs. John Ernest Gibbs, mother of the bridegroom, was gown in Wallis blue lace.

The ceremony was followed by an informal reception at the home of the bride. The house was decorated with smilax and garden flowers. The dining room was in green and white, the table centered with a silver candelabra.

Receiving at the door were Mrs. Marshall Shingler, of Charleston, and Mrs. H. L. Thames, Jr., of Orangeburg. In the receiving line were Mrs. Benson, mother of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. John Ernest Gibbs, parents of the bridegroom, the bride and bridegroom, the maid of honor and the best man. At the punch bowls were Miss Maner Dotterer and Mrs. Edward Pritchard. Also assisting in the dining room were the Misses Nancy Baloch and Betty Shingler.

During the reception Mr. and Mrs. Gibbs left for a wedding trip to Myrtle Beach, the mountains of North Carolina and Virginia. On their return they will reside at 4 Logan street. Mrs. Gibbs wore for traveling a frock of ashes of roses flat crepe trimmed in navy blue and with navy blue accessories.

Mrs. Gibbs was graduated from the Remmelinger high school, and attended the College of Charleston. For the last year and a half she has been connected with the navy department in Washington.

Mr. Gibbs, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Gibbs, of 4 Logan street, was graduated from the high school of Charleston and from Clemson college. He is now connected with the Etlwan fertilizer company and the Shipyard Terminal company.

Out of town guests for the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Terry, of Columbia; J. L. Wysong, of Florence; Mrs. H. K. Aiken, of Laurens; Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Gross, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Price, and Mr. and Mrs. A. Fuller, all of Barnwell; and Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Thames, Jr., of Orangeburg.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert T. Goodale attended the wedding of Miss Martha Benson to James Gendron Gibbs in Charleston on Wednesday.

Compliments Sister
Miss Aileen McLeod was hostess at delightful bridge party Tuesday afternoon when she entertained for her sister, Mrs. Elmore Stickney, of Jacksonville. Four tables were arranged in the living room which was attractive with vases of garden flowers. The prizes were won by Miss Sally Blackwell, of Raleigh, and Mrs. Don Morrison. Guest prizes were given the honor guest, Mrs. Stickney, as Blackwell and Miss Katherine Lewis, of New York.

A delicious sweet course was served after the game.

Mrs. R. D. Hancock

Mrs. R. D. Hancock, Dalzell, died in the McLeod hospital, Florence, Wednesday morning at 4:30 o'clock. She was 61 years of age. She had been sick for several weeks. Funeral services were held Thursday, conducted by her pastor, the Rev. Mr. Shuler. The interment was at St. Johns M. E. church.

Besides her husband, R. D. Hancock, the surviving member of the immediate family are four sons, M. D. Hancock, Bishopville; M. H. Hancock, Winston-Salem, N. C.; Fred and Robert Hancock, Dalzell. Also four daughters, Mrs. Hallie Brabham, Columbia; Mrs. L. W. Huggins, Bishopville, R. F. D.; Mrs. Loran Watford, Lamas; and Miss Gracie Dell Hancock, Dalzell.—Saturday's Sumter item.

Were Bridge Hosts

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. VanLandingham were hosts at a delightful bridge party which they gave Thursday evening for the members of their club and additional guests including Mrs. Rheta Halsalt, Mrs. Lawrence Williams, Mrs. Marion Bell and Mrs. Marion Williams. Lovely arrangements of garden flowers were used in the living room and the reception hall. The high score prizes were won by Mr. and Mrs. Hughie Tindal and the low score prizes by Mrs. James Gandy and Hubert Wilson. The floating prize was won by Mrs. Halsalt. After the game refreshments were served.

Entertains at Bridge

Mrs. J. Willis Canteley gave a lovely bridge luncheon at her home at the Hobkirk Inn Wednesday morning. Three tables were arranged for the guests in the living room where lunch was served on the individual tables after the game.

Gave Lovely Tea

Of interest to many friends in Camden and elsewhere is the announcement of the engagement of Miss Lela Eleanor Gillis and Dr. D. Curtis Hinson. The announcement was made at a lovely tea given for Miss Gillis by her sister, Miss Gertrude Gillis, at her home on Fair street last Saturday afternoon. Vases of mixed summer flowers were arranged in the rooms of the lower floor, except in the dining room, where the decorations were in green and white. Receiving the guests at the front door were Mrs. J. G. Richards, Jr., and Mrs. Adam Reams, of Sumter, a sister of the hostess. As they arrived, each guest was given a tiny silver horse shoe to the announcement. "Gillis-Hinson, August 11, 1937." These were presented to the guests by young Jean Lee, the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Lee, who made a perfect picture dressed as a miniature bride. Receiving with the hostess were her mother, Mrs. J. L. Gillis, the honor guest, Miss Lela Gillis; Miss Sophia Garrison, of Florence; and three recent brides—Mrs. Marion B. Williams, Mrs. Roland N. Goodale, Jr., and Mrs. Daniel B. Mackey Mrs. Grainger Korngay and Miss Elizabeth McDowell received in the living room.

In the dining room a lace cloth covered the tea table, which had a lovely centerpiece of shasta daisies and Queen Anne's lace. White candles in silver holders lighted the table and green and white block ice cream was served on silver platters at either end of the table by Mrs. Luther Kelley and Mrs. W. E. Garrison. Assisting in the dining room were Mrs. D. M. McCaskill, Mrs. D. K. Lee, Mrs. Julian Graham and Mrs. R. R. Kenney, of Rembert. Cakes and green and white mints were served in silver containers.

During the afternoon about one hundred and twenty-five guests called.
