Betty Jane Sarratt-R. LeRoy Cowan, Jr. To Wed In October

The engagement of Miss Betty Jane Sarratt and Robert LeRoy Cowan, Jr., is announced, the marriage to be an event of October, taking place in Charlotte, N. C., former home of the bride-to-be.

Miss Sarratt's parents are Alexander Reed Sarratt of Brevard, N. C., formerly of Camden, and the late Mrs. Joncie Hutchison Sarratt. She was graduated from the Woman's college of the University of North Carolina where she was elected one of the eight outstanding seniors. She is a member of "Who's Who Among American Colleges and Universities", and was elected permanent president of her class. She is now a technical assistant in the engineering experiment station of Georgia School of Technology.

Mr. Cowan, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Cowan, was graduated from Tech high school, Atlanta, Ga. He attended Georgia Tech before entering the navy in which he served as lieutenant (j.g.) in the Pacific theater. He is now associated with Hurt and Quinn, Inc., insurance general agents, Atlanta.

Miss Sarratt formerly lived in Camden and graduated from Camden high school. Her father was owner and operator of the City Laundry and Camden Dry Cleanery.

West-Waters Wedding Of Interest Sunday, August 22

Quaint Bethesda Presbyterian church was the scene of a beautiful wedding Sunday afternoon, August 22, at 5 o'clock, when Miss Catherine Elizabeth West became the bride of William Thomas Waters.

The Rev. A. Douglas McArn, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony before a large assemblage of relatives and friends. For the occasion the church was effectively decorated with Southern amilax, masses of white gladioli and seven-branched candelabra holding white cathedral tapers.

Before the ceremony, Mrs. A. D. McArn, organist, rendered a program of nuptial music. She played "O Perfect Love", Barnby; "Meditation" from "Thais" by Massenet; "Because" by d'Hardelet and "To a Wild Rose" by McDowell.

The "Wedding March" from "Lohengrin" by Wagner was used for the processional and during the ceremony "Liebestraum" (Liszt) was played. Mendelssohn's March from "Midsummer Night's Dream" was used for the recessional.

The usher-groomsman wearing formal evening attire and boutonniere of white carnations were Joseph Christmas and Dargan Jennings of Camden, Russell Thompson of Charleston, brother-in-law of the bride, Alvo Stokes of Columbia, uncle of the bride, and Herman McCurry of Lake City.

Mrs. Herman McCurry of Lake City, aunt of the bride, and Miss Marjorie Waters, sister of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids. They wore Lapis blue nylon taffeta dinner gowns made with a modified sweetheart neckline, three-quarter length sleeves and torso-length boleros ending in extremely full skirts. They carried old-fashioned nosegays with matching flower hair ornaments.

Mrs. Russell E. Thompson, the former Laurie West, sister of the bride, of Charleston, was matron of honor and Miss Lina Kenney of Warrenton was maid of honor. They wore dresses identical to those worn by the other attendants and they carried nosegays of mixed flowers with matching hair ornaments.

Two cousins of the bride, Misses Carol and Addie Crolley of Lanca-ter were junior bridesmaids. They wore dresses similar to the other attendants, their dresses being in shell pink and they carried miniature nosegays.

The bride, a beautiful blonde, who entered with her brother, Raymond T. West, by whom she was given in marriage, was lovely in her wedding gown of white mousseline-de-soire with a deep lace trimmed yoke, fitted bodice, small satin buttons down the back and the long sleeves ended in callily points over the wrists. The full skirt extended into a train and the finger tip veil of bridal illusion fell from a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a brides bouquet of white tube roses, centered with a white orchid and showered with tiny satin streamers tied with lily-of-the-valley clusters.

Mrs. West, mother of the bride, was gowned in star-sapphire blue crepe and her flowers were Tallis-ma roses.

Mrs. Waters, the bridegroom's mother, wore a black crepe short dinner gown and a corsage of American Beauty rose buds.

Immediately following the ceremony the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Bryant E. Brannon, entertained at a reception at their home, 1308 Fair street.

The bridal couple was assisted in receiving by their mothers and the bridal party.

In the dining room the bride's table covered with an exquisite Italian cutwork cloth, was centered with the beautifully embossed triple-tiered wedding cake flanked by white tapers in silver holders. On either end of the table were low arrangements of white asters, gladioli and fern. Ivy and white candles decorated the living room mantel and quantities of white flowers were used throughout the house.

Punch bowls were presided over by Mrs. Raymond T. West, Misses Virginia and Doris Stokes and Betty Jane McCaskill.

During the evening the young couple left for their wedding trip to the Great Smoky mountains of Tennessee. For traveling the bride wore a Milanese green gabardine suit with black accessories and the white orchid from her wedding bouquet.

Mrs. Waters is the daughter of Mrs. Louis L. West (Marie Stokes) and the late Mr. West of Camden. She was graduated from Camden high school and attended Winthrop college. She is at present in the stenographic department of the FBI in Charlotte.

The bridegroom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Waters of Camden, finished in the Camden city schools and served with the armed forces in the navy during the last war. He is now attending Clemson college.

Among the out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Tarte, Lake City; Miss Silvid Kelly, Lake City; Mr. and Mrs. Herman McCurry, Lake City; Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Hunter, Hartsville; Miss Vicki Roberts, Charlotte; Miss Jean Hester, Charlotte; Miss Nancy Robins, Charlotte; Miss Fritz Buchanan, Charlotte; Miss Helen Kisen, Charlotte.

Also, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. West, Florence; Bill Graham, Columbia; Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Hughey, Columbia; Miss Kathleen Hughey, Columbia; Mrs. Beulah W. Clark, Miami Fla.; Mrs. Tom Shiver, Charlotte; Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Crolley, Lancaster; Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Thompson, Charleston, and Leroy Childers, Hamlet, N. C.
