Birth

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth P. Marsh announce the birth of a son, Kenneth Paul Marsh, Jr., born March 1, at the Camden hospital. The Marshes have a daughter, Patricia Ann, age 3. Mrs. Marsh is the former Martha Truesdale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Truesdale.

Party Is Given For Bride-Elect

Miss Sybil Sheffield, who will be married to Edwin Dabney on March 19, was honored with a kitchen shower Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. R. E. Watkins. The hostesses were Mrs. Watkins, Misses Mary Sheheen and Willie Mae Branham. The bride-elect's chair was marked with a camellia corsage. Arrangements of gladiolas and jonquils were used in the living room and dining room.

Several bridal contests were enjoyed, after which the gifts were opened by the bride elect. Many lovely and useful gifts were received.

A dessert course consisting of green vanilla ice cream in meringue shells, dipped bridal cakes embossed with a tiny white flower and green leaves, white cups tied with green ribbon filled with nuts, and Coca-Colas was served to the following guests: Misses Phyllis McLain, Rosalee Sheheen, Oletta Spears, Bernice Fields, Mrs. Johnnie Sheffield, Mrs. Charles Sheffield, Mrs. Arma Chardukian, Mrs. Max Rush, Mrs. Albert Reed, Mrs. Kay Pope, Mrs. Bruce Smith, Mrs. Jean Connell, Miss Ann Robinson, the honor guests, and the hostesses.

MANY SOCIAL EVENTS

As usual many social events are being planned for next week in connection with the Carolina Cup races.

Miss Barbara Reed Hunter and Floyd Carrol Reeser Married In Hartsville

Mrs. Floyd Carrol Reeser

(Hartsville Messenger)

Characterized by beauty and charming in detail, the wedding of Miss Barbara Reed Hunter of Hartsville and Floyd Carrol Reeser of Sumter took place Saturday evening, March 4 in the First Baptist church here at 8 o'clock. The Rev. Mack M. Goss, minister of the church and pastor of the bride, performed the double ring ceremony in the presence of many relatives and friends.

The choir loft and pulpit were decorated artistically with an arrangement of magnolia leaves, fern and floor buckets of white gladioli, and flanking the altar on both sides were burning cathedral candles in floor candelabra. Also, the balcony railing and each window had an attractive arrangement of burning tapers and greenery.

The wedding musicians were Mrs. M. L. Reynolds, organist; Mrs. Raymond Martin, soprano, and Bryan Blackwell, tenor. While the guests were assembling, Mrs. Reynolds gave a delightful program of nuptial music, and during the ceremony she played "Liebestraum." The two conventional marches, "Lohengrin's" Bridal Chorus and Mendelssohn's Wedding March, were used. Mrs. Martin sang "I Love Thee," and Mr. Blackwell sang "Because," and the Lord's Prayer. As a duet they sang together "The Sweetest Story Ever Told," and at the close of the benediction they also sang the three-fold "Amen." The usher-groomsmen were Messrs. Albert Reeser, brother of the bridegroom, of Sumter; James B. Redfern, brother-in-law of the bride; Craig Hurst, Carl Goodwin, Billy Howe and Paul Moore, all of Sumter.

Albert Eldon Reeser of Sumter served as his son's best man. The bridesmaids were: Miss Gladys Corp of Baldwinville, N. Y.; Mrs. Albert Reeser, Jr., of Sumter; Miss Marion Baldwin of Asheville; Misses Cassandra Manda, Meta King and Jackie Howle of Hartsville.

Mrs. James B. Redfern, Jr., was her sister's matron of honor and Miss Emaline Kennerly of Salley and Columbia was the maid of honor. Little Jeanne Howe of Sumter, cousin of the bride, and Jeffrey Truesdale of Hartsville was the adorable little ring bearer.

All the attendants wore identical dresses of blue net with strapless satin bodice, full skirts with double net and lace-edged pelum, wide satin panels down the back, and full net stole and matching mitts. They carried arm bouquets of red roses tied with harmonizing ribbons, and a single American Beauty rose was worn in the hair.

The bride, who entered on the arm of her father, wore a white nylon marquisette bridal gown over white satin fashioned with tight fitting bodice with flesh yoke of nylon net and trimmed with iridescent sequins and seed pearls done in a rose pattern. The full skirt was made over a bustle and ended in a cathedral train. A string of pearls, gift of the bridegroom, completed her costume. Her bridal bouquet was of white roses centered with a purple-throated orchid, and her veil was caught to a coronet of bugle beads and pearls.

Mrs. Hunter, mother of the bride, was attired in a toast-colored lace gown over marquisette, and she wore an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Elliott of Camden, grandmother of the bride, wore a black lace dress and an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Reeser, mother of the bridegroom, wore a pink marquisette and lace gown and an orchid corsage.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis John Hunter of Hartsville, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Eldon Reeser of Sumter.

Mrs. Hunter, mother of the bride, before her marriage, was Miss Harriet Reed Elliott of Camden, and Mrs. Reeser, mother of the bridegroom, before her marriage, was Miss Cherry Lou Howe of Charleston.

During the evening the bridal couple left for a wedding trip to Rock Island, Ill.

For traveling the bride wore a most becoming rose colored, wool gabardine suit with navy accessories and an orchid corsage.

After a wedding trip the young couple will live in Sumter where the bridegroom is associated with his father in business.

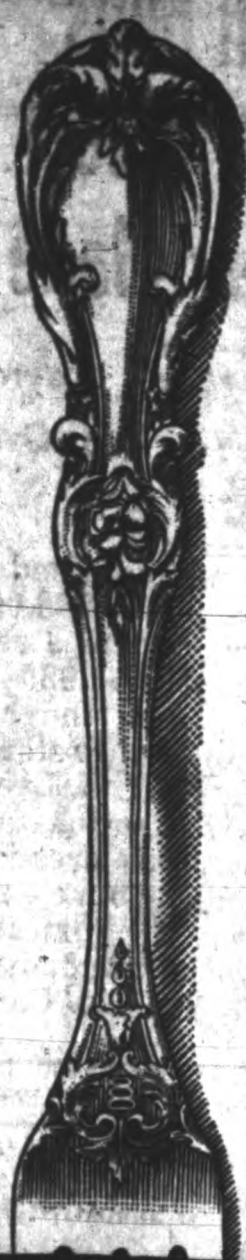

The wedding at the church was followed by a reception given by the bride's parents at Prestwood Country Club. A color note of bridal white and green prevailed. The bride's table was covered with a linen Maderia tablecloth and centered with a silver bowl filled with white tulips. At one end of the table was the handsome three-tiered wedding cake topped with a wedding bell.

Among those who received were the following friends: Mr. and Mrs. Hal Manda, Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Martin, Mrs. P. L. McCall, Mrs. Curtis Baldwin of Asheville and Dr. and Mrs. Julian Harper, Miss Charlotte Howe of Sumter, Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Clark bade the guests goodbye.

The register was kept by Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Redfern, Sr.

Out-of-town guests, in addition to those in the wedding, were: C. H. Andrews, Mrs. D. M. Howe, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Moore, Welbourne White, Carol Goodwin, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Reeser, Mr. and Mrs. John Marshall, all of Sumter; Claude West, Jr., Mrs. H. H. Durant of Columbia; Miss Betty Calahan of Columbia; A. J. Hunter, Bethune; Mrs. Bernice (Continued on Page 7)
