

The Barnwell People.

JNO. W. HOLMES, Editor & Prop.
LARGEST COUNTY CIRCULATION.

THURSDAY, MAY 12, 1904.

Who will be nominated for President by the Democratic National Convention to meet at St. Louis?
The friends of Judge Parker, Editor Hearst and Senator Gorman are all hard at work and equally hopeful, but at this distance it looks like a probable dead lock with a dark horse the winner.

President Roosevelt must be suffering greatly these lengthening days, for by command of his political managers his tongue cleaves to the roof of his mouth in silence. Should he be elected President next November that unruly member will be worked overtime to make up for his present penitence.

Daniel J. Saffa, the great cotton bull, was declared bankrupt last week. He was worth half a dozen millions two months ago, but he gambled once too much. Had he held off until now he could, in copartnership with the present weather clerk, have lifted the price of cotton close to the quarter dollar mark.

DUTY AND DANGER.
In the twenty years that have passed since our registration laws went into effect the Republicans in Congress have twisted the Representatives from South Carolina about the small vote they received as compared with the totals cast beyond Mason and Dixon's line, where all sorts and conditions of men vote early and some of them often.

These twaddlings require the defense of our election laws by our Representatives, and the comparatively small votes they receive furnish a popular campaign argument to our political enemies in favor of the reduction of Southern membership in the House of Representatives.

Therefore, to strengthen the cause of the Democracy, national and state, every South Carolina democrat should count it a public duty to cast his ballot in every election. That will not only help our party in Congress and in the North generally, but it will be a compliment and a common I appreciated by such Congressman, and will add to his energy and effectiveness.

So, on next Tuesday, the 17th inst., let us give Theodore G. Croft, the Democratic nominee, as full a vote as possible.

Again, there is a danger in supineness that may sometime lead to disaster. If democrats lose interest after the primary campaigns are over the republicans might slip in a candidate of their own and either win at the polls or give the partisan republicans in Congress some excuse to turn out the elected democrat and seat in his stead one of their own stripe and color.

CONCERNING PREACHERS.
We note in our exchanges from time to time an increasing number of items like the following: Rev. Soandso has tendered his resignation as pastor of this and that church and accepted a call to a new field of work.

Thoughtless and unknowing people are ready to charge those changes to the combined attractions and advantages of larger salaries and smoother communities. In the majority of cases that is, we think, a wrong conclusion. The conscientious pastor who has given all his thought and time to the sowing of the gospel truths without reaping the harvest prayed and labored and labored for is apt to become chilled by the indifference of the souls under his care as shepherd, and to conclude that he has done all the good within his power and that duty calls him to make room for some one who may be more fortunate. And so he goes any where, sad and discouraged.

And that reminds us of one of the best men that ever lived in Barnwell county, only a few years ago called to his reward above. He had been trained in God's own school, the field and the orchard and workshop. His life was even and he went through the years without straying from the narrow path. All that knew him had abiding confidence in his purity and goodness. For many years he had been pastor of a country church, marrying the young, burying the dead, comforting the sorrowing and lifting all who came within touch of his goodness. Yet the church did not grow in membership and he felt that he must tear his heart strings from the people he had loved and labored among so long.

What the South Most Needs.

A Chance for our Congressmen.

Philosopher Points Way to Progress.
Entered The People. I have been interested to read in the columns of your excellent paper the many words of praise of the several candidates for the unexpired term in Congress from your District, and the occasional pledges, on the one hand, and inquiries as to the candidates stand on certain questions, on the other hand. It was a matter of some surprise to me that, during the hot contest before the primaries, and the number of candidates entered, nothing whatever was said on the subject of the establishment of a "parcel post" that meant something.

Of all things in the way of legislation that interpose to hurt the development of the South there is none so important as the refusal of the Congress to do something in that direction. Indeed, I doubt if all the other failures of Congress combined constitute such a barrier to our progress down there as the absence of a genuine parcel post.

The South is retarded fearfully in its march of progress by the prohibitive freight rates charged on all its merchandise, making it impossible for its products to sell wares at anywhere near the prices charged in the North. At best it will be many years before this condition changes before the necessary changes before the freight is overcome by development; and you may bet you boots this even after the actual necessity disappears the railroad people will cling to the habit of excessive charges as long as they are let. The remedy, at hand, if our Congressmen will do their duty, is offered in a parcel post modeled on the European plan.

We have a miserable makeshift excuse for the parcel post, which is prohibitive in two ways: first in the high rate of 16 cents a pound; second, in the weight limit of four (4) pounds. The enormous rate is appreciated when one is informed that it amounts to something like six thousand (6000%) per cent greater than the German rate. If we should undertake to do the work as cheaply as our German and English friends do it is admitted that it would be a losing business; but we ought to get along by charging 100-200 per cent more than they do. If that charge was one cent a pound, that would be a good many hundred per cent higher than our European neighbors, and at the same time it would be only slightly higher than the rate now in effect in the country, and would be profitable to the Government. With such a rate your merchants would make rapid forward strides, and the consumer get supplies at prices much below those he is compelled to pay now. A merchant in Barnwell would then be in position to supply anything to local customers that could be had anywhere in the country, and to give a fair even a very small part of what the merchant would like to offer his trade he must carry an enormous stock.

I shall leave this subject here at present in the hope that your readers will take it up and be prepared to follow it in succeeding letters. It is a question that intimately concerns every man, woman and child in the country; every merchant, manufacturer, lawyer and doctor; and, without unfavorably affecting the large dealers in cities, it would enable the country merchants to do an extensive business on very small capital.

A CHRISTIAN CAMPAIGN.

The six missionary rallies held under the auspices of the Executive Committee of the Barnwell Baptist Association, were great successes from beginning to end. The first, held at Hunter's Chapel, was well attended and the arrangements complete. St. Johns always does her part and on this occasion did it well. Bethel is to be congratulated. The writer knows of no place that has made the advancement that this church has within the past few years, morally, socially and religiously. It gave a fine concert, a banquet and a sumptuous dinner. Pastor Base is to be congratulated that he works with such a people. During these three meetings the congregations met Dr. Henry Miller of Aiken and his devoted saintly wife; the veteran Dr. Harvey Hatcher, with pastors Jones, Lawson, Peoples, Hair and Bass. The Barnwell, Moore and Britton were unavoidably absent.

On the second week meetings were held at Mt. Calvary, Joyce Branch and Old Mt. Calvary. Tuesday, turned out in force. It did us all good to meet those good people with their venerable pastor, Peacock. It is useless to say they did their part well and we think fully entered into the spirit of the meeting. There was a fine crowd that met the travelers at Joyce Branch, who with their "Georgia cracker" pastor, Bro. Glover, showed their appreciation of the meeting by not only turning out in force, but by doing all they could to make visitors feel at home. The last meeting of the series was held at Olar. Bro. Sandifer has led the good people of Olar into a greater appreciation of the opportunities before them than we imagined possible; great credit to them and to him. We noticed that the greatest number of working farmers turned out; they left their fields and came out; and we trust were blessed. The hospitality was unsurpassed. The brethren who met those congregations were: Dr. Harvey Hatcher, Dr. W. W. Sanders, Jones, Moore, Britton, Bass, Glover, Sandifer, Johnson, Tate and Peacock. Too much cannot be said about the carrying out of plans suggested by the Executive Committee by Bro. Jones, who, as chairman, presided at meetings not as "Boss" but as "servant of all." The programme was well worked out, emphasizing "Woman's Work," "Sunday Schools" and "Missions." Many meetings had the desired effect in increased interest and contributions for these objects. Bro. Jones said that the collections nearly, if not quite, paid expenses of campaign.

We hope to have the pleasure of looking into the venerable face of Dr. Hatcher at Rosemary in October. A good way to show our increased interest will be to put our State Board out of its present difficulties; a good collection from each church will do it. Dr. Batty will visit and our poorly paid missionaries will get their past due salaries. Brethren do it now.

WE TOLD YOU SO.

Republican prosperity continues. Business failures in the United States during April numbered 1,013, with liabilities amounting to $18,136,688, an increase of 25 per cent over the disasters of April, 1903.

THE EASTERN WAR.

Later reports say the Japanese had four times as many men as the Russians in the battle of Kiu Lien Cheng on the Yalu River. The Russian commander fought against orders of superior officers. He lost nearly 3,000 men in killed, prisoners and wounded and forty odd cannon. Japanese losses were 1,000 by the Russians. The Russians continued retreating last week. Japanese in large numbers landed on the peninsula South of Port Arthur, the Russian stronghold seized the railroad and cut the city off from land communication. Japanese claim to have sunk several stone-laden steamers in the channel thereby cutting off Port Arthur. Russians deny it, say the city is impregnable and can stand a year's siege. They will communicate with it by wireless telegraph and carrier pigeons.

PROTECTS THE SYSTEM AGAINST CATARRH.

Hymel Prevents Colds and Cures Grip and Catarrh. Money Back If It Fails.
"An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." A few breaths of Hymel through the neat pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit will check a cold or the grip at the start, and prevent serious and lasting illness. In all catarrhal troubles and diseases of the air passages, Hymel has a positive action not possessed by any other medicine or treatment. It is pleasant and convenient to use; simply put 20 drops of Hymel in the inhaler and breathe a few minutes, four times a day. In this way, every particle of air that enters the lungs is charged with a healing balsam that kills all catarrhal germs, soothes and relieves the irritated mucous membrane, vitalizes the blood with ozone, and makes a permanent and complete cure. A Hymel-outfit costs only 25 cents and contains an inhaler, medicine dropper and bottle of Hymel. The inhaler acts as a life-line, and when more Hymel is needed, extra bottles can be obtained for 50c.

J. C. Crech gives his personal guarantee with every Hymel outfit he sells to refund the money if it does not cure. Crop reports show an eight per cent increase in cotton acreage in this State, but the stand reduction may overbalance that.

He moved to Augusta in 1875, served in the Legislature, was district attorney under Cleveland and a year ago, was elected Judge of the Superior Court. His wife and three children survive.

Cloud bursts in Texas last week did more harm to crops than dry weather and winds in South Carolina.

Henry County's crickets are getting bushels of money in payment for strawberries. Up to date about 30 car loads have been sent North.
They have a way of setting law suits in Texas that would be well to only in this country. When a dispute arises over the ownership of land two holes are dug near together and the two opposing lawyers nicely planted up to their waists. The first one to become bitten by a bug of become so exhausted that he has to be exhausted away with emergency salting, and add an interesting element of chance to the game.

CLIMATE CURES.

The influence of climatic conditions in the cure of consumption is very much overrated. The poor patient and the rich patient, no matter how much better at home by proper attention to food digestion, and a regular use of German Syrup. Free expectation in the morning is made certain by German Syrup, so is a good night's rest and the absence of that weakening cough and debilitating night sweat, restlessness and the exhaustion due to coughing, the greatest danger and dread of the consumptive, can be prevented or stopped by taking German Syrup liberally and regularly. Should you be able to go to a warmer climate, you will find that of the thousands of consumptives there the few who are benefited and regain strength are those who use German Syrup.
