ORANGEBURG COLLEGIATE IN-STITUTE.

Parents who expect to patronize boarding schools this next session are now deciding where to send their sons and daughters. Before deciding, you should write for a catalogue of The Orangeburg Collegiate Institute. It is one of the best schools and best equipped schools in lower South Carolina, and has a faculty second to no other chool in this section. The school is located in one of the healthiest towns in the State. It has one of the best music departments in the State. Over one hundred students have sent in applications. Write to President W. S. Peterson for a catalogue, terms &c. He can certainly interest you, and if you send your boys and girls to him they will be n good hands.

work so far is progressing nicely. The first bale of the new crop of coton gioned by Jenny & Loadholt was brought in by Mr. J. H. Williams, and was sold to J. W. Jenny & Co., for 10 ets. This bale was just ten days earlier than the first ginned by the company last year.

WITHIN RICH LAND'S GATES. The Educational Rally at Rich Land Academy, formerly Pierce's Chapel Church; on Thursday last was attended by some three hundred good men, better women and medal deserving young folks. Each visitor expected the best day of the year and not one went away disappointed. For Rich Land hospitality is of the highest qual ity, an inheritance from the honored past and as natural as breathing.

The committee on arrangements con sisted of those live, successful business men, P. B. Dicks, L. W. Hill and F II. Dicks, who were tireless in their ef forts to crowd the day with happiness, and the good housewives of the com munity lightened their labors by their fine tact and perfect courtesy.

Dr. M. A. Turner presided over the peech making, which was far more sensible and eloquent than that which rings out in the State House. At 1 'clock Prof. B. M. Darlington was in troduced and delivered one of his characteristically bright and heipful addresses and was followed worthily by Rev. J. Howard Carpenter of Augusta.

An intermission of two hours was given, during which a glorious feast of substantials and delicactes was enjoyed, the menu reminding all of the generous abundance of the old times and the culivary excellence of the latter days. Yeur scribe has not language to describe the tooth someness of the good things so lavishly provided, and hardty expects in all his future life to se another equal day, unless Rich Land invites another future gathering.

After dinner speaking is generally difficult, but following the recess Cols J. E. Harley, G. H. Bates and C. C. Simms proved that there are exceptions to the rule and gave the perfect after-glow to the programme of this true red letter day. . The good people of this fair Rich

CREECH'S PHARMACY, LIBBEY'S CUT GLASS.

LIBBEY'S CUT GLASS, if it's LIBBEY, it has the name etched in the glass so it can be seen and read plainly. So many people pay for what they think is Cut Glass, but afterwards find that they have paid cut glass prices for only a cheap imitation. This fraud of selling cheap imitations or "something just as good" has been practiced to such an extent that the question always arises, "is it really CUT GLASS?" You have heard the question asked yourself, then if LIBBEY'S name can be found on the piece of glass the question is settled and the answer comes back, "yes, there is LIBBEY, it's the real thing," and the pretitest and finest article that can be turned out by any manufacturer.

We are proud of the fact that we represent LIBBEY'S cut glass in this county. The price is no higher than that which you would have to payfor an article which you could not tell whether it was cut glass or an imitation. So why be in doubt? IABBEY'S costs no more than the imitation. Besides we would simply like you to see LIBBEY'S cut glass beside the other brands. If LIBBEY'S don't make the others look like about 30 cents, why there is no comparison, absolutely none. You might just as well try to compare a perfect two carat diamond to a piece of quarts. See our line, very suitable for Christmas and WEDDING presents.

SILVER WARE.

The Brand of our Sterling Silver Ware is "Whiting."

WIII'TING means as much in sterling silver ware as Libbey does in WHITING means as much in sterling silver ware as Libbey does in cut glass. If its Whiting's its all right—its the best. People are so suspicious these days, they always want to know if a thing is genuine—if its a good brand. It is so easy for a manufacturer to simply plate goods and sell them for as much as if they were solid silver. If the piece of silver has WHITING stamped on it everybody knows that it is the real stuff—no fraud about it. We carry a full line of WHITING'S STER—LING SILVER WARE—just the thing for Christman and WEDDING PRESENTS. A few of the articles we carry:—Table Knives, Forks, Spoons, Butter Knives, Carving Sets, Ladles etc.

CREECH'S PHARMACY.
