SIMMS-COLE.

One of the most brilliant social fund tions of the year 1905 was the mar-riage of Miss Zaidee Aldrich Simms and Mr. Robert Boyd Cole in the Church of the Holy Apostles on last Thorsday evening at 6.30 o'clock; Rev. S. Cary Beckwith, Rector, performing Promptly at the appointed hour the large choir, led by Mrs. S. B. Moseley, sang Lohengrin's Bridal Chorns, during which the bridal party entered in the following order: Ushers, Messrs W. G. Simms, Jr., and Ladson Fish-burne of Allendale; Dame of Honor, Mrs. J. O. Patterson, Jr, wearing a costume of pale green grenadine over green silk, trimmed in cream lace and applique and green hat to match, car rying a shower bouquet of pink carnations and asparagus ferns; Brides maid, Miss Elizabeth Waddell of Greenville, wearing a pretty gown of pale green mouseline over green silk, earrying plak carnations and ferns, with Mr. Herman Bradham of Man ning, groomsman; Maid of Honor, Miss Agnes Tobin of Allendale, dainti-ly attired in green louisine with hat to match, carrying La France roses and asparagus ferns; the bride entered on the arm of her father, Hon. W. Gilmore Simms, and she was beautifully gowned in white silk, trimmings of real lare, diamond ornaments. She wore a lovely hat of white with white ostrich tips, carrying bride's roses; being met at the foot of the chancel by the groom and his best man. Mr Keitt McMaster of Winnsboro. During the beautiful and solemn ceremony Mrs. S. B. Moseley sang softly and sweetly Shubert's Serenade; after which the party retired to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, Miss Jennie Lou Bates at the organ.

CREECH'S PHARMACY, LIBBEY'S CUT GLASS.

LIBBRY'S CUT GLASS, If it's LIBBRY, it has the name etched in the glass LIBBEY'S CUT GLASS, if it's LIBBEY, it has the name etched in the glass so it can be seen and read plainly. So many people pay for what they think is Cut Glass, but afterwards find that they have paid cut glass prices for only a cheap imitation. This fraud of selling cheap imitations or "something just as good" has been practiced to such an extent that the question always arises, "is it really CUT GLASS?" You have heard the question asked yourself, then if LIBBEY'S name can be found on the piece of glass the question is settled and the answer comes back, "yes, there is LIBBEY, it's the real thing," and the prettiest and finestarticle that can be turned out by any manufacturef.

We are proud of the fact that we represent LIBBEY'S cut glass in this county. The price is no higher than that which you would have to pay for an article which you could not tell whether it was cut glass or an imitation. So why be in doubt? LIBBEY'S costs no more than the imitation. Besides we would simply like you to see LIBBEY'S cut glass beside the other brands. If LIB-simply like you to see LIBBEY'S cut glass beside the other brands. If LIB-BEY'S don't make the others look like about 30 cents, why there is no comparison, absolutely none. You might just as well try to compare a perfect two carst dismond to a piece of quartz. See our line, very autable for Christmas and WEDDING presents.

SILVER WARE.

The Brand of our Sterling Silver Ware is "Whiting."

WHITING means as much in sterling silver ware as Libbey does in cut glass. If its Whiting's its all right—its the best. People are so suspicious these days, they always want to know if a thing is genuine—if its a good brand. It is so easy for a manufacturer to simply plate goods and sell them for as much as if they were solid silver. If the piece of silver has WHITING stamped on it everybody knows that it is the real stuff-no fraud about it We carry a full line of WHITING'S STER-LING SILVER WARE—just the thing for Christmas and WEDDING PRESENTS. A few of the articles we carry:-Table Knives, Forks, Spoous, Butter Knives, Carving Sets, Ladles etc.
