The synodical's happiest half hour last week was enjoyed in a chat with Mr. J. I. Hutto of Georgia Creek.

Mrs. H. J. Crouch of Eiko, always a welcome visitor to Barnwell, was the guest of Mrs. John K. Snelling on Friday.

See advertisement of election at top of special two mill tax for road improvement in Williston Township.

Senator Bates went to Columbia Monday to attend a meeting of the Joint Legislative Committee appointed to investigate the State Hospital for the Insane.

Correspondents, far and near, have sent us this week twice as much copy as we can handle. So we have culled the items and articles of most interest to the public.

Mrs. Mary Ann Cradlock, widow of the late Mr. J. J. Cradlock, died on Monday at her home in Great Cypress Township and was buried on Tuesday at Allen's Chapel.

Sunday's rain was a blessed one coming at the right time, in the right way and quantity. Gardens and the grain crops are laughing with joy and General Green is coming everywhere.

The last Northern mail before going to press brought us an invitation to the marriage at Union on the 11th prox. of Rev. Simon P. Hair and Miss Adelaide Josephine daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sanders.

Governor Ansel has reappointed Dr. W. M. Jones of Williston and Prof. R. Boyd Cole of Barnwell members of the County Board of Education.

Hon. S. G. Mayfield of Denmark and Prof. J. H. A. Carter of Eberhardt were also appointed on the Bamberg County Board.

The fire fund paid Ellenton a visit on the night of the 29th inst. that cost $10,000. The fire started in the large livery and sale stable of Mr. L. D. Beahm, worth $5,000 and insured for $2,250. Three cottages of four each, owned by Mr. H. M. Cassels and occupied by Messrs. J. H. Cromer, A. R. Sheroa and B. F. McDaniel were also destroyed.

Farmer Alfred Aldrich has left with us a tie of rye hay of second growth, which was cut on April 10th, and which he has found to be a "noble food" for horses, cattle and hogs. His first cutting for hay was made late in January. If there be any doubting Thomas as to the excellent value of this stock food, let him come to this sanctum and be convinced and converted by his own eyesight from the error of his old way.

The stockholders of the Bank of Barnwell met on Tuesday and re-elected the present officers.

The proposition to combine with the Banks of Aiken and Graniteville under the name of the Bank of Western Carolina was unanimously adopted and will probably go into effect in the Fall.

The only change will be in name, while the advantages will be in four fold: the capital and resources of our local Bank. The capital of the Bank of Western Carolina will be a half million dollars and its resources a whole million.

These features will give to all depositors and patrons of the Bank larger facilities and, if possible, even greater confidence than it has enjoyed under the management of its most competent and irreproachable management.

While there will be a general Board of Directors of the Bank of Barnwell, it will have ample and efficient representation.

The Sultan of Turkey, the third oldest ruler in Europe, was deposed on Tuesday and the sultan job given to his brother.

Aiken county prohibitionists are preparing to march against the North Augusta Dispensary. Five hundred of them have called an immense mass meeting at Aiken for next Monday.

ON MAY 28.

The meeting of the Society Teachers' Association which was to be held here on next Saturday has been postponed until the second Saturday in May. The change was made to avoid conflict with several school picnics to be given on May 1st.

JENNY NEWS.

Endowment Lodge, Knights of Pythias, at the regular meeting on Thursday night elected, Mr. W. H. Mitey and Dr. O. W. L. Leadbetter delegates to the Grand Lodge, which convenes in Charleston the fourth Tuesday in May. Messrs J. D. Jenney and R. E. Platts were elected alternates.
Capt. J. W. Jenney, was elected Deputy Grand Chancellor.

FROM THE CLOUD.

During the storm weather of the 29th a bolt of lightning struck Jimmy Ray, a colored boy, on the spur Branch plantation of Mr. B. F. Peoples, tearing his cap into atoms, burning the hair on one side of his head, running down his body, burning a toe, then following a cotton tie and killing a fatchick in his kitchen. The boy was unconscious for several hours, but finally came to his senses and is all right.

THE NEW CROSSING.

The County Board of Commissioners finding that the land owners from Black's Store in Williston Township to the Edisto have complied with the requirements of the Act providing for another road over the Edisto have ordered the work done by the chain gang. Two or three weeks will be required to do the grading on this site. The Orangeburg work, from Springfield to the river will be a heavier undertaking, as the most of the swamp is north of the river. Orangeburg folks will grade and open their side.

AT MOUNT ARNON.

The third Annual Memorial Service on Friday attracted a larger attendance and gave more happier pleasure than former observances.

Of the many good works of the well and deservedly beloved Pastor, Rev. M. M. Benson, none outside of pulpit ministrations, has been more helpful in heart, more uplifting in spirit and purpose.

A wealth of lovely fragrant flowers was gently laid by tender hands upon the last narrow homes of the unforgetten dead.

The addresses of Revs. S. P. Hair on World Wide Missions, of Col. W. W. Lumpkin on Memorial, and Rev. Mr. Wright of Wagener on Prohibition were all equally creditable to their wise heads and good hearts, while the first picnic dinner of the year was a most excellent and un surpassed in recollection and that will not be eclipsed all this decade.

FAIRFAX NEWS.

We are all working together now, for the good and prosperity of our town. We had invited the young folks of Olar and neighborhood to repeat a play here which they had carried out very successfully elsewhere. Soon Friday our town was invaded by as fair a crowd of ten girls (ten gallant and graceful as ever reached her hospitable domain. A large audience greeted them in the evening in the new school house, and they surely must have felt repaid for the trouble they had taken in rehearsal.

When they were so enthusiastically applauded. The play was called "Miss Fearless & Co." in 3 acts the chief actors being Misses Ethel Kearse, Moll Kearse, Misses Bredland, Brabham and Chitty. While all did real well the Misses Kearse excellently. Miss Bredland as the nervous old maid, and the actor sisters were unsurpassed. Come again, all of you! Fairfax certainly appreciates your efforts to aid in finishing the school house, we are near enough to see you often, so

COME AGAIN.

BARNWELL WILL NOT FAIL.

TO CO-WORKERS:

We have raised to date and have on hand to the credit of the Ladies Monument Fund under the call issued by me, $55.50. I also see by The State that there has been forwarded to that fund the sum of $56 which will make a total for Barnwell county of $111.50.
Now I want Barnwell County to do her whole duty independent of outside solicitation. We are taking a list of every one that makes a contribution to the fund and when the amount is raised we will mail the entire list of contributors published in the county papers.
I am writing to each one of the committeemen this week a personal letter.
Get busy and let us do our part in the next four weeks, or by the first day of June.
I am satisfied that my appeal to you will not be in vain, and that the people of Barnwell county are patriotic and will respond at once to an appeal so near the hearts of every citizen of the brave old county.
Expecting to hear from you within the next thirty days, WITH RESULTS.
I am fraternally yours,
Frank H. Creech

ANOTHER IMMIGRANT.

And a good one to date is Miss Alfalfa, brought here by that live, leaping and bounding young farmer, Mr. Arthur M. Sanders. Whether the sweet new comer will survive the summer heats and the rivalry of native weeds remains to be seen.
Last summer after learning by reading farm periodicals and correspondence with experts of experience all about the soil fertilizers and treatment suited to the growth of Alfalfa Mr. Sanders put about a half acre in apple pie order for the experiment. The seed were sown in the early Fall and a perfect stand obtained. Just after the little blizzard the end of January he had the grass clipped and the plot cross harrowed, an operation never before risked by any Alfalfa grower. It worked well and a month later he made the first cutting, getting a half ton of first class hay from the half acre patch. The goodness of the hay is shown by the preference of his stock for it over succulent growing rye, and while he is not using it as a steady food he is cattle and work stock are stealing it every chance they get. He expects to have several more better cuttings this year, the number and quality depending on the season. He is now preparing an additional plot for next Fall sowing, provided the crop comes out as well as its own promise.
If the Alfalfa can stand our summer it will make good hay for several years.

Now that Columbia is doing some thing for her militia companies almost every town in the state that has a company is doing more or less for it. The state is not in a position to do nearly all that is necessary for the militia, and the cities that want the protection of such an organization ought to bear their part. It is fair that they should. The militia are for the suppression of riots and the protection of property and life, in times of excitement, which thank heaven, do not occur frequently, but in no case has the militia been called on and failed to justify its support by its faithful work.—Florence Times.

"There will be no summer school anywhere in South Carolina this year, except at Wofford College. Work done at Wofford College will receive the same recognition that was formerly given to work in the State Summer school.

Teachers whose certificates will expire this year might take advantage of this examination or of the summer school at Wofford to secure renewal of their certificates. The law is plain on this point, and a little precaution now may prevent much annoyance later.
