REPORT TO CONGRESS

General Wood Confirms Startling Details—He, in an Examination Before House Committee, Points Out Nation's Weakness—Hobson Proposes National Defense Council.

A sensational report from the war department showing that the country is inadequately protected against invasion from foreign governments was submitted to the house Wednesday as a special document and after a number of conferences and hurried telephone messages, was referred to the war department on the ground that the house could not receive a secret report.

Members who saw the document before it was revealed say it is a report of J. M. Dickenson, secretary of war, and that it is a warning that the country is at the mercy of any foreign enemy. PUTS BULLET IN HEAD

WHEN HE IS CORNERED BY POSSE OF FARMERS.

A Daring Bank Robber Takes His Own Life When Escape Is Impossible.

Earl Ward, 30 years of age, who this morning robbed the State Bank of Paradise, Kan., securing $2,500, killed himself when surrounded by a posse of farmers, fourteen miles north of that place, late today.

Ward's suicide was a climax to one of the most sensational robberies committed in Kansas in recent years. He made a hard ride for liberty but a posse of farmers surrounded him at sundown. Then he turned the gun he had bought earlier in the day upon himself and sent a bullet through his brain.

After the safe had been opened by the cashier at Ward's direction, the five men were marched into a room and forced to lie on the floor. The posse then tied and gagged them with gunny sacks.

After taking the $2,500 from the vault, Ward walked to a hardware store, purchasing a rifle and a large number of cartridges and making his escape as rapidly as possible. In a short time the posse in the bank was dispersed and released. A posse quickly formed and started in pursuit.

A Rearrangement of Congressional Districts Will Be Made.

NEW CENSUS FIGURES

If Congress Increases the Basis of Representation, As Is Very Likely, Changes of Districts in This State Will Cut Off One of Our Congressmen.

When the General Assembly at its 221st session next, in accordance with the State Constitution, reports on the membership of the House of Representatives, along the lines of a bill which on the basis of the 1910 census, it depends upon whether Congress at the present session issues a reapportionment bill to amend the reapportionment of the Congressional districts will be made. It is not necessarily true that the State will necessarily be reduced before the election of 1912.

Gas Explosion in a Virginia Coal Mine Entombs Many Workmen.

TWELVE WERE KILLED

Greeno Mine, on Norfolk and Western Railway, Scene of Horrible Disaster—Report of Explosion Heard Miles Around—Rescue Party Enters Shaft and Bodies Recovered.

As a result of an explosion in the mines of the Bond Coal Company, at Greeno, six miles east of Norton, Va., Wednesday morning, twelve men have lost their lives. Thirteen were in the mines at the time of the explosion and only two escaped, one of whom died shortly after being taken out.

On account of atmosphere and other conditions the rescue work had to be stopped after nine bodies had been recovered and the other two bodies will not be brought out before morning. The dead were identified as follows:

James Barrowman, superintendent; William Ritchie, mine foreman; Lee Rowland, Charles Williams, Jesse Ritchie, Charles Whitaker, John Rodan, Arch Leslie and John Ritchie.

The last named and Charles Roenbaum were rescued alive, but Ritchie succumbed to his injuries. The explosion came without a moment's warning, and it is believed to have been caused by an accumulation of gas set off by "blowing" coal. The air shaft was thought to be in good condition and nothing of the kind was expected. The same mine, however, had a similar explosion three years ago, in which six men were killed.

As soon as the news of the explosion had spread to other nearby mining operations, of which there are a number in the vicinity, rescue parties were formed and conveyed to the scene by special trains and private conveyances, but nothing could be done, except bring out the dead bodies. Only slight damage was done to the mine.
