HERE AND HEREBOUTS.
Teachers Examination tomorrow.
Mr. Thomas Sanders sold on Thursday two bales of 1910 cotton at 15 1/2.

Fresh wood ashes sprinkled over cabbage and collard plants will kill them of worms.

The date for the delivery of the speech of Gen. U. R. Brooks at Fairfax has been changed to June 15th.

The out crop is not up to expectation this season. Fall crops will be better, good, but spring crops are very disappointing.

Subscribers J. H. Spradley, T. J. Grubbs, C. L. Woods and L. P. Williams made Saturday a picnic day. THE PEOPLE.

Gardener O. H. Bell Sr. reports first potato blooms a month from the day of planting, and young potatoes as large as hickory nuts.

The Shade Grove School will close with a picnic Wednesday. The public is cordially invited to come and bring baskets.

English sparrows are getting more popular in town. They are keeping cabbage free from worms and getting fat in the work.

Rev. J. W. Blanton of Orangeburg is spending this week with old time Rosemary friends, to his health benefit and their great pleasure.

Mr. T. J. Brooker, formerly of Williston, recently of Atlanta and now of Memphis, writes with pleasant impressions of the Tennessee city.

Rev. A. E. Evison and Mr. H. W. Montague are delegates from this county to the 121st session of the Episcopal Council now being held in Yorkville.

Friday's fair was most acceptable. Even if it did mar the enjoyment of the annual memorial services at Rivers Bridge and deny a sight of the eclipse of the sun.

Prof. W. H. Hand says that the new Elko school building is the best in Barnwell County. It contains four class rooms on the ground floor and an excellent auditorium up stairs.

Mr. Edward E. Stoner, Secretary and Treasurer of the Southern States Lumber Company of Dunbarton, was a pleasant visitor to the section on Wednesday's busy day. He has an advertisement of interest and information in today's People.

Governor Blaise on Thursday pardoned during good behavior Hymanie Williams, colored, who killed Frank Boyd, game warden, and who was tried last year, found guilty of manslaughter and sentenced by Judge Meminger to two years.

Butcher Still had on sale Friday a beef that proved Barnwell County as good a cattle raising section as it was in old before cotton days. It weighed 127 pounds to the quarter, was of Holstein strain and was raised by Mr. Roster of the Southside.

Friday, despite the rain, was a great day at Hercules School during exercises. Fine speeches were made by President W. S. Peterson of Orangeburg, Attorney George H. Bates, and Chas. Carroll Nimms and President H. D. Calhoun of Barnwell.

Mr. J. R. Harrison proposes to make in the near future a roof garden over his block at the corner of East Main and Middle streets. His plans are carried out that will be one feature which Barnwell will be miles ahead of any other town in the State.

Plans for the new Coast Line passenger depot at Barnwell have been approved. The present depot building will be used for freight purposes. The new passenger depot for the Southern Railway will be commenced as soon as a satisfactory site has been secured.

The annual sermon before Dunbarton Lodge, Knights of Pythias, was preached on Sunday by Rev. J. K. Goode. The congregation was the largest that has worshipped in Cypress Chapel in a long time, and all were charmed and uplifted with the admirable manner and matter of the discourse, so eloquent in its portrayal of the principles that govern and the purposes that ennoble true Pythianism.

Mr. W. W. Gilmore and family have returned to Richmond, Va., after a very pleasant visit to Mrs. Gilmore's sister, Mrs. H. L. O'Bannon.

That the Hon. J. O. Patterson's health is so much improved that he was able to enjoy his business trip to the coast is a source of gratification to his friends.

Members of the Union Meeting of Dr. W. M. Jones on Saturday and Rev. B. F. Allen on Sunday will be long and gratefully remembered by the congregations that listened with so much pleasure and profit to the wise and eloquent messages of those consecrated ministers.

Rev. A. E. Evison was prevented from attending the meeting of the Diocesan Council at Yorkville by a call to officiate at the funeral of the late Mrs. A. M. Martin of Hampton County, a former parishioner. Mr. Evison will spend a day or two visiting friends on the Savannah River.

Several Barnwell gardeners have found cedar tea a sure killing cure for potato bugs. The berry bearing cedar limbs should be boiled until a strong tea is made, which should be allowed to cool perfectly before sprinkled on the plants. One reports his plants killed by the tea, which was made over strong.

The Bamberg—Ehrhardt Railroad Company has been organized with the following officers:
J. A. Wynson, President; Thomas Black and W. M. Brooks, Vice Presidents; W. D. Rhoads, Secretary and Treasurer.

The contract for grading the road has been given to Messrs J. A. Williams, E. C. Hays and W. C. Wolfe.

Farmer John M. Eastering returned last week from a vacation visit to Florida. Crop gathering is about commencing there, though drought and cold winds have retarded growth as here. The Barnwell emigrants are getting on well, leaving the whole peninsula for what is best in Florida, from Governor Gilchrist down, moved there from Carolina.

The post office people will be almost as busy this month as the newspaper workers. By a recent department order they are required for thirty days, commencing on Monday, to weigh, count and classify every piece of mail matter handled and to report the same in a report to the post office. Small mail handlers in this county are all hustled and will make all red do.

Mr. Charles E. Grimes of Rock Creek tells us that he was mistaken in saying that his fine wheat crop which produced 25 bushels to the acre, yielded by the fall had been blown under and rotted in a summer crop. While a failure as a grain crop the wheat is suckering very freely and growing rapidly. When sufficiently tall he will cut it with his mowing machine and secure from the crop a large quantity of valuable forage.

A lawyer friend tells us that his flock of 150 Plymouth Rock hens has for months supplied his family with all the eggs needed. Some weeks he has gathered up over four dozen. They have never missed the weather, having during cold spells as regularly as in Spring days. They have a limited space, his back yard and garden (unplanted), for exercise. He gives them one feed a day of whole and cracked corn. For their daily dessert he feeds and gives them a head of greens.

SALE DAY. Only those having business came to town on Monday and they hurried home as soon as their duties were done. The presence of Gen. Green in the cotton fields accounted for the small attendance and quick departure. The same on Tuesday were kept moderately busy, the Supervisors of Registration having the least to do. The stock of goods advertised by the sheriff was bought by Attorney Tobin for $500. Several mail boxes were made.

ANOTHER HOMICIDE. A gambling game in which several colored men were engaged on the night of the 26th ult. on the plantation of Mr. George W. Boylston near Whaley Station terminated in a pistol battle in which many shots were fired. Furman Tyler, one of the players, was killed. Coronor J. W. Hildreth held the inquest. The jury found that Tyler came to his death at the hands of a stranger, unknown. Rural policeman S. Vender arrested and held to bail four of the negro men on the charge of gambling.

A GREAT DAY. The programme has been arranged for the laying of the cornerstone of the Confederate monument at Bamberg. Prof. David of Clemson College is to be the chief orator of the day. Hon. G. B. Moore will also deliver a brief address. Dr. J. B. Black will be master of ceremonies. Crosses of honor will be delivered to 21 Veterans. The glory of erecting this monument has been won by the good women of Bamberg County.

Exercises will commence promptly at 11 o'clock, May 10.

LAST AND BEST. That was the verdict as to the Teachers Association meeting at Healing Springs on Saturday, last of the school year and best on record. The teachers attending, 34 in number, and other visitors interested in educational work were comfortably and courteously accommodated from Blackville, and that was a ride in which 13 was not an unbelucky number, that many toting cars being in the grand procession. Fine addresses were made by State Superintendent Swearingen and Misses Elise Ridd and Marie Fromer. The dinner was a triumph of glorious foods superbly served.

THE MAY COURT. Jurors for the second week were drawn on Monday:
Attorneys: W. L. Clay, J. T. Wilson, F. M. Young, W. J. Riddell, W. B. Oswald, L. G. Harley, V. M. Maner.
Barnwell: R. L. Peacock, James H. Lancaster, W. L. Baxley, W. F. Holmes, H. F. Odum.
Bennett Springs: C. L. Hiers, T. J. Hiers.
Blackville: H. C. Still, J. C. Hogg.
Four Mile: C. M. Turner, Frank D. Bush, C. R. Roster, J. H. Wingate.
Georgetown: W. D. Still, J. S. Collins, S. B. Creech, W. L. Harley.
Great Creek: J. M. Ulmer, M. C. Diamond, C. R. Gibson, J. P. Ready.
Red Oak: A. M. Sanders.
Rosemary: E. R. Beasley, J. G. Davis.
Sycamore: H. W. Harter, J. D. Allen.
Williston: A. M. Kitchings, J. L. Westerbeke, C. A. Bennett.

MEETING AT WILLISTON.

Dr. S. W. Melton, of Norfolk, Va., formerly pastor of the First Baptist Church of Augusta, Ga., will begin a meeting with Dr. W. M. Jones of the Williston Baptist Church on Tuesday next, May 9th.

Annice, daughter of the late Mr. W. M. Harden, born of John.

By Rev. John K. Goode on the 20th ult. Mr. Charles S. Anderson and Miss Nora Cove, daughter of Mr. L. E. Cove, both of Dunbarton.

By Rev. J. M. Sanders on the 30th ult. Mr. Murray Harrison and Miss Pearl Baxley, both of Georgetown.

THREE THOUSAND THREE. That many good people from the counties of Bamberg, Aiken, Colleton and Hampton attended the annual memorial services at Rivers' Bridge on Friday.

The address of Col. James Armstrong of Marlboro, the orator of the day, was an effort worthy of his great audience and of the cause of which he spoke, enshrined in the hearts of old and middle aged and little ones as sacred and to be forever preserved in the memories of the past and loved to the patriot dead. For this one day Dixie was a silent song in each and every soul and the Old South was again alive.

All the gatherings of the year wherever the flag of the Union floats there is no picture more moving to high and holy impulse and endeavor than this unfeigned annual tribute to the martyrs of the lost cause. They are bold and true but their memories are immortal as the shining stars that keep watch above their resting places in the bosom of the South land they loved so well.

DWENS—JETER. By Rev. John K. Goode on the 20th ult. Mr. J. J. Jeter and Miss Corinne, daughter of the late A. M. Owens, daughter of Barnwell, were happily married.

The bride looked very handsome in a stylish traveling suit of King's blue with red gowns to match, and carried a bouquet of white flowers. Mrs. Hodges of Swansea, sister of the groom, was dame of honor. The groom was attended by Mr. Ross of Savannah as best man. The decorations were pink and white roses, ferns and garlands of amaranth. A large number of beautiful gifts were displayed. After an informal reception Mr. and Mrs. Jeter left for their home, expecting to visit Washington, Baltimore and other northern cities. On their return they will make their future home in Columbia.

Miss Owens is one of Barnwell's best loved young women, a granddaughter of the Hon. Wm. A. Roper, one of the most brilliant members of the ante bellum bar of Barnwell, and on her mother's side descended from the distinguished Patterson family. Mr. Jeter is a nephew of Governor Thomas Bothwell Jeter of Union.

MINES WIN MEDALS. Pleasant Hill School closed April 21. Medals were won by the following pupils:
Miss Thelma Creech, one for spelling, one for writing and first honor in attendance.
Miss Virginia Mae Kennedy, a medal for spelling and one for writing.
Miss Eddie Lou Weatherbee won the prize for the most head marks.

For their daily dessert he feeds and gives them a head of greens.

RELIGIOUS EVENTS. Union meetings of the Barnwell Baptist Association were held on Saturday and Sunday at Barnwell, Friendship and Georgia Creek Churches. The union at Barnwell was fairly well represented by delegates, but the attendance on the other churches was small. Bro. G. B. Jones preached the introductory sermon and the Missionary sermon on Sunday was preached by Bro. B. F. Allen. The topic "Obligation of the church to the Sunday school" was discussed by several brethren. The principal address being made by Bro. J. W. Blanton of Orangeburg.

The meeting at Friendship was well attended, both by delegates and members of the local churches. The introductory sermon was preached by Bro. J. D. Peacock and the missionary sermon by Bro. George Hopkins. The topics were discussed by several brethren and we trust that some effort will be made to carry out the ideas expressed: namely, the supervision and direction of the Sunday school by the churches.

The writer has received no report of the meeting at Georgia Creek.

THE HOOKWORM MENACE. From the Beaufort Gazette of Friday we learn that Dr. Milton Weinberg of Beaufort County for ten days under the Rockefeller Foundation for the eradication of the hookworm and extermination of other preventable diseases. In the town of Beaufort he has found 27 per cent of those examined infected with the hookworm, and in the county at large 53 per cent.

As the hook worm is the cause of laziness in grown ups and ill health, slow growth and mental dullness in children it is a menace against which a constant and concerted campaign should be kept up. The disease can be easily and cheaply cured but the medicine should be taken under direction of a doctor, as care must be taken as to diet during treatment.

Dr. Weinberg tells the Gazette: "Hookworm disease is acquired by the young parasites entering the body either through the mouth or the skin, usually of the feet. When infection takes place by the mouth, it is probably in eating uncooked or poorly cooked vegetables. When the worms enter through the feet they cause the common condition which is known as 'ground itch,' or 'dog tick,' now common to it. This is the usual way in which a person gets the disease."

Wise men guess that there are two million hookworm sufferers in the South. No doubt Barnwell County has its share.

TO STOCK RAISERS. Come to the Hill Top Stables soon and see the two splendid steeds, Le Grande and Dutton, unequalled in the State for beauty and drawn and all good qualities.

If you prefer to raise hardy, tractable, long living, healthy and hard working mules come to me all the same. Let's make this a week stock raising county, keep money at home and have stock that we know to be dependable.

Your friend,
Charlie Brown,

A SAD DEATH.

Mr. A. C. Bennett of Waterboro fell dead with heart failure at his home on April 10, 1911. He was a loving wife was by his side when the final summons came.

On March 20, 1911, he married Miss Ella Williams of Barnwell County, the Rev. Mack Babban officiating. His body was laid to rest in Waterboro cemetery.

Mr. Bennett was a prominent farmer and stock raiser and was highly honored and loved by his many friends.

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT. Whereas, Mrs. Adelle Pitt, one of the members of Long Branch Sunday School has been removed by death, therefore, be it resolved:
That we think it right and that we should not attempt to erase her name from our roll, but that we bow in submission to the will of Him that makes no mistakes and we extend our condolence to the bereaved family and friends, and that the above resolution be inscribed on a page of our Minute Book and that a copy be sent to the Barnwell People for publication.

GONE TO REST. Lewis H. Mitchell departed this life in Rosemary Township on April 10th, 1911, aged 72 years, leaving a wife, two children and three brothers to mourn his loss. He was kind to his family and fellow men and loved by all that knew him. He has gone to join his father and mother who have gone before him.

The reaper death entered our home and took from it our loving brother, Rev. Fostered brain, Next forthy throbbing eye, Through those paroled lips of thine To more shall pass moan or sigh.

A SAD DEATH. Long Branch, April 13th, 1911. Mrs. Adelle Pitt, wife of Mr. J. W. Pitt, happily passed away at rest in the sixth year of her age. She was a good and faithful member of Long Branch Church, a grand and noble daughter of the community. She raised a large family to reap and mourn her death. She was a dear companion and affectionate mother. Oh, how our hearts ache when we think that we can never see that loving face again on this earth.

But we hope to meet again where there will be no more pain or death to separate us. How sad our old home is now that was once so happy and bright. Oh, to think that sweet voice we once heard is to be heard no more. But God knows best for the Lord liveth and the Lord taketh. Blessed be the name of the Lord.

She has a dear and loving husband, six sons and five daughters, a host of friends and relatives to mourn her death.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. K. Goode at the home and a body was laid to rest at the family cemetery to await the resurrection morn.

Where love has bound the tender cord Which life has bound the heart, We must forever part, Dearest loved one, we must lay thee, In the peaceful grave's embrace, But thy memory will be cherished, Till we meet thy heavenly face.

BACKWARD BERRIES. So far this year strawberry growing in the eastern Carolina has not been a success. Last year the crop was not including April 20th 500 cars had been shipped North. To the same date this year only 83 cars had gone, a shortage of 725 cars. The difference is charged to the cool dry Spring. Generally the Carolina shipments stop about May 15th when the Virginia and Maryland berries capture the Northern markets.

DR. WILEY'S WARNING. Washington, April 27.—Dangers an grave, according to Dr. Wiley, chief of the bureau of chemistry, department of agriculture, lurk in the ordinary headache remedy that he has determined to institute an investigation into the purity of food and drug act. Many cases in which death has followed the taking of these remedies, said Dr. Wiley today, have been brought to his attention of late.

Headache powders, said Dr. Wiley, usually contain large quantities of drugs which affect the heart more or less. The powders, according to Dr. Wiley, contain a larger proportion of these drugs than any physician would think of prescribing.
