aviation Tuesday near Washington, D. C., when the mutilated bodies of Lieut. Leighton W. Hazlehurst, Jr., 17th infantry, U. S. A., and Alfred L. Welch, a professional aviator in the employ of the Wright brothers, were hauled from under the debris of a collapsed aeroplane. The accident occurred while they were attempting to make the tests required by the Government in a machine contracted for by the war department.

Although an army board was immediately appointed to determine the cause of the accident, it is probable he real cause of the machine's fall so suddenly and unexpectedly that the to men met their death without being able to make a single move to arrest their fall. Several army flyers were among the score of spectators, but they cannot explain the accident.

It was shortly after 6 o'clock that the Wright machine was run out in front of the long line of hangars. For feet within ten minutes, carrying a load of 450 pounds. Dreaded Cotton Caterpillar.

A dispatch from Rock Hill says the dreaded caterpillar, which did so much damage to the cotton crop last year has again made its appearance in this State and steps are being taken to destroy the pest at once. As the plant is young and tender the caterpillar could practically ruin the entire crop once the pests get in a firm hold. It is something unusual for the caterpillar to appear so early in the season and it is feared that the
