The People is adding the names of several new subscribers to its mailing list this week.

Mr. C. M. Jones, of Martin, called at The People office to renew his subscription while in the city Friday.

Mr. W. B. Norris, of the Yonema section, called very cleverly at The People office while in the city Saturday.

The friends of J. Julien Bush, Esq., will be glad to know that he continues to improve after a recent attack of pneumonia.

Mrs. Lena Davies arrived in Barnwell Tuesday evening, being called home on account of the death of Mr. J. A. Porter.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Sanders, of Kline, were visitors here Friday. While in the city Mr. Sanders renewed his subscription to The People.

Mr. P. M. Stuart, Misses Pauline and Margaret Stuart arrived here Sunday afternoon for a visit to the former's daughter, Mrs. B. P. Davies.

While returning from Laurens Friday night, the Hudson sedan of Col. Edgar A. Brown, of this city, was threatened with destruction by fire. The brake-bands on the car had been relined recently and were too tight, causing the drums to heat. No damage was done other than burning out the brake-lining.

Mr. C. S. Creech and son, Master Jim Ulmer Creech, were visitors at The People office Saturday afternoon, at which time the former renewed his subscription to The People. He says that the only objection to being a subscriber to this paper is that some of his neighbors who are not subscribers sometimes borrow his copy before he has had a chance to enjoy reading it. He is going to advise them to take advantage of The People's special $1-a-year offer.

A thunderstorm, accompanied by rain and high winds, swept over this section between 11 and 12 o'clock Friday night. According to a report by the Columbia weather bureau, only 12 thunderstorms have occurred in November during the 38 years of that station's existence. No damage was reported in this section, but several buildings were destroyed by the wind in Saluda County.

Judge H. A. M. Smith Dead.

Charleston, Nov. 23.—Former United States District Judge Henry A. M. Smith died at his residence here this afternoon after a brief illness.

Judge Smith was in his 72nd year, having been born in Charleston April 30, 1853. He succeeded William H. Brawley as district judge June 14th, 1911, on appointment by President William H. Taft, and retired November 24th, 1923, being succeeded by Ernest F. Cochran, of Anderson.

Judge Smith was for many years an outstanding member of the bar in South Carolina and was also widely known for his deep knowledge of historical matters affecting this section. He was formerly vice chairman of the South Carolina historical commission. His service on the city board of school commissioners of Charleston, on the board of trustees of the Charleston high school and on the board of trustees of the College of Charleston reflected his interest in education.

We are especially proud that we have so many farmer customers. Agriculture is particularly interesting to us, as indeed it should be to everyone, and we like to have the farmers drop in and talk over their problems with us.

When we can give advice or render service of any kind, we are always glad to do so.

We know that the growth and development of this community depend to a large extent upon its farming interests, and we aim to do our part toward helping the farmers succeed.
