The cheapest tickets sold by the Southern Railway from Bamberg to Charleston cost $2.10, with a limit of five days. The ten day tickets cost $2.50. G. Frank Bamberg is almost giving away goods these days. Call and get his prices. Come in and pay what you owe or send us money. We need it and need it now. Don't put it off. The amount is small, and you can easily pay it. Mr. W. F. Smook, of the Midway section, has moved to Colleton county, near Walterboro. He is a good citizen, and we regret to have him leave us. Last Friday afternoon Masters George Counts, Leonard Spann, and Leland Spann concluded to go hunting, so slipping off, they rented a gun from a negro and went out to shoot birds. Leland Spann, the eleven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Spann, when he fired the gun, the barrel burst, lacerating his left hand terribly. The thumb was torn clear away, and the hand was so badly mangled that the first and middle fingers had to be amputated by Drs. Bronson and Black, who were called in. He is getting along very nicely, but of course the use of his hand will be very much interfered with on account of the loss of the thumb and two fingers. The barrel of the gun was badly shattered by the explosion, and one of the pieces of iron on the gun turned down, and his hand grasping the gun directly underneath this piece, which caused the damage to the little finger. The gun was a double-barrel muzzle loader, and it is supposed the boys, not knowing, must have overlaid it, putting in too heavy a charge of powder. Sales Monday. Last Monday Master T. J. Counts sold 297 acres of land in Bamberg township. It was the home place of the late R. F. Simmons, a few miles from town, and was sold for $100,000. It was bid in by W. B. Miley, as attorney for G. Frank Bamberg, for $27,725. Sheriff J. B. Hunter sold twelve acres of land in Midway township at an auction on Monday. It was bought by N. Z. Felder for $17,500.

The rain this week was very welcome. Mrs. H. D. Hogg and family moved to Charleston this week. Prices of country produce, grain, etc. remain about the same as last week. Lost—A leather bound pocket memorandum. Reward paid for return to this office. There have been a number of visitors from the country in town attending court. Congress convened last Monday, and it is expected that the session will be a long one. The Exposition number of the News and Courier last Monday was a very creditable issue. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Alexander left last week for Columbia, where they will make their home. There are entirely too many of our country friends in town this week to attempt to give their names. Wood for fire place and stove. South Carolina phone 17. H. J. & O. BRABHAM. All the stores were closed here Thanksgiving day, for the first time in years. It is a good sign, and we were glad to see it. Mr. W. I. Rice has also brought some fine pecans for the exhibition at the Charleston Exposition. We hope other articles will be brought. Nicest line of winter lap robes in this section at G. Frank Bamberg. Our people generally are very much pleased that Rev. M. W. Hook has been returned as pastor of the Methodist church here for another year. The "Married for Money" comedy presented this play at the town hall Monday evening to a fair attendance. It was as good a show as this town could expect. City council held a regular monthly meeting last Tuesday afternoon, but only routine business was transacted. Nothing of public interest came before the body. The Southern Railway announces a rate of one cent a mile to the good roads convention in Greenville, to be held December 10th to 20th. Several from here will no doubt attend. Court visitors are invited to visit our nurseries just out of town on the Cannon Bridge road. The trees are in the best of condition. Other trees at proportionate figures. H. J. & O. BRABHAM. Messrs. Geo. J. Hiers, W. C. Mauldin, and C. F. Warren have settled up the case of Bishop et al vs. Brickwell et al, which had been appealed to the Supreme Court, and the case has been withdrawn from the docket. We see in one of our exchanges where a Miss Sign is to be married. We hope not to be accused of being a punster by inquiring if it will be the just ceremony as taking down a sign. All the stores in town were closed last Thursday, as well as other places of business. Several hunting parties went out, while others spent the day quietly at home. Services were held at the Baptist church in the morning. There was only $850 insurance on the residence of Judge T. S. Weeks, recently burned. They were under the impression that there was $1,000 on the residence, but $150 had been placed on outbuildings, which were not burned. So this makes the loss greater than was at first supposed. C. M. VAN ORSDEL, JR., Photographer. Mr. R. C. Fickling, of Blackville, and Miss Marie Richardson were married at the home of the bride's father, Mr. E. B. Richardson, at Liberty, S. C., Wednesday, November 20. These young friends were students in Greenville a few years ago, where they made many friends who will join us in hearty congratulations and good wishes. —Baptist Courier. Marriage. Mr. Arthur B. Jordan, formerly of this town, and now editor of the Dillon Herald, was married last Thursday to Miss Florence Hampton, of Leesville, N. C. The newly-married couple arrived at Dillon Friday, where they will live. Mr. Jordan was born and raised in Bamberg, his mother and sister living here at present, and he is well-known to our citizens. His friends here wish him much happiness, and extend congratulations to him and his bride. Fire Near Ehrhardt. Last Friday afternoon about 3 o'clock, on the plantation of the Messrs. Smith, a few miles from Ehrhardt, an outburst was destroyed by fire. It contained about two and one-half bales of seed cotton and the seed of four bales of cotton. It belonged to Messrs. J. C. and D. M. Smith, and was undoubtedly set on fire. It was certainly a bold act, as the house was situated in an open field where any one approaching it could be easily seen, and to set it on fire in the day-time was certainly a bold act. Court Proceedings. The December term of court convened here last Monday morning, Judge W. C. Benet presiding. All the other officers of the court were present, and after Judge Benet's charge to the grand jury, that body went immediately to work, and disposed of the following cases: Annie Wallace—larceny from the field—no bill. Perry Williams—burglary and larceny—true bill. Maner Glover—aiding prisoner to escape—true bill. Elliott Jones—housebreaking and larceny—true bill. Thomas Glover—buying seed cotton without license—true bill. Bruce Dawson and Preston Childs—larceny of live stock—true bill. Preston Williams—bastardy—no bill. Nathan H. Jenkins—bastardy—no bill. W. H. Nimmans—obtaining goods under false pretenses—no bill. Lang Atterberry—assault and battery with intent to kill and carrying concealed weapons—true bill. Lang Atterberry—breaking into railroad car—true bill. Geo. Washington—housebreaking and larceny—true bill. James W. Carter—breach of trust with fraudulent intent—no bill. F. G. Gunnels et al—riot and aggravated assault and battery—true bill. The case against Wiley Rowell and George Eaves for disturbing religious worship was not pressed by the Solicitor. The following cases have been tried up to the time of going to press: John Till—assault and battery with intent to kill—carrying concealed weapons—guilty. Motion for new trial made. Sentenced to six months on chain gang or pay a fine of fifty dollars. Perry Williams—burglary and larceny—plead guilty—sentenced to two months on the chain gang. Elliott Jones—housebreaking and larceny—plead guilty—sentenced to six months on chain gang. J. H. Moody—housebreaking and larceny—plead guilty—sentenced to 6 months on chain gang. Bruce Dawson and Preston Childs—larceny of live stock—guilty. Motion for new trial made. Geo. Brabham—murder. (This case is being tried as we go to press.) The grand jury is still at work, and have not made their final presentment as yet. It is probable that it will not be made before to-morrow. Individual Independence. A great deal is being said about the farmers and the trusts. It is claimed that we are at the mercy of the combines; that we are being robbed by the power of the trusts. Everything seems to work against the producer and in favor of the buyer, manufacturer, and subsequent dealer in our wares. We are much to be pitied in this respect. Too many profits are made upon our produce before it reaches the consumer. Generally the ultimate consumers pay quite enough for our goods. But there are too many middle-men who reap often a mass large fortune from the handling of farm products. The man who wears out a cotton shirt or other garment pays enough for the cloth. The thread with which our clothes are made brings a profit enough. Many articles of common consumption bring from fifty cents to one dollar per pound and thread and laces from two dollars up. But the producer gets from five to nine cents per pound for his cotton. Tomatoes will cost the consumer from six to eight dollars per bushel when bought by the quart. This is enough, but when traced back the grower only gets from eighty cents to one dollar of this. The middle-man is the real robber here. The remedies proposed are many, but generally wind up by claiming that the farmers must organize and fight trust. I cannot fully agree with this. But to do so is a simple organization to remedy all the evils of the present condition. We must get at the root of the matter. The monster evil is debt. Farmers have a habit of going in debt; they feel as though they were in a trap. Here is the root of nearly all the ills that afflict the farming interests. We need to be free; to own ourselves and our crops. There is no good excuse for such a state of things. Can we live at home; we can so manage as to own our crops when we gather them. There are so many crops that bring ready money if we only knew how to grow them that we can keep free from debt if we will. If we do this, then we can call on controlling parties. The great need of the Southern farmer is individual independence. Then the next thing is getting nearer to the consumer. J. H. HUNTER. Midway, S. C., Nov. 30, 1901. Saw Death Near. "It often made my heart ache," writes L. C. Overstreet, of Elgin, "to hear my wife cough until it seemed her weak and sore lungs would collapse. Good doctors said she was so far gone with consumption that no medicine or earthly help could save her, but a friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery and persistent use of this recent medicine saved her life." It's absolutely guaranteed for coughs, colds, bronchitis, asthma and all throat and lung diseases. 50c and $1.00 bottles. Trial bottles free.

Stay in the Farm. I have very much enjoyed reading the well-written article of your Midway scribe, Mr. Hunter. His ideas are capital and his thoughts well expressed. I know, Mr. Editor, you are pleased to receive articles like his, that deal with live issues important to the farmer, to whose storehouse we all go directly or indirectly for the staff of life. Such letters benefit you, your readers and the writers. I have suspected that the literary atmosphere of Mr. Hunter's home, where once lived the famous Simms, is drawing out his powers. If his fellow tillers of mother earth will heed his advice they will be well served. There are few in the section of country able to live in brick houses, but many who are well-to-do neglect the comforts and conveniences a home ought to have. Many of them inexpressive and tired, and if the farm houses are made more attractive the farmer boys and girls will have no desire to leave them for the small one-horse towns and pent-up cities. Farmers, take your children's advice and erect a better home. You cannot educate your little ones in the country because the schools are few and far apart. Bring the schools nearer to you or organize a community school system. Get the neighbors to go in with you and construct a country telephone exchange. Then sell half of your farm and have a near neighbor. Very likely you are land poor and produce as much on the half as you now do on the whole. Our country districts ought to be more thickly settled. Then, have good roads—ah, you must have good roads to reach the distance to town about half. We can probably have good roads at less expense than any other part of the country. No rocks to remove and no stiff red clay to clog the wheels of our vehicles. For the sand beds and sand in the mud holes will very nearly solve the problem. The county and town authorities are very much pleased with terra cotta piping for drainage and I am ready to make it a condition of my vote for some time been an advocate of its use. We will see in a few years that we have been wasting thousands of dollars with board bridges, besides destroying a great deal of timber. It has become a serious issue. I see no reason why it could not be used at the bottom of the causeways through our swamps and dispense with bridges altogether. If such a thing were possible, I think of the horse flesh and vehicles, to say nothing of the comfort and satisfaction of the travelers. Certainly "the world do move." Let us be not slow to move. Supervisors, Bruce is the right man in the right place. There is hope for a man like him that realizes that he "doesn't know it all," but is ready and eager to learn new methods. What we need is a man who will be a leader and a doer. I see no reason why it could not be used at the bottom of the causeways through our swamps and dispense with bridges altogether.
