To Succeed Richardson as Democratic Campaign Leader.

COMMITTEE VOTE UNANIMOUS

New Leader Represents Younger Elements of Party-Committee Selected to Perfect Organization.

A Washington special to The Atlanta Constitution states that Judge Jim Griggs, of Georgia, was' elected chairman of the democratic congressional campaign committee at a meeting Friday night. The honor came to him by the unanimous vote of his committee associates. His name was presented by Senator Carmack, of Tennessee, who at the outset was counted upon by the opponents of Judge Griggs as representing the element which thought it would be wise to name some northern man for the chairmanship. The Tennessee senator proved, however one of the strongest supporters of the Georgian. Other members of the committee seconded the nomination, and the election was

In the discussion of campaign prospects there was every indication of confidence that the democrats have at least a fair chance to carry the next house, and members of the committee believe that, with Judge Griggs at their head and with the aid of prominent democrats throughout the country who have signified their intention to cooperate in every way possible, victory is more than a mere possibility.

Should the house go democratic as the result of the committee's management, one possibility is that the popular Georgian who has been selected to take charge of the fight will be elevated to the speakership. While ditch. Judge Griggs and his friends disclaim any such idea, it is a fact that his candidacy for the chairmanship represented the opposition of the younger element on the democratic side of the house to Major Richardson, of Tennessee, the democratic leader. Major Richardson has been chairman of the for two campaigns, and the younger element referred to has been anxious to have a man more nearly representing their views whom they might support for speaker in case of a demo-

To Perfect Organization.

A committee consisting of the chairman, Mr. Griggs; Representative Williams of Mississippi; Ruppert, of New York; Richardson, of Tennessee; Williams, of Illinois; Jackson, of Kansas, and Senator Culberson, of Texas, was appointed to perfect a plan of organization for the ensuing congressional campaign and select the remaining officers of the committee, subject to the ratification of a meeting of the full committee to be held April 11.

It is the general understanding that this committee, among other things, will report in favor of the creation of an executive committee, of which ex-Representative Ben T. Cable, of Illinois, probably will be chairman, and of a finance committee, of which Lewis Dixon, of New York, probably, will be

The only other name besides that of Mr. Griggs which was presented to the committee for the chairmanship was that of Representative Cowherd, of Missouri, but his name was withdrawn before the vote was taken. The committee heard the protests of a faction of the democracy of the District of Columbia against James L. Norris, who was elected to represent the district at a former meeting of the committee, but decided to disregard the protests made.

REFERING TO DANISH TREATY

Charge Is Made that Half a Million Dollars Was Paid to Carry Purchase of the Islands

Through.

A Washington special says: At the opening of the session of the house Thursday, Mr. Rishardson, of Tennessee, the minority leader, offered as a matter of privilege a resolution for the appointment of a committee of seven to investigate the charges said to have been made by Walter Christmas, a semi-official representative of the government of Denmark, in a secret report to his government, in which it was made to appear that he was to receive $500,000 of the purchase money for the sale of the Danish West Indies for bribing newspapers and members of congress. The resolution was very long and detailed, and its reading created great excitement on both sides of the house. The resolution presented by Mr. Richardson, and finally adopted, was in part as follows:

"Whereas, one Walter Christmas, a subject of Denmark, who is now and who has been for several years a diplomatic agent and representative of the government of Denmark, authorized and empowered to negotiate with the government of the United States for the sale of the Danish West Indian islands to the United States, and wno was also the agent of the United States for the purchase of said islands, has submitted a secret and confidential report to his own government;

"Whereas, the said Walter Christmas, agent and representative, as aforesaid, in his report to his government, declares and sets forth among other things the fact that the government of Denmark has contracted, agreed and obligated itself to pay and turn over to him, the said Christmas, ten percentum or about $500,000 of the proceeds of the purchase money arising from the sale of said islands to the United States when the same shall have been paid by the United States to Denmark for the expressed purpose as has been declared and set forth by him in his said secret report to his government, for the bribing of members of the United States congress, including members of the house of representatives and other prominent citizens of this country and for subsidizing American newspapers, to the end that the pending treaty between the United States and Denmark for the sale of the islands by the latter_to the former government may be consummated.' The resolutions further recite that said secret report states that the $500,-000 shall be immediately paid to Christmas, if the purchase money is paid by the United States for the cor-run: objects set forth. The resolutions recite that a selectequimittee of seven members of the house of representatives be appointed by the speaker to examine into the charge and the alleged circumstances, contracts, etc., "which in any manner have for their object the bribery of or the attempted bribery of members of the United States congress or for the payment of any valuable consideration of any kind or character to them or to any of them to vote for or to assist in procuring the proposal, adoption or ratification of the said treaty of sale of the said islands." There are suggestions of improper influence used upon some members of congress, though it is fair to say that these allegations are very general in their character. The particular point made by the democrats is that the state department was in possession of knowledge of these Christmas charges when the purchase treaty was before the senate and the members of that body were not informed of these

How the Disaster Occurred. Gas exists in the Nelson mine and the men are required to use safety lamps. It is the rule of the company for the miners to place their fuses ready to be lighted for blast just before quitting work each day, and there are workmen known as "firemen" who go through the mine after all the miners are out and set off these blasts. PRESIDENT TRANSMITS MESSAGE

Makes Recommendation to Congress For Consular and Diplomatic Representation in Cuba.

The president Thursday afternoon sent to congress a message recommending provision for diplomatic and consular representation in Cuba. The gist of the document reads as follows: I am advised by the secretary of war that it is now expected that the installation of the government of Cuba and the termination of the military occupation of that island by the United States will take place on the 20th of May next. It is necessary and appropriate that the establishment of international relations with the government of Cuba should coincide with its inauguration, as well as to provide a channel for the conduct of diplomatic relations with the new states so as to open the pathfor the immediate negotiations or conventional agreements to carry out the provisions of the act above quoted. It is also advisable that consular representation be established without delay at the principal Cuban ports in order that commerce with the island may be conducted with due regard to the formalities prescribed by the revenue and navigation statutes of the United States and that American citizens in Cuba may have the customary local resorts open to them for their business needs and, the case arising. for the protection of their rights. I, therefore recommend that provision be forthwith made and the salaries appropriated, to be immediately available for: a.-Envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to the Republic of c .- Second secretary of the legation, d.-Consul general Havana, $5,000. Consul at Cienfuegos, $3,000; San-

The commercial interests at those ports heretofore have not been large. The consular fees collected there during the fiscal year 1896-7 aggregated $752.10. ing out from the blast, ignited the gas, | the six offices named can be efficiently subserved by agents under the three principal consular officers until events may show the necessity for establishing a full consulate at any point. The commercial and political conditions in the island of Cuba, while under the Spanish crown, afford little basis for estimating the local development of intercourse with this country under the influence of the new relations which have been created by the achievement of Cuban independence, and which are to be broadened and strengthened in every proper way by conventional compacts with the Cubans and by wise and beneficent legislation aiming to stimulate commerce between the two countries, if the great task we accepted in 1898 is to be fittingly accomplished. (Signed) THEODORE ROOSEVELT, White House, Washington, March 27,

Fine Program Arranged. President Roosevelt has decided to visit the exposition at Charleston on hanged on April 25th.

Wednesday, April 9. He will leave Washington on Monday afternoon, April 7, reach Charleston Tuesday morning, April 8, spend the day in visiting the site of the navy yard, the forts in the harbor and the jetties. Tuesday night he will be entertained at dinner by the city of Charleston. While the dinner to the president is in progress Mrs. Roosevelt will be given a reception by the woman's department of the exposition and their invited guests.

On Wednesday, April 9, the president will be escorted to the exposition grounds by the great military procession, in which the soldiers of Charleston and the visiting soldiers from North Carolina and the other southern states will take part. On arriving at the exposition grounds the presis dent will be formally welcomed to the city by Mayor Smyth, and to the exposition by President Wagener. After the speaking ceremonies, which will take place in the auditorium on the exposition grounds, the president and his party will be conducted to the woman's building on the grounds, where they will be entertained at luncheon by the woman's department. After visiting the several principal buildings and viewing the exposition the president and party will be taken to Summerville and entertained at the Pine Forest inn by Captain Wagener, the president of the exposition com-

On Thursday morning, April 10, the president and his party will be taken to the tea farm and afterwards to the beautiful Magnolia Gardens on the Ashley. Upon returning to Summerville in the afternoon he and his party Captain Wagener at the Pine Forest inn, and Thursday evening will leave Summerville for Washington, arriving at the national capital early Friday morning. It is expected that there will be a great demonstration at the exposition in honor of the president. From reports that have been received, the day will be the most brilliant of the entire exposition period.

It is not probable that the cannibals who ate a party of scientists in New Guinea have enough money to make it worth while to attempt to collect from them an indemnity. Neither can they be compelled to go to Europe and express their humiliation by kow-towing. In both of these points they have a decided advantage over the Chinese, remarks the Wash-
