The growth of the negro since emancipation is unparalleled. From four | was asked to stand back. and one-half millions a generation ago we are now ten millions, and this without the aid of immigration.

Now, after years of experience, we have pleasure in being able to say that our educational methods are both practical and effective. While much has been accomplished in the intellectual development of the people, candor compels us to admit that much yet remains to be done. It is an encouraging fact, however, that more agencies are at work for his intellectual uplift than ever before. Nearly 30,000 young colored men and women, 18,000 of whom hold diplomas, have been prepared and sent forth as Christian teachers.

While there is still room for a better and higher moral life among us, yet unmistakable evidences of a purer home and individual life are most gratifyng. Open concubinage has almost entirely disappeared, and similar immoral tendencies bequeathed us by the past are happily passing away. In fixing our moral status we ask you as a matter of fair play, do not judge us by our worst, as has often been done, but rather by our best.

We are cognizant of the civic and political inequalities under which our people are suffering, nevertheless we urge our people to continue to strive, to associate their conduct that they may prove themselves deserving of every right and privilege now enjoyed by any other American citizen.

As citizens of this republic we feel keenly the responsibility of putting ourselves in touch with the best element of all races and classes and doing all we can to make this truly a liberty-loving nation, guaranteeing to every one, rich or poor, high or low, Mongolian or Malay, Caucasian or negro, the fullest protection of the law. We stand ready to join hands with the Anglo-Saxon, learning the same lesson that he learned from the ancient Greek, "To lay first the root of civilization, and then with light and learning carry that civilization around the world, more especally to Africa.

JUSTICE GRAY RESIGNS.

Oliver Wendell Holmes Fills Vacancy On U. S. Supreme Court Bench. A special from Oyster Bay, N. Y., says: President Roosevelt late Monday announced that he had appointed Hon. Oliver Wendell Holmes, chief justice of the supreme court of Massa-·chusetts, to be an associate justice of the supreme court of the United States, vice Justice Gray, resigned. The resignation of Justice Gray was due to ill health. Several months ago he suffered a stroke of appoplexy, which some time later was followed by another.

PALM OIL IS BARRED.

The town was wild. The morgue doors had to be closed and the crowd Several persons were allowed to see the body, and then trouble began. Every one wanted a relic, and in a short time nothing was left but the body. Some one even picked up the bloodstained hadkerchief which had been used by the outlaw to keep from bleeding to death. Before he could carry the awful relic away he had to do it up in paper, as it was too wet to place in his pocket. 305 B 107 - 1 Some one got the strap which had been pulled around his leg to keep him from bleeding to death. That, too, was soaked with blood, which ran from the upper wound. Many locks of the outlaw's hair had heen taken. His trousers were cut in strips, and before they were divided they were cut into smaler pieces. Many of Tracy's cartridges were didivided among the members of the posse and those who could get at the buckskin bag.

Thought Murder Was Done. A few days ago a young man named Harleson was found dead in a room at the Granby hotel in the cotton mill district of Columbia. The coroner's inquest developed nothing suspicious. The body was embalmed, as required by law when a corpse is to be transported, and was shipped to Dorchester county. When the relatives of the deceased found the slit in the neck through which the undertaker had injected the formaldehyde, or embalming fluid, into the carotid artery, they became suspicious of foul play and an investigation was started by the mag-

These attacks seem to me to be quite unjust, and my critics have by no means fairly represented my sentiments or my attitude either to this particular question or to our common section. This I presume you know. It seems to me likely, however, from the attitude that the newspapers and certain of the public have taken in the matter, that our college may suffer some harm, or at least be temporarily embarrassed by continuing to maintain upon its faculty a man who is even supposed to entertain such sentiments as have been attributed to me. I am, of course, responsible for my own utterances; and I am ready to bear anything in the line of misrepresentation or of loss that my utterances may bring upon me. But Emory college is in no sense responsible for anything that I may say or think; and it does not seem to me either just or wise to call upon the institution to assume responsibility or suffer loss for utterances that it may not, and
