Ben Tillman might be elected president of the United States if the stump speaking and voting could be confined to South Carolina.

The Columbia State says that American women can do very near ruling of the world even if they do not vote at home.

Pope Leo died last Monday afternoon. Now that he has passed away, what will the newspapers do? He has been good for several columns on the front page every day for the past week or more.

Gentlemen of the city council, please don't forget about that matter of the street crossings on Railroad Avenue, and do take steps to make the passenger trains run slower through town.

If the Augusta Chronicle could "make over" some "prominent citizens" in that city, it might put a stop to the vote buying and selling, for it is certain that so long as money is offered for votes, they will be for sale.

Far be it from us to criticize the State Press Association, but if a certain individual hasn't "worked" that body for several thousand dollars worth of free advertising, then we're not a Jim of such things.

Senator B. R. Tillman spoke at Bishopville last Friday, but there was nothing startling in his utterances. He thinks Bryan is talking too much, that the Democratic party is sick, and that the silver question must be put aside for the present.

We hope city council will keep our merchants from blockading the side walks of Main street by displaying goods thereon during the fall and winter.

Several newspapers in the up-country are asking for an inspection by competent engineers of the Toxoway dam in North Carolina.

Some people are evidently of the opinion that the editor of a newspaper delights in ripping somebody up the back, and in saying harsh things generally, but such is not the case.

"For years fate was after me continually" writes F. A. Guldge, Verbena, Ala. "I had a terrible case of piles causing 24 tumors. When all failed Bucklen's salve cured me. Equally good for hemorrhoids and all aches and pains. Only 25c at J. B. Black, Bamberg; H. C. Rice, Denmark.

EHRHARDT ETCHINGS.

An Interesting Budget of News, Entertainingly Told.

EHRHARDT, July 20.—All of those folks who have been working at the Yankee saw mill near Greenpond have returned home for the summer.

Mr. D. Dannelly has purchased a new wheel of the Orient type for the purpose of riding home for his meals these hot days. Walking is much too slow for a hungry man.

One of our scarcely pick up a paper now without reading of some great game of ball and how the pitchers struck out the best players on both sides and at the end of the game the score would be about 1 to 0.

Mr. G. B. Kearse is in town last Friday. Mr. W. J. Jenny was in town last Friday.

Messrs. Arthur Kearse and Tom Beard were in town last Thursday afternoon. Protracted meetings are in order now.

There is a good deal of sickness here in this community of late. It must be the hot weather, together with bad water that causes so much fever.

Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Jones are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Copeland for a few days.

The sodas fountains in town are doing a fine business these hot days, serving cold drinks to a warm public.

What of the Lutheran church that was to have been built here last spring? We thought snails were the only slow things on the earth, but it seems as if we are mistaken.

Thursday's game of ball is expected to be a good one, also the Knights and Masons are doing their best to have a good picnic on that day.

Denmark Doings. DENMARK, July 20.—Dr. Matthews went over to Williston last Thursday to attend the marriage of his brother, Mr. Julia Matthews.

Miss Rosa Heidenreich, grand-daughter of Mrs. Sontag, died at her home in Jacksonville last Saturday, and was buried here on Tuesday.

Mrs. S. S. Laifite, who has been visiting in Ridge Spring, is at home again. Miss Minnie Pechman is here for the summer, in charge of the hotel, while Mr. and Mrs. Rice are away.

Our town was saddened by the death of Mrs. George Center. After an illness of several weeks she died Friday night and was buried Sunday morning.

Too Many Fair Ones for Him.

RICEMOND, Va., July 14.—With thirteen fair women to select from James Pitzer, a successful farmer of Rockbridge County, with a splendid estate near the famous Natural Bridge, found himself in the embarrassing position of not being able to choose.

Pitzer had his fields visited daily by several women in quest of berries. Being an unmarried man the owner put into circulation a report that he intended to court the first woman whom he caught in his fields.

The following day, on investigation, he discovered no less than thirteen of various ages, picking berries. Determined to put into execution his plans of the day before, he went out and was amazed to find that each of the thirteen claimed to have been the first on the ground. He, therefore, made no choice.

Very Remarkable Cure of Diarrhea. "About six years ago for the first time in my life I had a sudden and severe attack of diarrhea," says Mrs. Alice Miller, of Morgan, Texas.

I went to a hotel in Georgia and said to the clerk: "Where shall I autograph?" "Autograph?" said the clerk.

The Greenville Mountaineer says: "The first avowed candidate in next year's primary is Cassler of Tirrath, who says he will again be an aspirant for the office of railroad commissioner."

A Missouri editor says he has never loved a woman and never has kissed a girl. That fellow is either a fool or a liar.

When the stomach is overloaded, when food is taken into it that fails to digest, and it inflames the mucous membrane, exposing the nerves, and causes the glands to secrete mucus, instead of the natural juices of digestion.

A lone widow in Metamorva writes the editor of the Washburn Leader to find her a husband and writes him the following appeal: "Dere Professor Editor, I would like fer you to put in good notice of a husband fer me. I am 38 years old, have clothes and there will be no dentist bills fer my teeth air all ok. I kin cook a stake, wash deishes and grace the parlor pipe.

"I would cough nearly all night long," writes Mrs. Chas. Applegate, of Alexandria, Ind., "and could hardly get any sleep. I had consumption so bad that if I walked a block I would cough frightfully and spit three 1/2 bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery wholly cured me and I gained 50 pounds."

The anxious mother thought her daughter's suitor was calling most too often, and saying rather too late and she informed the girl that she would have to sit down on him. The daughter evidently took her mother literally for the next night when her father suddenly opened the parlor door he saw her sitting in the fellow's lap.

Brutally Tortured. A case came to light that for persistent and unmerciful torture has perhaps never been equalled. Joe Golobick, of Colusa, Cal., writes: "For 15 years I endured insufferable pain from rheumatism and nothing relieved me though I tried everything known. I came across Electric Bitters and it's the greatest medicine on earth for that trouble. A few bottles of it completely relieved and cured me."

Nourishment is the foundation of health life—strength. Kodal dyspepsia cure is the one great medicine that enables the stomach and digestive organs to digest, assimilate and transform foods into the kind of blood that nourishes the nerves and feeds the tissues.

"Oh, but you're wrong, dear," protested the bride of last year, "the throwing of rice and old shoes is not a mere superstition."

This has long been regarded as one of the most dangerous and fatal diseases to which infants are subject. It can be cured, however, when properly treated. All that is necessary is to give Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhea remedy and castor oil, as directed with each bottle, and a cure is certain. Sold by Bamberg Pharmacy.

The Law Department of the South Carolina College.

In addition to the regular lectures by the professors of law of the South Carolina College, the trustees and faculty are pleased to be able to announce for the coming session a series of lectures to be contributed by some of the leading members of the Bench and Bar of South Carolina.

The trustees and faculty feel that the assistance of these distinguished judges and lawyers they will prove of the greatest benefit to those taking the law course in the South Carolina College.

The great value of the training afforded by schools of law has been too long a question to require necessary arguments in their support.

The advantage of attending a professional school in the State in which a man is to practice his profession is in no case more obvious than in that of a lawyer.

The most lasting friendships are not infrequently formed during the part of a man's life that is usually devoted to preparation for the bar.

A law school, however, should be one that does not waste time in teaching the student to practice law. There is hardly a calling in life for which one would be better prepared by having taken a course in law than that of a lawyer.

MRS. L. S. ADAMS, of Galveston, Texas. "Wine of Cardui is indeed a blessing to tired women. Having suffered for seven years with weakness and bearing-down pains, and having tried several doctors and different remedies with no success, your Wine of Cardui was the only thing which helped me, and eventually cured me. It seemed to build up the weak parts, strengthen the system and correct irregularities."

By "tired women" Mrs. Adams means nervous women who have disordered meninges, falling of the womb, ovarian troubles or any of these ailments that women have. You can cure yourself at home with this great women's remedy, Wine of Cardui. Wine of Cardui has cured thousands of cases which doctors have failed to benefit.
