Speaking of Bamberg.

We heard a well-to-do farmer of Orangeburg county say, while speaking of the improvements which have been made on the new bridge road, that he thought it the best road in this part of the country. It is certainly a contrast to the road on the Orangeburg side; we people over there have got to wake our side up and have the road improved. This is the road that the convicts have been working. If we can have as good roads all over the county as we are now having built, Bamberg and Bamberg county may feel proud.

It is good roads together with a good cotton market which makes cotton come here so abundantly.

"We recognize that Bamberg is the liveliest town in this section, and that more business is done there than in any other of the neighboring towns. The people stick together and go into an enterprise with one heart and purpose. This accounts for the town being what it is today." Thus spoke one of the most prominent citizens of a not far distant town.

"If we except the cities which import cotton, Bamberg has marketed more cotton than any other market in South Carolina or Georgia," said a drummer who has recently been through these two States.

A mowing machine on Railroad Avenue and some other streets would not be bad. Weeds do not look very good on our main residence street, especially since clay has just been put there to improve it.

Denmark Doings.

DENMARK, September 15.—Misses Inez and Julia Zorn returned home last Wednesday from an extended trip to Georgia, to the delight of their many friends.

Mr. C. A. Berry, of Charleston, and J. B. Gilliam, of this place, seem to be the cotton buyers of this market, as they are getting all the cotton. There are several others here, but they do not seem to be in a little bit. Two hundred and ten bales were sold last Saturday.

Mr. D. I. R. Felder has accepted a position with Mr. J. B. Gilliam, behind the counter, where he will be glad to serve the public.

Mr. C. T. Bamberg, of Ott's Siding, is now with the Denmark Dry Goods Co., where he will be glad to see his friends.

We are glad to report that Dr. J. S. Matthews is improving, who has been sick with fever for several days.

The graded school at this place resumed work last Monday morning with the following teachers: Prof. J. Arthur Wiggins, principal; Misses Carrie Reeve, of Latta, S. C.; Lila Davis Tew, of Columbia, S. C.; Jane May Carroll, of Chester, S. C.; Lillian Gambrell, of Abbeville, S. C.; Fannie Lou Koger, of Greenville, S. C.; and Kate Ezzetta Fazio, of Charleston, S. C., assistants. The number of scholars enrolled was about one hundred and forty.

Mr. Albert Ehrlich, traveling salesman for A. Ehrlich & Bros., of Savannah, was in town last Thursday, seeing his customers.

Mr. W. H. Bamberg, of Ott's Siding, one of Bamberg county's largest contractors and farmers, was in town last Thursday, shaking hands with friends. "Uncle Billy," as he is better known, is never idle, and his friends say that the great trouble is that he does not stay with them long enough to give them the news.

A. McIver Bostick, Esq., stopped over in town last Thursday en route to Bamberg from Beaufort, where he had been in attendance upon court.

Hon. C. W. Garrison stopped over with us a short while last Thursday on his way to his home in Bamberg.

Miss H. H. Crum, of Columbia, arrived in the city last Saturday. Mr. Crum returned to Columbia Sunday evening, but Mrs. Crum will remain with her children, as they have entered the graded school.

Mr. U. G. Milhous had the misfortune to have one of his fingers cut off by the gin last week.

Mr. James N. Veszy, of Cincinnati, was the guest of Hon. H. H. Crum at the Hotel one day last week.

Mr. W. B. Rast, of Swanea, who has the contract for the dormitory at the Voorhees Industrial School grounds, was in town last Saturday.

Mr. J. Sigmund Walker, who was agent for the old South Carolina & Georgia Railroad at this place some years ago, but who is now trainmaster for the Columbia, Newberry & Laurens Railroad, was in town on Monday, calling on his friends. Mr. Summersett has many friends in our little city, with whom he will always receive a warm welcome.

Our merchants did a very fine business last Saturday.

A goodly number of our young men are enjoying themselves shooting doves on Mr. W. H. Bamberg's place near Ott's Siding.

Mr. J. Sigmund Walker left Monday for Waterboro, where he will open up a soda water business.

The Calvin vagrant law of Georgia is, like the thing we need in South Carolina, as there are enough loafing negroes hanging around the towns to keep all crops from suffering for work. Another law that is very much needed in this State, and which we will see the necessity of before always, is that any person who owns a rifle must give bond to keep the same, except officers of the law, military or other companies commissioned by the Governor, or show to the satisfaction of the board of registration that he is entitled to keep one, just as he would have to show that he was entitled to receive a registration certificate.

The much-needed rain has come at last, and the people are planting rutabagas and turnips in abundance.

Rev. Frank Willcock filled his appointment here last Sunday morning attending services. Quite a good crowd attended both services.

If you need a buggy or wagon you can't afford not to get Frank Bamberg's prices. He is not giving us his stuff away, but he is coming as near doing that as any other dealer in the State.

The Cotton Market.

The cotton market in Bamberg continues steady. The price being paid here today (Wednesday) for best cotton is 12 1/2 cents per pound. Receipts for the week about 800 bales.

Sprains.

S. A. Read, Cisco, Texas, writes, March 11, 1901: "My wrist was sprained so badly by a fall that it was useless, and I tried several remedies that failed to give relief, used Ballard's Snow Liniment, and was cured. I earnestly recommend it to any one suffering from sprains." 25c, 50c, $1.00. Sold by Dr. H. F. Hoover.

The New Annapolis.

Turning down the left from "Lover's Lane," where we have been walking, we stroll on to the Naval Observatory and Library.

THE OBSERVATORY is a neat little building, and is fitted up in a most excellent manner. The telescopes, spectrosopes, and other astronomical instruments are of the latest design, and are used exclusively by the Midshipmen of the two upper classes and naval experts. Here the time of day is carefully reckoned, and all watches and clocks in the naval service are corrected by it.

Leaving the observatory we walk on towards the Arsenal before reaching it, however, our attention is drawn to a beautiful little monument on our left. On a large pedestal and around a tall marble shaft are four cannon of granite supporting the upper part of the monument. This makes a beautiful and imposing tablet to the memory of the heroes, to whom it was erected. Two marble tablets tell the motive which prompted the fallen heroes' friends to erect it.

In January, 1846, Midshipman Clemon and Hyson were washed overboard the U. S. Brig Somers off the coast of Mexico not far from the city of Vera Cruz and drowned. Later on, in 1847, Midshipman Pillsbury was killed while in action with the Naval Battery, which assisted at the storming of Vera Cruz by Gen. Scott. Midshipman Subrick was drowned soon after while attempting to rescue a comrade, who had fallen overboard his ship, the Somers.

THE LIBRARY, which we reach next, is a brick building, set back in a grove of large trees. With its tall columns and its appearance of an old Southern home. The library contains about 15,000 volumes, besides the many series of government reports etc. All the latest books of fiction, as well as the works of classic authors and books of reference are to be found here. The reading room is also in this building, and all the best magazines and periodicals are on the tables. Only persons attached to the navy are allowed to use the library, and the Midshipmen have preference over all others.

Just beyond the library is a quaint old relic of the past—erected on a neat pedestal is the head of the once famous cruiser, the U. S. S. Delaware of 1817. The figure is a huge Indian's head and shoulders. It is carved out of a block of wood, and measures about ten feet high by four wide. Around the majestic head is a sheath full of the Indian's weapons—his knife, his powder horn, his tomahawk etc. This quaint old custom of placing a totem on the mast head of the battle-ship has long since passed by, and the few that we see nowadays do not fail to awaken interest in us.

Below this are the general offices of the superintendent and his assistant; the Academy store, where the Midshipman receives all his supplies; and the Paymaster's office.

Behind all this and down a high grassy terrace, we see through the branches of the numerous fir and oak trees the athletic field of the midshipmen. First there is a basketball ball ten tennis courts. Tennis is played a great deal, and to see so many midshipmen in their blue and yellow striped jerseys playing at a time is a fine sight. Around the tennis courts is the race track. This is a fifth mile track, and is well kept up. To one side is set up poles for jumping, vaulting, etc.

The base ball and foot ball fields are on the other side of the "yard," and will be spoken of later.

Quitting the hill, which overlooks all this, we pass back to Blake Row once more. Here we arrive at the CHAPEL, which is at an end of the Row. The chapel is a pretty little brick building, erected on a shady spot and has its walls all overgrown with ivy. It is entirely too small to accommodate the midshipmen now, however, and is being replaced by a magnificent $400,000 granite structure.

Upon about the middle of the three, the chapel is neatly fitted up in Episcopal style. On account of there being so many denominations in the Academy, the Episcopal form of worship is used. All the midshipmen, those who are Catholics, are compelled to attend services here once each Sunday.

The pews are neatly cushioned, the walls handsomely painted, the floor carpeted and the building lighted by electricity and heated by steam. In the gallery is a pipe organ with a special organist, who is leader of the choir—composed wholly of midshipmen. But what strikes us most of all in the chapel is the three stained glass windows, and the many tablets which adorn the walls. One large handsome window—said to be the most expensive one of its kind in America—is to the memory of Lieut.-commander Mason, who was killed in the war.

The other two were placed in the chapel by the government, and are to the memory of the men who perished in the ill-fated Arctic Echochoer Huron; and the men who were drowned in the wreck of the U. S. S. in the Amazon waters.

The tablets are of bronze and marble, and are beautiful. They are for the most part erected to the memory of men in the naval service, who were killed or drowned while performing some heroic deed. One is erected to Commander Charles McDonough, who was burned to death in a hotel fire in New York city, while trying to rescue a child from the flames, at the age of eight years, and was found in the best medicine we ever used for constipation, bilious fever and malaria." Sold by Dr. H. F. Hoover, Bamberg, S. C.

College Hazers Fired On by a "Rat" OPELIKA, ALA., Sept. 14.—A fusillade of shots and a badly wounded man were the results of an attempt to drive some new students at the Alabama Polytechnic Institute at Auburn Thursday night. The facts have just leaked out and are creating considerable interest. Rumors of new students, who are called "rats," being rolled in fresh mortar or drenched with syrup or who have other indignities heaped upon them, are also spoken of. Thursday night a young man called "Munk" Landrum, who is not a student now, led a crowd of old students in pursuit of a new one to haze him. Visions of a possible beating or other indignity being heaped upon him caused the new student to flee. Seeing he was going to be overtaken by Landrum, he stopped and opened fire, badly wounding Landrum, who, there upon, desisted. Other shots were fired but the particulars have never gotten out.

Distress After Eating Cured. Judge W. T. Holland, Greensburg, La., who is well and favorably known, says: "Two years ago I suffered greatly from indigestion. After eating, great distress would invariably result, lasting for an hour or so, and my nights were restless. I tried Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, and it cured me entirely. Now my sleep is refreshing and digestion perfect." Sold by Dr. H. F. Hoover.

A sweet innocent girl marrying a drunkard or gambler to reform him is like putting a hog in a parlor. It does not hurt the hog, but it ruins the parlor.

To Cure a Cold in One Day Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund money if they do not cure. W. B. Brown's signature is on each box. 25c.

The New Baby.

I've got a little brother, Never asked to have him, neither. They just went away and bought him, And last week the doctor brought him, Weren't that queer.

When I heard the news from Molly, Why, I thought at first 'twas jolly, 'Cause you see, I set, I s'posed I could go and get him, And then mamma, course, would let him, Play with me. But when I once looked at him, "Why," I says, "Great Snakes, is that him, Just that mite?" They said, "Yes," and "Aint he cunnin'?" And I thought they must be funnin', He's a sight. He's so small, it's just amazing! And you'd think that he was blazin', He's so red. And his nose is like a berry, And he's as bald as Uncle Jerry On his head. Why he isn't worth a brick, All he does is cry and kick, He can't stop. Won't sit up, you can't arrange him, I don't see why pa don't change him At the shop. Now, we've got to dress and feed him, And we really didn't need him. Why'd they buy a baby brother, When they knowed I'd a good deal ruther Have a dog? —Kansas Farmer.

To see the best stock of buggies, wagons, and harness visit G. Frank Bamberg's place. He has just gotten them—no old shop-worn stuff, and the prices are right.

A Remarkable Record. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has a record over thirty years, during which time many million bottles have been sold and used. It has long been the standard and main reliance in the treatment of croup in thousands of homes, yet during this time no case has ever been allowed to the manufacturers in which it failed to effect a cure. When given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even as soon as the croupy cough appears, it will prevent the attack. It is pleasant to take, many children like it. It contains no opium or other harmful substances, and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by Bamberg Pharmacy.

Historic Slippers. Shoes and slippers have played an important part in history and tradition. An instructive collection of historic footwear is shown in The Delineator for October, including dress slippers of Marie Antoinette and many other quaint, curious specimens of bygone centuries. Take a small trip into the past. It contains no opium or other harmful substances, and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by Bamberg Pharmacy.

Fearful Odds Against Him. Bedridden, alone and destitute. Such, in brief, was the condition of an old soldier by name of J. J. Havens, Versailles, Mo. For years he was kept in bed by kidney disease and neither doctors nor medicines gave relief. At length he tried Electric Bitters. It put him on his feet in short order, and now he testifies: "I'm on the road to complete recovery." Get on the road for your kind of troubles and all forms of stomach and bowel complaints. Only 50c. Guaranteed by J. B. Black, Bamberg; H. C. Rice, Denmark.

"I never waste words on a fool," said the pompous person. "That doesn't correspond with your wife's statement," replied the party of the second part. "What did my wife say?" queried the p. p. "That you were in the habit of talking to yourself," answered the other.

The Genuine vs. Counterfeits. The genuine is always better than counterfeits, but the force of the statement is never more forcibly realized or more thoroughly appreciated than when you compare the genuine DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve with the many counterfeits that are on the market. W. S. Ledbetter, Shreveport, La., says: "After using numerous other remedies without benefit, one box of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured me." For blind, bleeding, itching and protruding piles, the only cure is DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Sold by Dr. H. F. Hoover.

"What's the charge?" the justice asked the officer who had brought in the object of the law on the docket. "Vagrancy, yer honor."

"Are you homeless?" the justice asked the prisoner. "Temporarily," was the reply. "What did you work last?" asked the justice. "Well, about a year ago I had a drug store, but—"

"And you couldn't make a living with a drugstore?" exclaimed the justice excitedly, leaning over the bar. "Ninety days! A man who can't make a living with a drug store ought to be put away permanently!"

"I have been troubled with my stomach for four years," says D. L. Beach, Clover Nook Farm, Greenfield, Mass. "A few days ago I was induced to buy a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. I have taken a part of them, and I feel a great deal better." If you have trouble with your stomach, try a box of these tablets. You are certain to be pleased with the result. Price 25c. For sale by Bamberg Pharmacy.

A strange coincidence happened out in Missouri recently. William Strange married a Miss Martha Strange. Strange isn't it? But the next news will be a little stranger.

Apocreas. W. H. Harrison, Cleveland, Miss., writes, Aug. 15, 1902: "I want to say a word of praise for Ballard's Snow Liniment. I suffered from a neuralgia which caused the chords in my leg to contract, and an abscess to rise on my knee, and the doctor told me I would have a stiff leg, so one day I went to J. F. Lord's drug store (who is now in Denver, Colo.) He recommended a bottle of Snow Liniment, and I used a 50c size, and it cured my leg. It is the best liniment in the world."

Abcesses, with few exceptions, are indicative of constipation or debility. They may, however, result from blows, or from foreign bodies, such as splinters, thorns, etc. Sold by Dr. H. F. Hoover, Bamberg.

Not as They Used to Be. Things have "changed" in the past quarter of a century. These sore years ago the average boy would go out on Sunday, climb a tree and partake of a few quarts of mulberries, and top off with a pocket full of green apples and salt. The next morning the mother diagnosed the trouble, took a whack at him with pearl handled knives, and he is turned over to his friends or the undertaker.—Freepost (Ill.) Journal.

In the last analysis nobody knows, but we do know that it is under strict law. Abuse that law even slightly, pain results. Irregular living means derangement of the organs, resulting in constipation, headache or liver trouble. Dr. King's New Life Pills quickly re-adjusts it. It's gentle, yet thorough. Only 25c at J. B. Black, Bamberg; H. C. Rice, Denmark.

"It is hard luck," said one of Job's comforters. "What is your latest suggestion?" was the patient inquiry. "If you had lived a few years later you might have made a fortune writing testimonials for proprietary medicines."

A Boy's Wild Ride "Far Life." With family and expecting him to die, a son riding for life 18 miles, to get Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, W. H. Brown, Leesville, Ind., endured death's agonies from asthma, but this wonderful medicine gave instant relief and soon cured him. He writes: "I now sleep soundly every night." Like marvelous cures of consumption, pneumonia, bronchitis, coughs, colds and grip prove matchless merit for all throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed bottles 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at J. B. Black, Bamberg; H. C. Rice, Denmark.

What She Thought of Him.

A little girl, suffering with toothache, was in his chair to have the tooth removed. She refused to let him proceed at first, being afraid to let him touch her, "It won't hurt you, little one," said the dentist. "There, now, open your mouth. It won't hurt."

Half a minute's work removed the tooth, and as the little girl cried softly the dentist said: "You see, I told you it wouldn't hurt? What do you think of me, now?" Looking up at him with her big brown eyes she replied: "I think you are the biggest liar in town." The dentist was telling people that tooth-pulling don't hurt.

The Pleasure of Eating. Persons suffering from indigestion, dyspepsia or other stomach troubles will find that Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat, and keeps the stomach sweet. This remedy is a never failing cure for indigestion and dyspepsia and all complaints affecting the glands and membranes of the stomach according to common sense. "I never heard tell of no Court decision based on no common sense before," said the justice of the peace. The Major said that the more he reflected on the matter the more convinced he became that the justice of the peace was right.

Story of "Bill Arrp." I heard the Major tell of a "cracker" justice of the peace who came to him for advice. Said the justice of the peace: "See here, Lawyer Smith, I got a case on my mind. You've got two lawyers each argued his respective side of this 'tarnal case, but neither one cited a precedent. Now, I just decides all cases by counting the number of precedents cited, and I give the party for plaintiff and left hand fingers for defendant. Now, darn my buttons if either one of them skunks has gin me anything to hang a decision on!" The Major told him to decide according to common sense. "I never heard tell of no Court decision based on no common sense before," said the justice of the peace. The Major said that the more he reflected on the matter the more convinced he became that the justice of the peace was right.
