Grand Chancellor Makes Appeal Against Mob Violence.

CHARLESTON, Sept. 21.-Grand Chan-cellor M. Rutledge Rivers issued today his first circular letter to the Knights of Pythias of the State, in the course of which he makes an appeal to the members of the order to discourage lynching, and of course not to participate in any movement of the kind. He takes the position to obey the lawful authorities, and participation in lynching bees is not in accord dotes. with this obligation.

Proceedings of Court.

When we went to press last week the case against Geo. Toomer, a negro, charged with murder, was being tried. The jury remained out all night and a mistrial was ordered. Toomer was put in jail, the judge refusing bond.

Richard and Sam Butterfield, the two negroes found guilty of assault and battery with intent to kill, were sentenced to two years each on the chain gang. Isaiah Bartley, one of the negroes charged with the killing of the young white man, Willie Cutter, at Midway last winter, was tried and found guilty of manslaughter. He was sentenced to four years on the chain gang, but he was given bond as the attorneys appealed his case to the State Supreme Court.

Wm. Curry, a negro, was found guilty of assault and battery of a high and aggravated nature and sentenced to eighteen months on the county chain gang.

Daniel Jenkins, grand larceny, not guilty; Alex Dickerson, breach of trust, not guilty; Ed. Kirkland, grand lar-ceny, not guilty. Kirkland was charged with stealing a bale of cotton from the depot platform, belonging to Mr. H. F.

Friday the court of general sessions adjourned and civil cases were taken up. In the case of Jones Bros. vs. the Southern Railway, the jury found a verdict for plaintiff for $113.53, and $50 penalty. This was a suit for goods destroyed in the depot fire.

A. R. Dempsey vs. the Western Union Telegraph Company, a suit for damages for delaying a telegram, was tried and a verdict found for Dempsey for $300.

D. W. Shealy and wife vs. Western Union Telegraph Company-a suit for damages for delay in delivery of telegram. The jury found for the company. The case of J. M. Parker against Stokes & Steedley was dismissed, as the plaintiff was not present.

A number of orders were taken and some equity business transacted, and court adjourned yesterday morning.

The judge issued a bench warrant for Charley, Joe and Junior Kinsey, charged with the murder of a negro near Ehrhardt, but they have not been arrested at the time of this writing Wednesday. The sheriff, through his attorney, appealed to the judge on a question as to whether he should receive pay for summoning witnesses out of the county, and the judge decided that he was not entitled to pay under the law. The sheriff had summoned some witnesses for the county over in Orangeburg, in the case of J. W. ## The Price of Cotton.

The Southern Cotton Association has fixed ten cents as the minimum price with Midshipman Copeland; Miss Zeig-ler with Mr. Walker; Miss Jennings with Mr. Ben Wyman; Miss Smith with Mr. pound. The average planter does not justify the production of a crop beyond the actual necessities of the commercial world, and if the farmers will market their cotton conservatively, the demand from the mills will bring the price to the minimum set by the association.

As soon as the trade awakes from the aypnotic influence of the cotton gambler, who has been predicting a "bumper" crop, the prices will assume a higher level. Sell cotton only as an absolute neces-sity. Every bale held will mean money in the pockets of the farmers.
