Of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the Great Woman's Remedy for Woman's Ills.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM

No other medicine for Woman's ill in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of cures of female illnesses or such hosts of grateful friends as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For more than 30 years it has been curing all forms of Female Complaints, Inflammation and Ulceration, and consequent Spinal Weakness. It has cured more cases of Backache and Local Weakness than any other one remedy. It dissolves and expels tumors in an early stage of development. Irregularities and periodical pains, Weakness of the Stomach, Indigestion, Bloating, Nervous Prostration, Headache, General Debility quickly yield to it; also deranged organs, causing pain, dragging sensations and backache. Under all circumstances it acts in harmony with the female system. It removes that wearing feeling, extreme lassitude, "don't care" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feeling, excitability, irritability, nervousness, dizziness, faintness, sleeplessness, flatulency, melancholy or the "blues". These are indications of Female Weakness, or some derangement of the organs, which this medicine cures as well as Chronic Kidney Complaints and Backache, of either sex. Those women who refuse to accept anything else are rewarded a hundred thousand times, for they get what they want—a cure. Sold by Druggists everywhere. Refuse all substitutes.

UTTERLY WORN OUT.

Vitality Sapped by Years of Suffering With Kidney Trouble.

Capt. J. W. Hogan, former postmaster of Indianapolis, now living at Austin, Texas, writes: "I was afflicted for years with pains across the loins and in the hips and shoulders. I had headache also and neuralgia. My right eye, from pain, was of little use to me for years. The constant flow of urine kept my system depleted, causing nervous chills and night sweats. After trying seven different climates and using all kinds of medicine I had the good fortune to hear of Doan's Kidney Pills. This remedy has cured me. I am as well to-day as I was twenty years ago, and my eyesight is perfect."

SAME AS LYNCHING

Tillman Lambasts Roosevelt Anent Brownsville Affair.

WIELDS HIS PITCHFORK

Carolina Senator, in Sensational Harangue, Holds President Responsible for Outrage Which He Later Punished.

"The president's action in dismissing these men was nothing more nor less than lynching."

This was only one of many bitter exclamations made by Senator Tillman in a speech on the floor of the senate Saturday afternoon on the Brownsville affair. It was regarded as the most violent address ever delivered by the South Carolinian before that body.

In a voice heavy with emotion, he charged President Roosevelt with having revived the race issue and with bringing about conditions more threatening than those of 1861.

"The president is primarily more responsible than any other man for the position the negroes, in the South and out of it, have taken on the question of negro rights," he declared. "He gave recognition to Booker T. Washington in a social way. He did it knowingly, flying in the face of the feelings of caste among 17,000,000 white people in the South, and against the same feeling of two-thirds of the people of the North."

"He does not understand the negro or the deep and vital character of the issues involved. He made a mess of it in the first instance in the Booker Washington case, and has made a worse mess of it in the Brownsville case."

Senator Tillman spoke with unusual emphasis and reminded his hearers of the old days when he received his title of "pitchfork."

After quoting the president's Brownsville message, in which the president declared that each man should be dealt with on his merits as a man and not have his conduct judged because of his color, Mr. Tillman shouted: "Is President Roosevelt ready to act upon this theory and have his children marry men and women of the other races?"

"Would he accept as a daughter-in-law a Chinese, a Malay, an Indian or a negro in accord with the doctrine laid down in his message? "We all know he would not, and while 'fine words butter no parsnips,' words like his are a source of incalculable evil, coming from that high source."

Discussing the Brownsville case, he said:

"There is no doubt of the guilt of some of the soldiers as being responsible for the outrage at Brownsville, but it is contrary to the fundamental principles of liberty and of English and American law that the innocent should suffer because of the sins of the guilty. In this case 167 men have been punished while not more than twenty have ever been charged with participation in the crime."

"The troops never should have been sent to Brownsville. It was done against the protests of one senator and members of congress from that district and done in the face of the record of the Twenty-Fifth Infantry."

In his conclusion, speaking of the amalgamation of the races, the senator said: "In Cuba the color line has been obliterated and miscegenation is in full blast. At the North, the same conditions exist and a large number of mulattoes and quadroons with white blood in their veins, who have migrated there, are the leaders in the doctrine of absolute social equality, encouraged as they have been and are now being by the president of the United States."

"The Southern white men and women who have for forty years resisted in every possible way the doctrine of the equality of the races are just as resolved now as they have always been not to submit to it, or its results."

"The conditions are growing worse and more aggravated every day. Race antagonism increases in intensity. Are things to drift until dire tragedies multiply on every hand and blood shall flow like water? Is the statesmanship of our time inadequate to cope with this question just as the statesmanship of 1860 failed to prevent the dire catastrophe of civil war?"

"That war was fought to settle the race question, but forty years after its termination, we find conditions more threatening in some of their respects than they were in 1861."

SENATOR BAILEY MUST ANSWER

An Investigation Resolution Passed in Texas Legislature.

A resolution providing for a sweeping investigation of the conduct of United States Senator J. W. Bailey was introduced in the Texas house of representatives at Austin Wednesday. It is signed by twenty-eight members of the legislature. Senator Bailey's term expires on March 4.

THE NAVY'S COSTLY BUNTING.

Each Ship Carries 250 Flags—The Total Expense is $60,000 a Year.

Stowed away on every ship of the United States Navy, from tugboat to 16,000 ton battleship, is a bundle of flags, shoulder high and about fifteen feet long. About half the lot is composed of foreign flags, which are encased in thick paper bags, with the name of the country stencilled on the end of the bag. The remainder, including those for ordinary use, are not wrapped, but tied in round bundles and lettered. The pile contains 250 flags, the regulation number each ship must carry.

The making of this number of flags costs the United States $60,000 a year, of which $43,000 is paid for material alone. Each ship has forty-three foreign flags on board constantly. These flags are twenty-five feet long and thirteen feet wide. With these on board the ship is prepared to meet and show the proper courtesies which naval etiquette demands to all nations whose high officials should come aboard or whose waters the vessel should enter while on a cruise.

As a ship's quota of flags is renewed every three years, it is no small job to keep enough flags on hand, and to this end Uncle Sam keeps a large flag making establishment running at full blast the year round at the Brooklyn navy yard. Here there are nearly one hundred skilled needle-women working every day of the year, except Sundays and holidays, cutting the vari-colored bunting into strips and sewing and stitching them together in their proper place.

The most difficult part of the work is the making of the foreign flags, for some of them, be it known, are fearfully and wonderfully made. Take, for example, the flag of San Salvador. In the back is a belching volcano, pouring forth its lava and white smoke. On the sides of the mountain is the green foliage and shrubbery. Directly in front is a tranquil sea of sapphire blue. Above the volcano is a rising sun set in a design of overflowing cornucopias, and a diamond, from which the rays are scintillating in every direction. To the right and left of the volcano are draped, in varied design, banners which laboriously try to pattern the Stars and Stripes, and yet not show the plagiarism. Around the whole concatenation is a wreath of cactus lovingly embracing the volcano, while at the top the date of the country's independence is inscribed.

To make a flag of San Salvador cost the Government just $52.50, and when one of these flags is placed on each battleship every three years it can be readily seen that the insignificant little republic to the south of us is really costing the taxpayers of the country more than they would care to admit.

Then there is the flag of China, with its long, crawling, mythical blood red dragon. To make that flag costs the Government something like $40. The flag of Costa Rica, with its scenic beauty of mountain and sea, costs $50, nearly as much as the costliest of them all, that of San Salvador.

The largest flag made by Uncle Sam's flag makers is the United States ensign No. 1, which is thirty-six feet long and nineteen feet wide. It costs $40 to turn out a flag of this style.

The President's flag, while not the largest, requires the longest time of any to make, as it takes one woman a whole month to finish it.—Washington Post.

THE POPULAR IMPRESSION.

"Minnie," said the young man, whose heart was thumping violently, "do you know that everybody—er—says—says—that we—we are engaged?"

"I suppose, Harold," she answered, "everybody thinks that—that we ought to be, by this time."

After that it wasn't long until everybody knew it.—Chicago Tribune.

COSTLY PRESSURE.

Heart and Nerves Fail on Coffee.

A resident of a great Western State puts the case regarding stimulants with a comprehensive brevity that is admirable. He says: "I am 56 years old and have had considerable experience with stimulants. They are all alike—a mortgage on reserved energy at ruinous interest. As the whip stimulates but does not strengthen the horse, so do stimulants act upon the human system. Feeling this way, I gave up coffee and all other stimulants and began the use of Postum Food coffee some months ago. The beneficial results have been apparent from the first. The rheumatism that I used to suffer from has left me. I sleep sounder, my nerves are steadier and my brain clearer. And I bear testimony also to the food value of Postum—something that is lacking in coffee." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. There's a reason. JAPS POSTPONE VISIT.

Government Fears to Risk Sending Fleet of Warships to Pacific Coast Because of Agitation.

According to a dispatch from Tokio, the Japanese government has decided that on account of anti-Japanese agitation on the Pacific coast, the training squadron will not visit the Pacific coast, but will go as far as Honolulu only.

Members of the California delegation in congress, in discussing Thursday night the decision of the Japanese government, expressed the opinion that San Francisco would have extended a welcome to the fleet. Representative Kahn suggested the action of the Tokio government may have been on advice of the Japanese consul general at San Francisco.

"I think," said Mr. Kahn, "that I know the people of California well enough to say that the great masses of population would resent any harm that might be done the mikado's seamen should they visit San Francisco. While the people of California are opposed to the wholesale importation of Japanese coolies, we respect the rights of the Japanese who are now here, and the training squadron would certainly be as safe in the bay of San Francisco as in a home port."

Massano Hanihara, second secretary of the Japanese embassy at Washington, said that Viscount Aoka, the Japanese ambassador to the United States, has not been officially notified of the Tokio decision not to allow the training squadron to proceed to San Francisco.

"The visit of a Japanese fleet to the Pacific coast at this time," said Mr. Hanihara, "might occasion a renewal of the controversy, and as the Japanese government is desirous of maintaining the present cordial relations with this government, it has been considering for several weeks the advisability of postponing the visit of the fleet to the Pacific coast."

Mr. Hanihara stated most positively that the question of the fleet or the Japanese seamen being in danger at San Francisco had not been considered, or even suggested.

TRIAL STOPPED BY LAW.

Hargis Case in Jackson, Kentucky, Abruptly Ended.

The trial of Judge James Hargis on the charge of participating in the assassination of Dr. E. D. Cox in Jackson, Ky., three years ago, was postponed there Thursday as the result of prohibition issued by the court of appeals of Kentucky. This writ was granted upon the application of Attorney General N. B. Hays and James R. Adams, commonwealth's attorney for the second judicial district.

The petitioners allege that special Judge William Carnes of Williams-town, who was appointed by Governor Beckham to try the case of Judge Hargis and others charged with the assassination of Dr. Cox, is conducting the trial in an arbitrary manner and is overstepping the bounds of the law.

The principal objection to Judge Carnes is his ruling that temporarily suspended Sheriff Brook Crawford and the naming of Robin Burton as an elisor. The petitioners allege that Judge Carnes has directed the elisor to summon bystanders for the jury, which is in violation of a statute passed at the last session of the legislature.

Judge Carnes said that he thought the writ would be dismissed on a demurrer which he would file when he reached Frankfort.

Senators Decide That Salary Question Belongs to the House.

The senate finance committee refused to take any action upon the question of an increase of 50 per cent in congressional salaries. The measure was brought up and discussed at some length. It was stated that this class of legislation belonged exclusively to the house.

FARMERS MINUS MAILS

Because They Insisted on Bucking Against Colored Carrier.

The trouble over colored postal officials at Indianola and Hattiesburg, Miss., has a parallel in Trigg county, Kentucky, where service on an entire rural route has been discontinued by Washington because the farmers decline to accept mail from a negro rural carrier.

W. L. George, the negro carrier, is out of a job, and farmers for miles are compelled to go to "The Springs" for their mail.

COTTON MILLS CLOSE DOWN.

Two in North Carolina Financially Embarrassed and Go to Wall.

A flurry was created in Charlotte, N. C., financial circles Friday by the announcement that two big cotton mills, the Vermont and the Southern, at Ressemer City, in Gaston county, had gone to the wall.

It is understood that immediate application is to be made by creditors to have Caesar Cone, the Greensboro mill magnate appointed receiver.

Always to Be Depended Upon.

When a person gets up in the morning with a dull headache and a tired, stretched feeling, it is an almost certain indication that the liver, or bowels, or both, are decidedly out of order.

At such times Nature, the wisest and best of all doctors, takes this means to give warning that she needs the help and gentle assistance which can best be obtained from that old family remedy, Brandreth's Pills, which has been in use for over a century.

They are the same fine laxative tonic pill your grandparents used, when doctors were few and far between and when people had to have a remedy that could absolutely be depended upon.

Brandreth's Pills can be depended upon and are sold in every drug and medicine store, either plain or sugar-coated.

Some new testimony as to the efficiency of Chinese body servants is furnished by a Philadelphian, who returned from the Philippines, and who brought a Chinaman who had served him faithfully there as a valet. It took John but a short time to learn the new ways of his master in this city, the new lingo and some other new things, and all went well until it came to a question of cleaning out a shoe trunk. The master, in looking over the stock, picked up a pair of low shoes that had seen better days. "These you may throw away," he said to John, "and these (picking up another pair) I want soled." Next day John came to his master with 35 cents. "Shoes I sold not much good," he said. "Only catch 35 cents."—Philadelphia Record.
