Col. Jas. T. Bacon Coming.

On the evening of February 8, the people of Bamberg will have the opportunity of hearing Col. Jas. T. Bacon, the cultivated and distinguished editor of the Edgefield Chronicle, in one of his charming and unique entertainments.

This entertainment, which will consist of rare and beautiful piano selections along with sketches from his own brilliant pen, will occur in the Fitting School chapel, Friday evening, February 8, beginning at 8 o'clock, admission 35 cents; to all students 25 cents.

Col. Bacon paid Bamberg a visit some years ago, and charmed the populace, hence, we need only to remind the younger element who have not heard him that there is a rare treat in store for them. He is a gentleman of the old school, courtly, cultured, refined, and entirely original both in his writings and in his executions, he being a most accomplished and brilliant pianist. He will give you Gottschalk's "Last Hope" or "Hell Broke Loose in Georgia," in his own inimitable style.

The proceeds of this attraction will be applied to a worthy charitable cause, under the direction of the Woman's Home Mission society.

If there is any man who knows good music when he hears it, that man is Editor James T. Bacon, of the Edgefield Chronicle. His very soul vibrates in symphonies which the morning stars might envy.—Augusta (Ga.) Evening Herald.

Col. Bacon is not only a fine lecturer and fine musician, but withal a fine gentleman, and as noble a patriot as lives in South Carolina.—Sumter (S. C.) Freeman.

It would be difficult to spend an evening so thoroughly filled with enjoyment as that furnished last night by Col. Bacon to his audience.—Greenville (S. C.) Daily News.

Col. Bacon's delivery is as quaint and charming as the subject matter of his address. He cannot fail to please.—Charleston (S. C.) Evening Post.

In Memoriam.

Written For THE HERALD.
 (Lines affectionately dedicated to Dr. Brabham on the death of his wife.)

Oh! Angel of death thou hast taken away
 The sweetest of earth's rare flowers,
 And left our hearts sore, sad and lone,
 And oh! such dreary hours.

We loved her so, her gentle smile
 Would brighten the darkest day,
 And when thy wings came fluttering near,
 We shuddered and turned away.

Gone in the beautiful Spring of life
 From those who loved her well,
 Gone from a world of sin and pain
 Mid scenes of bliss to dwell.

We miss her in our mission work,
 She was zealous, kind and true;
 We miss her in the Sunday-school,
 And the league misses her too.

We miss her in the choir,
 That sweet and gentle tone
 Has joined the angel chorus
 Around the Great White Throne.

Not dead, but only gone before,
 To wait our coming on that shore,
 Where sickness and sorrow enter not,
 And partings are no more.

Then, Vance, don't let your heart be weary,
 Or grieve for your darling, absent dead;
 Don't let your fondest hopes be buried,
 Down in that dark and narrow bed.

But look upward, press onward, faith the star
 To guide your feet up the mansions of love,
 And let hope whisper fondly when sad is your heart,
 Of the blessed reunion that waits you above.

And when a down the rolling river
 You too float by the sun set sea,
 Softly you'll enter the evening shadow
 Into the light where she waits for thee.

Mrs. J. M. JENNINGS.

Gone Forever.

Ten years ago an Allen county, Kansas, farmer put his initials on a dollar bill. The next day he went to the nearest town and spent it with a merchant. Before the year was out he got the dollar back. Four times in six years the dollar came back to him for produce and three times he heard of it in the pockets of his neighbors. The last time he got it back was four years ago. He sent it to a mail order house. He has never seen that dollar since, nor never will. That dollar bill will never pay any more school or road tax for him, will never build or brighten any of the homes of the community. He sent it entirely out of the circle of usefulness to himself and his neighbors. Don't send your money to mail order houses, but trade in your home town and you may get it again.

Builds up waste tissue, promotes appetite, improves digestion, induces refreshing sleep, gives renewed strength and health. That's what Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea does. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. H. F. Hoover.

CRAZED BY SNAKE IN JUG

Hired Man, Thinking He "Has 'Em," Goes Raving Mad at Sight of Serpent.

By placing a live snake in a water jug fellow harvest hands made a raving maniac of Peter Deuser on the farm of Joseph Andover, near Water-ville, Wash.

Deuser has been in America but three months. He left Germany while under the effects of liquor, according to his explanation, and he had been trying to drown his disappointment over his escapade in drink. He was just recovering from a spree when his companions conceived the idea that to place a snake in the water jug might teach Deuser a lesson. A harmless reptile was captured, deposited in the jug and corked up.

Deuser's thirst caused him to seek the jug, and the jokers watched his actions with great interest. He removed the cork and had the jug within two inches of his lips when the head of the reptile emerged. With a wild scream Deuser hurled the jug to the ground and ran until he reached the Columbia river, six miles distant. He plunged into the stream and lapped the water like a dog. He was wading into deep water when his pursuers captured him.

PHONOGRAPH KEEPS HER DYING WORDS

Wife Talks Daily Into Cylinder So Husband May Always Hear Her Voice.

With death near at hand, Mrs. Edward J. Mungen, the wife of a wealthy oil operator of Fostoria, O., talks daily into a phonograph so that when she shall have passed away her voice may cheer her sorrowing husband.

Together the Mungens have made a tour of the world, and in each place of interest they visited Mrs. Mungen has recorded upon the cylinder her impression of the sights seen. Besides, much of the conversation between herself and her husband is recorded by the phonograph.

When the physicians at Fostoria and Toledo pronounced the "death sentence" upon Mrs. Mungen, who is now seventy-one years old, they said she probably would live longer if taken to other climates. Thereupon the Mungens set out upon a globe encircling tour. The other day they arrived in Denver, having come from India via Victoria, Seattle, Portland and Salt Lake. If the doctors think Mrs. Mungen's present-state of health will permit they will make a tour of Colorado. Upon arriving here Mrs. Mungen's first act was to repeat into the phonograph her impressions of the sights between here and Salt Lake. She has a little chest in which she keeps cylinders, which contain comments neither her husband nor any one else has ever heard. These will be repeated to him by the machine after Mrs. Mungen dies.

HER WORDS WILL BE REPEATED TO HIM.

"It will be like making another tour of the world with Mrs. Mungen," he said. He is sixty-eight years old, but possesses a rugged constitution.

Butterflies Hide the Sun.

Myriads of butterflies, all moving in a general southerly direction over St. Louis, attracted much attention on a recent afternoon, particularly in the business streets. Broadway was dotted with little groups of men who craned their necks and shaded their eyes against the sun while they stared at the unusual spectacle. Occasionally the clouds of butterflies were so thick that they obscured the sun. The butterflies were very large, some measuring about three inches from tip to tip of their wings, and were of a flock occasionally circling, but all maintaining a general progress southward.

Cooked in a Boiler.

Literally cooked alive in a boiler into which steam was turned by mistake, Boiler-maker Gustav F. Friend, thirty years old, of Vincennes, Ind., lived five hours, with his flesh dropping from him in chunks. He remained conscious and arranged all his worldly affairs, bade his family goodby and then prayed with his pastor until death came.

Mrs. Helen L. Bullock.

Mrs. Helen L. Bullock, national organizer of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, spent last Thursday and Friday in Bamberg in the interest of the work. She spoke Thursday and Friday nights in the Methodist church, and those who heard her were charmed. She impresses one as being very much in earnest, and her plea for the salvation of men and boys from the curse of strong drink, very deeply impresses her hearers.

She is not fanatical nor extravagant in her statements, but has at her command facts and figures to substantiate her arguments. It is to be regretted that more of our people did not hear her. It is seldom that we have an opportunity to hear so cultured and sensible a woman on a subject of so great importance to us.

The result of her visit was the organization of a local union. All the women of the town and community are invited to become members, and the men may become associate members.

The body of Judson Kirby, a young white man, 18 years old, was found in the town of Union last Tuesday afternoon dead with a pistol lying by his side. It is supposed he committed suicide. He was employed at the knitting mill there.

Possesses wonderful medicinal power over the human body, removing all disorders from your system, is what Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea will do. Makes you well, keeps you well. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. H. F. Hoover.

Pandemonium at a Circus.

A serious riot occurred at Coal Island, County Tyrone, on Monday night, in which some circus performers and a mob of about 400 people were concerned.

The trouble arose through a man, who was examining the circus wagons, refusing to move off after being requested to go by a member of the circus company. The man then appears to have been roughly handled by some of the circus party, whereupon a crowd quickly gathered and attacked the circus with bricks and stones. They seemed likely to attempt a rush, but eight or nine of the performers, armed with "property" revolvers and swords, charged on horseback, temporarily scattering their assailants.

Shortly afterwards the police arrived and flung themselves between the combatants, three constables being injured in the struggle.

After two hours' pandemonium, Father Brown succeeded in dispersing the crowd, but the circus had to leave the town.—London Daily Mail.

That's the house the Doctor built,
 The biggest house you see;
 Thank goodness he don't get our money,
 For we take Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. H. F. Hoover.
