 Washington, Oct. 26.—The census report on cotton issued to-day shows a total of 6,283,780 bales, counting round as half bales, ginned from the growth of 1908, up to October 18, and a total of 25,440 active ginneries. This is as compared with 4,420,258 bales ginned for 1907, 4,431,621 for 1906, 4,990,566 for 1905, and 6,417,894 for 1904. The number of active ginneries in 1907 was 24,926, for 1906 26,125 and for 1905 was 26,577.
 Round bales included this year number 115,438, as compared with 97,957 for 1907; 132,144 for 1906 and 146,574 for 1905. Sea Island bales aggregate 32,462 for 1908; 18,775 for 1907; 12,091 for 1906 and 31,487 for 1905. The report by States, giving bales and counting round bales as half bales, and active ginneries, respectively, is as follows:
 Alabama 690,788 and 3,295; Arkansas 347,108 and 1,934; Florida 34,577 and 231; Georgia 1,119,617 and 4,250; Kentucky and New Mexico 566 and 2; Louisiana 206,027 and 1,499; Mississippi 621,423 and 3,190; Missouri 20,234 and 66; North Carolina 276,173 and 2,443; Oklahoma 131,578 and 862; South Carolina 659,076 and 3,046; Tennessee 132,227 and 581; Texas 2,041,570 and 3,978; Virginia 2,816 and 63.
 The report also announces that the corrected statistics of the quantity of cotton ginned this season to September 25 as 2,590,639 bales.
 The lumber business in South Carolina, which, as a result of the money panic last fall, has been almost at a complete standstill for many months past, has begun to show signs of reviving in the last three months, but there has not been sufficient improvement to make those connected with the industry feel particularly optimistic as yet.
 Not for Herself.
 Nan's mother heard her crying after she had gone to bed, and, upon inquiry, learned that the child, having heard for the first time the parable of the sheep and the goats, was in terror lest she should "be a goat." Her grandfather, a clergyman, tried to comfort Nan, and finally succeeded in convincing her that if she led a "godly, righteous and sober life" she need not fear the objectionable classification. However, the next night Nan was again the victim of her emotions, and her mother insisted that the scene of the previous night must not be repeated.
 "But oh, mamma," sobbed the child, "this is different. Grandfather explained all about me, and I am not afraid for myself now. But, oh, mamma, what if you should be a goat?"—Delineator.

NON-SUIT GRANTED.

Peter B. Zeigler Loses His Case Against W. R. DeHon.
 St. George, Oct. 25.—Judge Robt. Aldrich Friday morning granted a non-suit in the case of Peter B. Zeigler against W. R. DeHon. At the conclusion of the plaintiff's testimony Mr. H. A. M. Smith, as attorney for Mr. DeHon, moved for a non-suit. He based his motion upon the defenses set up in the answer and his plea in bar, and contended that the alleged libelous letter was a privileged communication. He argued that there were no grounds to support the charge of malice as charged in the complaint.
 The arguments were heard on Thursday afternoon, but Judge Aldrich reserved his decision until yesterday morning, when he announced that the non-suit would be granted. He based his ruling on the ground that the letter in question was a privileged communication.
 Mr. Wm. C. Wolfe, of counsel for Zeigler, made a forceful reply to the defendant's attorney's motion.
 The case which is rather unusual, has created considerable interest. Zeigler, who is a resident of Summerville, accepted a position in Albany, Ga., and during his residence there, according to the complaint, a report was circulated to the effect that he was not of pure Caucasian blood.
 A citizen of Albany wrote to Mr. DeHon, former editor of the Summerville News, for verification of the report. Acting upon this information received from Mr. DeHon a number of Albany citizens called upon Mr. Zeigler and forced him to leave. The complaint alleges that Zeigler was treated in a rude, violent and outrageous manner.
 Mr. DeHon, in his answer, claims that a relative of his in Albany wrote a confidential communication to him, stating that rumors affecting Mr. Zeigler's social standing were current, and in his reply, Mr. DeHon stated that such reports had been circulated at Zeigler's home. The answer alleges that DeHon's letter was a privileged communication, and that, under the circumstances, he had a right to write the letter.
 Several months since Zeigler filed suit against Mr. DeHon for $20,000 as a result of the trouble. An able array of counsel appeared in the case. Mr. Wm. C. Wolfe of Orangeburg and Hon. E. J. Dennis and Gen. M. S. Connor of the local bar represented Zeigler, while Messrs. Mitchell & Smith of Charleston and Judge T. R. Tighe of Summerville appeared in behalf of Mr. DeHon.
