

CAR HORSES & MULES

Direct From St. Louis

We wish to thank the public for their generous patronage in the past and solicit a continuance of their patronage. We have just received a car load of Horses and Mules direct from the largest Horse Market in the United States (East St. Louis.) This stock was carefully selected by our Mr. W. P. Jones, and they are all well broken, gentle, and ready to work. This kind comes high, but we like to sell the best, for we realize that a satisfied customer is the best advertisement.

The Mules

Our stock of Mules consists of several match teams in Bays, Blacks, and Mouse Colors, all of them 4 and 5 years old, well broken, single and double. Are all large and well made, the kind the farmers and mill men like.

The Horses

are as good a lot as we have ever shipped to this market, suitable for all classes of work. We have a pair of black geldings and a pair of gray mares that will make nice carriage teams for family purposes, also a pair of chestnut geldings that is an ideal team for a doctor, also a fancy pair of black mares, 4 years old, sound and gentle.

Some Race Horses for Sale

The racing season is over, and we have decided to offer some good horses for sale. They have all been to the races the past season and won a good per cent. of their races.

The bay gelding, "Bad News," record 2.08 $\frac{1}{4}$, broke the track record for the State of Virginia last September during the Roanoke Fair, going the mile in 2.11 $\frac{1}{4}$. He was separately and officially timed the mile in 2.10 $\frac{1}{4}$. A lady can drive him. The black gelding, "Ben Hur," won several of the stake races on the Virginia-Carolina circuit this season. Has a record of 2.22 $\frac{1}{4}$, and can go much faster.

Also the chestnut gelding, "Jeff McGregor," 2.16, that won two nice races last week, stepping a half dozen miles from 2.16 to 2.18 $\frac{1}{4}$. He is pretty enough for the show ring, a lady can drive him, and he is a profitable race horse.

Also the bay gelding, "Pat F.," 2.22 $\frac{1}{4}$, and is a good horse for the ladies and children.

The bay gelding, Boreal, Jr., is a green horse that can step below 2.20.

Also the green mare, "Lillian C.," that can go in 2.15 and the brown gelding, Be-On-Time, record 2.12.

Also the handsome brown mare, "Belle I." Record 2.20.

If you don't care to race, buy one of these for your wife.

The best evidence of our business dealings is the number of satisfied customers we have in all the counties around, including Berkley, Richland, Aiken, and Richmond county, Ga., having sold several fancy drivers to Augusta parties within the past year.

DARLINGTON NEWSPAPERS.

Mr. Kollock and Solicitor Spears Have Consolidated Interests.

Mr. A. G. Kollock, owner of the Darlington News, and Mr. J. Monroe Spears, the owner of the Darlington Press, have reorganized their respective companies and formed a combination for one newspaper in Darlington, to be known as The News-Press.

As a result of the formation of this company, Darlington will secure a bright and interesting publication and a partnership of the forces will do much toward helping that city to grow. Both of the newspaper men have had years of experience in that locality. The new company will have Mr. A. G. Kollock as president, J. M. Spears as vice president and general manager and M. C. Kilgus as secretary.

Mr. Kollock has business interests in Columbia now and has made many friends in this city.—Columbia State.

THEY CONVICTED HIM.

Wealthy Citizen Found Guilty of Selling Liquor.

Spartanburg, November 18.—Col. walthy citizen of this county, was Aaron Thompson, a bachelor and wealthy citizen of this county, was convicted in the court of general sessions this morning on the charge of selling liquor. Sentence has not been imposed as counsel for the defendant has given notice of appeal.

Col. Thompson lives at Inman, in the upper section of the county, where he has an elegant country home, and is famous for entertaining his friends. Several weeks ago he was suspected of being engaged in the whiskey business, and special constables made out a case against him on the evidence which they secured.

The case was to have been investigated at Inman, but was transferred to Magistrate Golightly at Holly Springs. The hearing did not go lightly, for the colonel was bound over to court. The case was tried this morning and the jury returned a verdict of guilty in fifteen minutes.

Dismisses Charge Against Railroad.

New York, November 20.—The indictment against the New York Central Railroad company, charging manslaughter in the second degree, growing out of the wreck of the Brewster express in this city in February, 1907, in which more than 20 persons were killed, was dismissed to-day upon recommendation of District Attorney Jerome.

Mr. Jerome said that, in view of the fact that the government had been unable to convict Alfred H. Smith, an official of the road, against whom a similar indictment was filed, it would be useless to bring the present case to trial. Upon this representation Justice David in the supreme court granted the motion and dismissed the indictment.

MISTOOK POISON FOR WHISKEY.

M. B. Williams, of Anderson, Drinks Wood Alcohol and Dies.

Anderson, November 19.—M. B. Williams, a well-known man of the city, died this afternoon at 4 o'clock from taking wood alcohol. He had been drinking for several days and had been in his room since Monday. It is said that he mistook the bottle containing the poison for one containing whiskey. Williams was about 50 years old and was a Mason. For the past four years he has been working as assistant to a well-known dentist of the city. The funeral will be conducted by the Masons to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

CONVICTED OF FRAUD.

Bankruptcy Case will be Reviewed in Court of Appeals.

An appeal case from South Carolina that is of more than ordinary interest has been carried up to the United States circuit court of appeals now sitting at Richmond, Va. The case is against Max Cohen who was a merchant at Florence, S. C., and failed and went into voluntary bankruptcy in the fall of 1906. There appeared to be a heavy shrinkage in his assets and he was prosecuted for concealing from his trustees in bankruptcy $5,000 in goods and money and tried and convicted in the United States district court for the district of South Carolina. Cohen has appealed to the circuit court of appeals and the appeal will be heard this week at Richmond. Cohen has numerous grounds of appeal but his main ground is that the district judge allowed the schedules of his debts and assets which he filed in bankruptcy to be admitted against him on this criminal charge. Cohen is the fourth person indicted in this state under the present bankruptcy act and the third to be convicted.

The Sleeping Beauty.

Frederick W. Lehman, the new president of the American Bar Association, was discussing at a dinner in St. Louis a case where some of the evidence had not been above suspicion.

"Well," he said "there were certainly flaws in this evidence—temperamental inexactness, so to speak. It reminded me of the girl in the hammock."

"A pretty girl in a hammock slung in an apple orchard awoke suddenly and frowned at the young man who stood before her."

"You stole a kiss while I was asleep," she exclaimed.

"Well stammered the young man, 'you were sleeping so soundly—you looked so pretty, so tempting, I—yes, I admit I did take one little one.'"

"The girl smiled scornfully."

"One!" said she. "Humph, I counted seven before I woke up!"

TRADING FOR A WIFE.

An Army Officer's Experience With an Indian at Western Fort.

"He says he would like to trade with you for your wife!"—it came out at last. It was a startling proposition indeed. For a moment we were both too breathless to comment. Finally my husband yielded to his impulse for amusement and smiling at me he replied:

"Ask him what he will give for her."

"He says six ponies, lieutenant."

"Oh, tell him she is worth lots more than that."

"He will give you twelve ponies for her."

My husband again replied that he would not trade for any thing like that; so the Indian kept raising his bid. He offered twenty ponies; then twenty ponies and a squaw; and finally twenty ponies, a squaw and a papoose. At length, wearying of the nonsense, my husband nodded his dismissal of the subject. But the Indian seemed to think that the apparent holding out for a higher price constituted a trade when the final offer was not rejected. He appeared satisfied, but soon signified he wished to finish the bargain. Of course, my husband immediately objected. My savage admirer continued unaccountably insistent; and amicably to rid himself of the Indian's importunity my husband told him I was not fit for more travel; that I needed to go to rest at once. Accordingly I entered our tent.

The Indian was not content, and continued, with some of his companions, to hang around the camp. One of the men told them they must now return to their camp, as we were all going to retire. When they had reluctantly departed my husband laughingly told the lieutenant, who had not been present during the parleying, of the incident. The latter looked grave, and expressed a fear that the Indian, in the belief that he had made a trade, might cause trouble when the bargain was not kept. My husband assured him there was no agreement, and that the buck had no basis for such a claim. The lieutenant explained that the failure to reject the last bid and the presence of witnesses to the price haggling was all that the Indian considered necessary to make a binding affair of heart and honor.

Of course, terms had to be reached and my husband, for the only time in his experience with the red men, or as far as I know with any man, agreed to compromise. He bought them off, and appeased their disappointment by a gift of good, hard money and a lot of tobacco.—Army and Navy Life.

It is estimated that New Zealand has an available coal supply of 1,200,000,000 tons, of which not more than 20,000,000 tons have been touched. This was the first of the British colonies to try the experiment of state ownership of colliery property.
