

DIRECT FROM THE BLUE GRASS COUNTRY

Our Mr. J. W. Stokes is back from Tennessee, where he bought the finest load of horses and mules ever brought to this part of the country. They are right from the famous blue grass region of that State, and if you want to see stock that is as "pretty as a picture," come to our stable. They are going fast, of course. Animals as good as these and at the prices we are selling them, will not stay on hand long, so we advise an early selection.

ALL IN THIS LOAD ARE BEAUTIES

Come and see and be convinced that you have never seen such fine stock before. We may have to go for another car load in a few days, but rest assured that we always have a good assortment of both Horses and Mules on hand, and the prices and terms are always right. * * *

In Buggies, Wagons, Harness, Etc.

we are leading as usual. Remember that we are the largest dealers in this part of the State, buy in big lots for spot cash and get all discounts. Therefore our prices are always cheaper than others, and remember that our guarantee is back of everything we sell. Our aim is to handle only the very best goods in our line, and we make it a rule of our business to satisfy every customer. Come to see us.

Joe W. Tolbert Arrested.

Ninety-Six, Jan. 26.—In the mayor's court here yesterday Joe W. Tolbert, who claims to be a deputy United States marshal, was tried on two counts: drunk and disorderly and carrying unlawful deadly weapons. He pleaded guilty to the first count, drunk and disorderly, and was acquitted on the second, that of carrying unlawful deadly weapons.

F. B. Grier represented the town, and Geo. T. McGill the defense, who claimed that his client, by virtue of his office, had a right to lug around concealed pistols. Mr. Grier claimed that he had only a right to do so in the discharge of his duty as United States deputy marshal. Tolbert was fined $50 or 30 days on the public streets of the town of Ninety-Six. He paid his fine.

PROHIBITION BILL VETOED.

Governor Patterson, of Tennessee, Refuses to Sign Measure.

Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 19.—Governor Patterson this afternoon filed with the clerk of the senate a message vetoing the State-wide prohibition bill, which last week was passed by both houses of the legislature. The Governor's action followed adjournment of the senate, after it had passed, on third reading by a vote of 20 to 13, the prohibiting the manufacture in Tennessee of intoxicating liquors.

The veto message will be read to the senate to-morrow morning, when it must be sustained or the bill passed over the executive protest. On original passage the vote was 20 to 13. Opponents, claim to-night that they can count on a change of three senators to their side, and that the fourth member on whose vote the fate of the measure depends, is wavering.

In his veto measure, Governor Patterson charges that such legislation is against the Democratic platform, and the doctrine of self-government; that it sets aside the recorded will of the people; that experience has taught that no arbitrary law was ever obeyed, and its enactment brings no settlement of the question; that it destroys property, reduces State revenues, increases taxation, takes money from the people to send it elsewhere, foments discord, impairs the dignity of the commonwealth, fosters hypocrisy and invites evasion and deceit in the people.

Killed Himself in Church.

Savannah, Ga., Jan. 22.—In a posture of prayer in St. Patrick's church here, and with a bullet hole through the temple, the dead body of Otto Schuetzer, of Philadelphia, was found to-day, several hours after the fatal shot was fired.

Two notes were found, one bequeathing $1 for "St. Anthony's bread," and another expressing regret vaguely that he "had permitted himself to have any ill feeling." Schuetzer had been here but a day, reaching the city aboard a steamer from Philadelphia early this morning.

The shot that killed him was not heard by any one, traffic in the street in front of the church drowning the report. When found the pistol the man had used was lying beside his knees as he knelt in a pew.

For Prohibition in Utah.

Salt Lake, Utah, Jan. 25.—Prohibition that shall be State-wide and absolute is the intent of a bill introduced in the lower branch of Utah's legislative assembly to-day. Under the provisions of the bill, manufacture, sale and giving of intoxicants are prohibited. Supporters of the prohibition bill assert that two-thirds of the membership of the house are pledged in its favor.

FOUND DEAD IN OIL TANK.

Body of Murdered Man Discovered After being Missing Two Weeks...

Martinsville, W. Va., Jan. 24.—The dead body of Wm. Roberts, who has been missing since January 9, was found to-day at the bottom of a 250-barrel oil tank near his home at Wolf, Pa. It was weighted down with iron, the hands were tied behind the back, and a rifle bullet was found in the back of the head. John Hoepf is under arrest on a charge of murdering Roberts, who was his brother-in-law.
