Skull Fractured by Brick.

Anderson Sept. 19.—Bud Duncan, a young mill operative of the Williamston Cotton Mill, got into a row with Frank Young at Williamston this morning and the result was that Young hit Duncan in the head with a brick. Duncan has been brought to the Anderson Hospital, and it has been found that his skull is fractured. The doctors to-day performed an operation on Duncan, and took out a large piece of the skull, and to-night Duncan is in a precarious condition. Sheriff King sent Deputy Stewart to Williamston to bring back Frank Young. He was arrested at the station at that place, about to catch a train to leave.

Placed Under Bond.

Aiken, Sept. 20.—Kinney Munday, the white man from Pine Log bridge, who was suspected of operating the still captured by the officers a few days ago, was arrested Saturday and carried before Magistrate W. M. Smoak for a preliminary. Only one witness was sworn, and Munday was bound over to the circuit court, which convenes in Aiken next Monday, on a charge of operating an illicit distillery.
Munday was released on a bond of $300, which was readily furnished.

Stabbed Fellow Worker.

Spartanburg, Sept. 18.—Varn Willis, of Clifton, was attacked on Magnolia street in front of the court house to-night by Will Rogers, boss of the pool room at Glendale Mills, and cut on the left side of his throat. From what can be learned of the affair there was no provocation for the cutting. Rogers is said to have walked up to Willis and put the knife into him and then skipped out. The sheriff and police have failed to locate Rogers. Willis is seriously wounded.

Woman Dies From Pellagra.

Charlotte, N. C., Sept. 20.—Mrs. Buena Dinkins died at the Presbyterian hospital this morning of pellagra, the eighth victim of the disease since its presence was announced in the community. The woman was taken ill a year ago with what seemed to be diarrhoea. Later eruptions appeared on arms, hands, feet, and ankles, then followed internal inflammation and swollen tongue. She suffered no pain but was emaciated and very weak. Physicians are nonplussed. Seven other cases are now under treatment.
