The Pee-Dee Advocate remarks that more people die from dog bites than snake bites. Yet we kill snakes and pet dogs.

The women of Walterboro and the women of Bamberg are enlisted in civic leagues and they are diligent in improving the looks of their respective towns. A wise young man always searches the towns having industrious civic leagues for June brides.—The State.

Our Industrial Edition.

We have begun the preliminary work on our Industrial Edition, and in a few days we will begin to call on the business men in reference to same. Every one to whom we have talked seems enthusiastic on the subject, and we believe that we can issue a creditable edition if the business men of Bamberg will assist by advertising and write-ups. This edition will no doubt be of great benefit to the town, and while we do not expect to make any money out of it, we cannot afford to stand all the expense. We hope to issue this edition about the first of August, but the date will depend on how soon we can get photographs, cuts, etc. There is a lot of work on such an enterprise as this, and we propose to get it out right, even if it takes three months.

Bamberg Should Follow.

Who does not admire the pluck and public spirit of the citizens of the town of Saluda? They came together one day last week and subscribed $30,000 toward building a railroad, some mortgaging their homes in order to secure the amount subscribed. That is the spirit that builds towns and cities. Mark our prediction that Saluda will soon have railroad connections with the outside world and is destined at no very remote day to be a town of large commercial importance.—Edgefield Advertiser.

Bamberg ought to follow Saluda's example to some extent and we'll soon have another railroad.

SENTENCED TO HANG.

Bethune's Plea of Insanity Does Not Get Him Off.

Manning, June 8.—Willie Bethune was arraigned to-day to have a new day of execution assigned. His counsel interposed a plea of insanity. The question is the defendant herein insane and incapable of understanding the meaning of punishment, was answered no by the jury and Judge Memminger sentenced Bethune to be hanged on Friday, the first day of July next.

KILLED HIS SISTER-IN-LAW.

Henry Jackson Claims Gun was Accidentally Discharged.

Mallory, June 11.—Henry Jackson, a young negro farmer, shot and instantly killed his sister-in-law, Queen Allen, in his house on the farm of Mr. John L. Lane, one and one-half miles from town, early this morning, then threw his gun on the bed and fled to the woods a few yards to the rear of his house where he attempted to end his own life by cutting his throat with the dull blade of an old cheap pocket knife. He inflicted a very ugly, though not necessarily fatal, gash.

Jackson's wife, who was a sister of the dead woman, was the only witness to the affair. She claims, as does Jackson, that the man was in the act of ejecting a shell preparatory to cleaning his gun, when it was accidentally discharged, blowing an ugly hole in the back of the woman's head, where the entire load lodged.

Sheriff Lane and Coroner Gasque were promptly notified by telephone, but have not arrived at this writing.

VISITOR LEAVE WITH WEALTH.

Daughter Shows Where Father Kept His Money Buried.

Spartanburg, June 13.—After showing her cousin over the premises and interesting him in the calf and chickens and garden, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Henderson, in the absence of her parents showed her kinsman where her father kept his money buried.

According to testimony brought out in the hearing to-day, John Reeves was penniless for he had just asked for a loan of 15 cents before being shown the treasure.

After he had been shown the treasure he returned to the house a while and then excused himself and went out and unearthed the money and took $56. He had previously announced his intention of remaining all night with the Hendersons, but on exploring his uncle's hidden wealth and helping himself, he took French leave.

Reeves was bound over to court to-day under a bond of $300.

Aiken Summer School.

Aiken, June 10.—The district summer school will open here in the Institute building Monday at noon. The counties of Barnwell, Bamberg and Aiken will be represented, and it is thought that around seventy-five teachers will be present. The school will be in charge of Prof. Brooker, of the Aiken schools, and he will be assisted by Prof. Powers W. Bethea, Prof. E. P. Allen and Miss Jennie Lou Brown.

Both Factions Beaten.

Late returns from the South Dakota primary indicate that George W. Egan, the independent Republican candidate for governor, has won over Governor Vassey the "progressive" candidate for renomination and S. H. Elford the "starlight" candidate. Egan's supporters claim the election by three to five thousand votes.

A Public-Spirited Citizen.

Every now and then Mr. H. J. Brabham, president of Bamberg Banking Company, brings some friend of his in to show them The Herald office. He does this because he is proud that Bamberg has such a newspaper and it is a good advertisement to let these people know what we have here. And if the parties are not already subscribers to The Herald, Mr. Brabham subscribes for them and pays for it himself. This is also a good advertisement for the town. We commend Mr. Brabham's liberal and progressive spirit to others of our business men. Would that we had more men here like him! If every business man in Bamberg appreciated this newspaper as does Mr. Brabham, we would not have to worry and scheme over how to make both ends meet, and would be in position to do more for the growth of the town.

Wild Girl Found in Woods.

Greenville, June 13.—While making a search in woods near the city to-day for a negro wanted on a trivial charge, Sheriff Poole came upon a young white girl about 16 years old who had almost gone back to the primal state.

The girl was asleep when found lying on a bank of moss near the river bank, and when accosted by the officer she declared that for several weeks she had made her home in the woods living on berries, sleeping in the open. The girl's clothing was wet by the continued rains and she appeared in a somewhat exhausted condition. The sheriff took the girl in custody and placed her in charge of the authorities at emergency hospital in the salvation army citadel. She was later identified as Leonie Anderson and physicians say she has been suffering from temporary mental aberration.

W. T. JONES SPARRING FOR TIME.

Using Every Expedient to Keep Convicted Man from the Pen.

Union, June 13.—At the court of general sessions here this morning with W. B. Gruber, of Walterboro, special judge presiding, the case of W. T. Jones was brought up in the form of a motion for a new trial on the ground of after-discovered evidence.

Efforts were made by the attorneys for Jones to postpone the hearing on account of the illness of one of Jones' attorneys, Stanyarne Wilson, who was operated on over a month ago for appendicitis, the point being raised by the attorneys present that Mr. Wilson, who was ill, had looked after getting up the affidavits in the case and that he was better acquainted with the facts regarding the evidence. They requested the judge to continue the case until conference could be had with Mr. Wilson.

The attorneys for the State took the grounds that the attorneys for the defendant had had ample time to have made all their arrangements and to be ready at this term of court. Further, that by the delaying of the case it caused a further delay in justice and that if the case would be continued this morning it would most probably mean that the case would not come up until the September term of court. Judge Gruber, after hearing arguments from both sides in regard to postponing the motion, decided that the hearing must be proceeded with to-day.

Attorneys for the defendant then proceeded to hear the petition for the new trial and the affidavits in support thereof which were numerous and voluminous and the hearing of them occupied the morning hours. When court reconvened in the afternoon the State presented its affidavits for the purpose of showing why the motion should not be granted. Counsel for the defendant as each affidavit was read, objected to such portions as was considered irrelevant or incompetent. In this way the whole afternoon was consumed.

PASSENGERS WERE ROBBED.

Relieved of Valuables Between Washington and New York.

Baltimore, June 12.—Baltimore detectives are searching for two men who, they believe, robbed Mrs. T. C. Dorer, wife of the vice-president of the Seaboard Air Line, while she was on a train en route from Washington to New York yesterday.

The men, according to advices, after having robbed Mrs. Dorer, left the train at Trenton, N. J., and boarded another train bound south immediately afterward. On this train was Geo. Froehlich, of this city, who was returning from New York. Upon arrival here he reported to the police that he had been robbed of a valuable gold watch either in the tunnel through which the train entered Baltimore or at the station as he was leaving the train, when he recollected, two men jostled him.

Other robberies of the like character have lately been reported to the police and it is said here that the detectives of Philadelphia, Washington and New Jersey towns are also looking for the robbers, who are believed to be clever Pullman and day coach thieves from New York.

Officer Kills Alleged Thief.

Gainesville, Ga., June 12.—Hill Loudermilk, a white man of Isabella, Tennessee, was shot and killed this afternoon from the back of a horse, alleged to have been stolen, by Deputy Sheriff Coffee, of Cherokee county, N. C., who had been pursuing Loudermilk since yesterday. The horse and a mule, it is alleged, were stolen in Cherokee county, and it was learned Loudermilk was making towards this place. In Union county, Georgia, the North Carolina officer enlisted the aid of Sheriff Horne.

Family Feud Draws Blood.

Greenville, Fla., June 11.—One man was killed outright, two others were probably fatally injured, and a fourth badly cut as a result of an inter-family fight here to-day following the trial of a case in court in which Will Jeffcoat and Will Scheffeld were interested. The trouble grew out of a dispute between them. Both men drew knives and Flavius Jeffcoat went to aid his brother Will. Lewis Sheffield, brother of Will Sheffield, came up, and, it is stated, shot and killed Flavius Jeffcoat and shot Will Jeffcoat through the head, fatally wounding him. Will Sheffield was badly cut and is in a dying condition, cut and is in a dying condition badly. All are white men and well-to-do. Further trouble is feared.
