

Two Car Loads Just Arrived

Notwithstanding the large number of Horses and Mules on hand, our customers came for them so rapidly that we were forced to go to market last week, where we bought two car loads—one solid car load of fine Mules and the other a mixed load of Horses and Mules. These were selected in East St. Louis, the largest Horse and Mule market in the world, by Mr. Bamberg personally, and you needn't take our word for their being as good as ever

"Hit the Dirt"

in this part of the country, but come and see for yourself. This new lot of stock have just arrived, and we want you to see them before they are picked over. Some excellent match teams in the lot. We are not only selling stock to the farmers of Bamberg County, but our trade extends all over the low country. People come from a long distance to buy stock from Bamberg because they know his guarantee means something, and that they will find here the largest number on hand of any dealer in the lower tier of counties. Buy where the assortment is full and prices and terms are right and you will buy from

G. FRANK BAMBERG

The Live Stock and Vehicle Man :: :: :: :: :: Bamberg, South Carolina

P. S. We also sell Buggies, Wagons, Harness, and in fact everything that goes with a horse or mule, and our stock is the largest in this part of the country. :: :: :: :: ::

JEFFRIES "DOPED." Not Nervous Collapse in Fight With Johnson. Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 7.—That James J. Jeffries entered the ring with Jack Johnson, at Reno, July 4, a drugged man and not a man suffering from nervous collapse, is the pith of a signed article by Barney Oldfield, which will be published here to-morrow and which has been authorized by the defeated champion. Jeffries, however, will not allow the details concerning the alleged drugging to be published at this time, Oldfield says. According to Oldfield, Jeffries took him into his confidence during a recent hunting trip in the Sierras. Oldfield's statement is in part as follows: "Mental or nervous collapse, Jeff explained, would not have affected him physically for weeks after the fight. The poison which was given him affected his stomach afterward, and for a month he could scarcely retain solid food. His favorite dishes did not possess any charm of taste and his whole body seemed as if stricken with rheumatism. When he began to get over the effects of the 'dope' he felt like a convalescent. He was positive it was no temporary mental or nervous trouble. I begged him to let me give to the world all the information he possessed, but he said he would rather have it come out from another source. He is firm in the belief that the details will all come out within a year or so. Pledged to Secrecy. "Jeffries pledged me to secrecy about the details of the treachery and what he had been able to learn. He told me I was the only man who knew as much as I told you. I promised to aid him in getting some information he cannot get himself. Jeffries's story to me absolved the members of his training camp of any blame—that much I must say in justice to the men who helped me with all their heart. "It was after Jeffries told me this story that I began to marvel at his present physical condition. For the ten days we were in the mountains he performed stunts of endurance that I did not think possible for any man. Never once did he fail and refuse the opportunity to scale difficult peaks. To any man who has ever had a bit of experience in professional athletics, Jeffries's condition, as he proved it day after day, must come as a revelation."	GADSDEN GETS REHEARING. In the Famous Lawrence Case from Charleston. Columbia, January 4.—Phillip H. Gadsden, lawyer, president of the Charleston Consolidated Railways, president of the Charleston Chamber of Commerce and Chairman of the Equalization Board was allowed by the Supreme Court to-day to file a petition asking for a hearing by the court on his professional conduct in the famous Lawrence case, as he is reflected upon seriously in a decree by Judge Robert Aldrich. At his request the court refrained from acting on the motion presented by Gen James Simmons, that the appeal in the Lawrence case be dismissed and the case remitted to the court below for the taking of a consent verdict. The case involves $300,000 worth of Charleston trolley stock and has been compromised by a cash payment of $95,000. The court will later appoint a day for the hearing and designate some attorney to represent the State and prescribe the mode of procedure. The appearance of Mr. Gadsden before the Supreme Court to-day was the outgrowth of the settlement of the suit of Lawrence vs. Lawrence, whereby the widow of the late Dr. J. S. Lawrence, of Charleston, agreed to pay over to the heirs of her husband's half sister, Miss Mary S. Lawrence, the sum of $95,000 as the relatives' share of Dr. Lawrence's holdings. Mr. Gadsden resisted this settlement and announced his intention of appearing before Supreme Court to secure vindication of his conduct, criticism of which had been made by the judge who heard the case. No case of similar nature has attracted wider attention in years than the Lawrence case will. Mr. Gadsden had Miss Mary S. Lawrence, half sister to Dr. Lawrence, sign away her entire interest in the estate, of which his widow was administratrix, for the sum of $500. Relatives of Miss Lawrence, who lived in Georgia, invoked the court to set aside the document secured from Miss Lawrence by Mr. Gadsden, and Judge Aldrich, who heard the matter, severely scored the Charleston attorney and financier for his part in the affair. Mr. Gadsden is largely interested in the traction company of Charleston, and it was largely through his efforts that the property has been brought to a high efficiency. Dr. Lawrence owned 9,200 shares in this company.	Mr. Gadsden was attorney for Dr. Lawrence's widow. Mr. Gadsden carried no one with him to see Miss Lawrence and the signed decree was set aside on the grounds of fraud. Vindication of this charge was the reason for Mr. Gadsden's appearance here. Mr. Gadsden is not only one of the leading lawyers of the State, but is president of the Charleston Consolidated Railways and other Charleston corporations. He is prominently connected and wealthy. NEEDED BREAD, SOLD VOTES. Pitiful Stories Told in Ohio Election Corruption Probe. West Union, Ohio, January 7.—Footsore, ragged, half-starved and weary, three middle-aged men, one a cripple, appeared in Common Pleas Court to-day to acknowledge their guilt of vote-selling. They had walked by the light of lanterns from Rockville, twenty-five miles distant, to tell Judge Blair they had sold their votes last November in order to get money to provide food for their families. The story of the three, John Richter, Page Cook and Asbury Cooper, excited the pity of the court, who gave them a month to pay $5 fines imposed, and disfranchised them for five years. The grand jury to-day after reporting forty-five new indictments, recessed until Wednesday to enable the members to attend to private business affairs, neglected for several weeks. Judge Blair believes that certain workers are withholding some names from the grand jury. A leader in Monroe Township, who, on two previous visits, could give but a few names, to-day reappeared with a list of twenty-five new ones. All of these men, he said, had been bought by him last fall, at a price ranging from $5 to $15. Every male elector in Billtown township has been disfranchised, and only women are qualified to vote at the next election for school trustees, and none but women will be eligible to hold the office of trustee. For the first time in the history of women's suffrage not a man will step to the ballot-box to compete with women voters. Three women have already announced themselves as candidates for trusteeships. The probe has finished its third week, and the results total 1,641 indictments. Of this number 1,350 have been fined and disfranchised. Ninety men to-day received fines and disfranchisements.	EJECTED FROM TRAIN. Baptist Evangelist Put Off at Arden, N. C.—Taken to Hospital. Asheville, N. C., Jan. 6.—For failure to produce his ticket or pay his fare, the Rev. George Cates, a Baptist evangelist, was forcibly ejected from a Southern train at Arden, N. C., yesterday morning and was brought into the Biltmore hospital to-day for the treatment of injuries which he claims to have thus received. Mr. Cates alleges that he came to Asheville from Canton yesterday, en route to Hendersonville, and that he did not have time to exchange his mileage for a ticket, as required by railroad regulations in this State. He claims he offered his mileage book to the conductor and alleges that on his refusal to pay cash he was put off the train and thereby sustained internal injuries. During the united revival services in Columbia Rev. George Cates conducted services in the First Baptist church and in the State house. He is well known in Columbia on account of his stay in that city. Ends Winter's Troubles. To many, winter is a season of trouble. The frost bitten toes and fingers, chapped hands and lips, chilblains, cold-sores, red and rough skins, prove this. But such troubles fly before Bucklen's Arnica Salve. A trial convinces. Greatest healer of burns, boils, piles, cuts, sores, bruises, eczema and sprains. Only 25c. at Peoples Drug Co., Bamberg, S. C. A Thrifty Pensioner. William A. Munson, notary public and pension agent, of Providence, R. I., drew nineteen pensions regularly for years. The government paid him about $20,000. Munson usually kept the pension certificates of his clients in the office, and executed quarterly vouchers for the pensioners. One by one the pensioners died. Munson continued to execute the vouchers, forging the name of the pensioner, and usually that of the identifying witness. He kept up the practice until checks for sixteen dead pensioners were regularly coming to him, besides checks for three pensioners who had remarried and ceased to be entitled to them. Among the beneficiaries was Munson's aunt. She had died in 1887, but he continued to draw her pension until 1897. He also continued to draw for five years the pension of his sister after she had died in her own home in 1892.—World's Work.	WIFE GIVES JOINT AWAY. Leads Sheriff Into Den Where Husband was Playing. Macon, Ga., Jan. 6.—The nerve and heroism displayed by a little wife who presides over what ought to be a happy household in Macon, has literally cut to pieces every point of operations and every joint that affords social comfort for the gambler in Macon. All day long excitement prevailed while the grand jury was in session and indictments enough for a whole month are now in the courts to be passed upon by a jury where the victim is not willing to admit his guilt and pay his fine. The lady who is responsible for the warfare, walked into the office of Sheriff Hicks yesterday and said her husband had not been home in two days. She volunteered to go to a certain place and show the sheriff how to get into an upper room, where he would find a gambling place in operation and her husband there. She did this and a raid followed. Many cases have been made. Goat Causes Child's Death. Florence, Jan. 6.—Willie Coleman, the 6-year-old boy of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Coleman, who was hurt in a runaway accident here a few days ago, died Thursday night in the infirmary here. It will be remembered that the child and his parents and W. L. Lewis and his wife were returning from a visit in the country riding in a surry drawn by a mule. The mule got frightened at a goat and dashed around, turning the vehicle completely over and throwing the occupants to the ground. All of them were bruised a little but the Coleman child was seriously injured about the head and congestion of the brain set in. Escaped With His Life. "Twenty-one years ago I faced an awful death," writes H. B. Martin, Port Harrelson, S. C. "Doctors said I had consumption and the dreadful cough I had looked like it, sure enough. I tried everything, I could hear of, for my cough, and was under the treatment of the best doctor in Georgetown, S. C., for a year, but could get no relief. A friend advised me to try Dr. King's New Discovery. I did so and was completely cured. I feel that I owe my life to this great throat and lung cure." Its positively guaranteed for coughs, colds, and all bronchial affections. 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottle free at Peoples Drug Co., Bamberg, S. C.	HAIRPIN DEFEATS BURGLAR. Attacks Young Lady in Her Home But is Routed. A daring attempt at burglary almost terminated in the more terrible crime of murder was frustrated at Greenwood Tuesday morning at the residence of Mr. Joe Pinson says a dispatch to The State. His daughter, Miss Ruth Pinson, a Winthrop student, heard a noise in the parlor about 6 o'clock. She pushed open the door and was seized by some one within, dragged inside, a cloth was thrown over her head and an attempt was made to push something in her mouth. She could not scream but jerked out a hair pin and began jabbing and scratching her assailant. He in turn made a savage cut directed at her head with some sharp instrument and cut off almost half and began jabbing and scratching her head. Miss Pinson then fainted and the noise of her fall attracted her father who ran into the room. The burglar jumped out of a window and escaped. It is believed that he has on his face marks of the hair pin used by Miss Pinson. The articles which he intended to take away were found outside the window. They included a large number of wedding presents belonging to a sister who was married last Thursday. Although every effort has been made to find a clue nothing has as yet developed as to who the burglar was or in what direction he has fled. SHOT BY WOMAN. J. S. Osborne Probably Fatally Wounded by Negress. Greenville, Jan. 6.—Word reached Greenville at midnight from Anderson telling of the shooting of a well-known liveryman, J. S. Osborne, by Hattie Hutchison, a negress. From meagre details available it is gathered that the woman in a fit of madness went to the stable of Osborne just before midnight and upon entering the place immediately opened fire with a double barreled shotgun. Both loads took effect. It is said that the first load shot off both hands, while the second struck the upper part of the chest. The injured man was taken to the hospital, where it was said he was in a dying condition. The woman was arrested. For all the news all the time, read The Bamberg Herald. You cannot invest a dollar to better advantage.
---	---	--	---	--	--