Per Capita Wealth Increases that Much Over Last Year.

Washington, July 7 .- The American government and people began the new fiscal year with $3,640,407,621, of which all but $363,621,008 is in circulation and the balance held in the treasury vaults as the assets of the federal government. This vast volume of real money breaks all records, so far as the treasury statements show, for the winding up of a fiscal year, and it surpasses a year ago by $84,500,000.

Treasury officials, estimating that the population has grown to 95,866,-000 up to last Monday, say that a prorata distribution of this money would give each person $34.26, or 6 cents more than a year ago.

The total stock of gold in the United States is $1,813,499,440, and of this amount $607,449,193 is in circulation, an increase of $13,500,-000 during the year. The country has $732,163,173 in silver.

Some of the papers have recently devoted attention to the origin of punch, that famous seventeenth century drink which has long lost its poularity in this country, though it still survives to some extent on the continent.

Owing to its intimate connection with rum one might easily have imagined that punch originated in the West Indies. In fact, however, it actually came from the East Indies and the name is said to be derived from the Sanskrit "panscha," five, on account of its five ingredientsarrak (afterward rum,) tea, sugar, lemon and hot water.

The most magnificent bowl of punch the world has ever seen was probably that provided by the Right Hon. Edward Russell, who, when commanding his majesty's forces in distinctly said I thought they made the Mediterranean in 1691, entertained 6,000 guests at Alicante, where a large marble fountain was filled with the liquor, the ingredients being:

Four hogsheads of brandy, a pipe of Malaga wine, 2,500 lemons, twenty gallons of lime juice, eight hogsheads of water, five pounds of grated nutmegs in weight, 300 toasted biscuits and thirteen hundred weight of fine white sugar.-The Caterer.
