

GRAND FALL OPENING

AT HOOTON'S Wednesday and Thursday

SEPTEMBER 22nd AND 23rd

Ladies and Girls, You Are Cordially Invited to Attend
Our Fall Exhibit of

Imported and Domestic Pattern Hats

With MISS ESTELLE RUTLEDGE in Charge.

MISS ETTIE KEARSE, Assistant

In Addition to Our Showing of Pattern Hats

We will show you all that is new in shapes, plumes, feathers, flowers, and in fact everything that is considered stylish in millinery.

This is the opening of Miss Rutledge's seventh season with us. There is a reason. She has pleased the girls and ladies of this and surrounding counties for the last six seasons, and she states she is better prepared to please you this season than ever before. She spent something over a month in the markets, and at all times was on the job, therefore she has the goods, the ideas and the prices to please each individual want and purse. She promises to show a more complete line of millinery than she has previously shown. She will be glad to show you, so we invite you to come

In Addition to Our Exhibit of Millinery

You are cordially invited to attend our fall showing of ladies' goods, suits, cloaks, silks, corsets, trimmings and small wares. In our showing of suits you will find a complete array of fabric and styles for ladies and girls, in sizes from 14 to 40. A look will convince you that Hooton's is the place to do your shopping, and save time, trouble and money. Cloaks—we have them in a complete assortment in style, quality and price. Our dress goods and silks you will find more complete than we have been accustomed to showing. A look will convince you of this. Our lines of corsets, hosiery and gloves you will always find complete in every respect. We have left nothing undone to get together a greater array of styles and materials than we have previously shown in all of the departments, so we invite you to come and let us show you what is new. Come, bring your friends, and make yourself at home at Hooton's.

Yours for business and promptness,

Where The
New Things
Are Shown
First.

All Goods Delivered at Both Depots Free.

WE WANT YOUR BUSINESS, WE NEED YOUR BUSINESS, AND INTEND TO HAVE YOUR BUSINESS, IF PRICES, GOODS AND SERVICE COUNT FOR ANYTHING.

Death of Mrs. I. B. Felder

Mrs. Annie Felder, wife of Mr. Isaac B. Felder, of this city, died last Thursday night at the home of her parents at Commerce, Ga., after an illness extending over several months. Her death, while not unexpected, came as a shock to her many friends in Bamberg. Mrs. Felder was carried to her former home in Commerce about six months ago for treatment in the hopes of a recovery. Her condition grew gradually worse, but a few weeks ago there appeared to have been a decided change for the better and hopes were entertained for an early recovery. However a relapse soon followed, and for some time before her death she was in a critical condition.

The remains were brought to Bamberg Saturday morning, and interment occurred at South End cemetery in the presence of a large assembly of friends and relatives. The funeral was conducted by Dr. E. O. Watson, assisted by Revs. L. E. Wiggins and W. R. McMillan. A beautiful floral tribute was paid Mrs. Felder.

Mrs. Felder was about 34 years of age. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Black, of Commerce, Ga., who survive her. She is also survived by two sisters and four brothers. She was a member of Trinity Methodist church, and was of an unusually sunny and bright disposition. She had been ill many months previous to being carried to her former home. She was a lady of culture and refinement, of a fine character, and she had hosts of friends in Bamberg whose sincere sympathies are extended to the bereaved ones.

Death of Capt. J. K. Risher.

Capt. Joseph Koger Risher died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Thomas Black, in this city, on last Friday, at the age of 83 years. Capt. Risher had been in ill health for some months, and a few days prior to his death he suffered a stroke of paralysis, from which he did not rally.

The remains were interred at South End cemetery Saturday morning, immediately preceding the burial of Mrs. I. B. Felder. The funeral was conducted by Rev. L. E. Wiggins, of Pickens, assisted by Rev. W. R. McMillan, pastor of the Baptist church, and Rev. E. O. Watson, pastor of the Methodist church. The funeral was attended by a large aggregation of friends and relatives of the deceased. One of the most beautiful displays of flowers ever seen in Bamberg was placed on the grave.

Capt. Risher had a long and honorable career. He entered the War Between the States at the outbreak of hostilities with the rank of lieutenant. He was afterward promoted to captain of the 24th S. C. volunteers, serving throughout the four years of war. He was considered one of the bravest and best soldiers of the Confederacy. Capt. Risher witnessed service in some of the greatest battles of the entire war from Atlanta to Nashville, and he also served in the Mississippi campaign. On one occasion he entered battle with a comparatively full regiment, and when the smoke of battle cleared he had 13 men left. The remainder had been killed, wounded or captured. In this battle Capt. Risher had seven bullets to pass through his clothes, but he escaped with only slight injuries, and on one occasion a testament in his pocket probably saved his life. A bullet struck the testament and lodged within its leaves, lacking only a very little of passing through the paper.

Capt. Risher's original home was in Colleton county. He came to Bamberg nine years ago with his wife, who died a few months after coming here to reside, at the age of 72. Since that time Capt. Risher had lived with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Black. The only public office ever held by him was the office of coroner, which he filled in Colleton county for several years.

Capt. Risher was a man of high Christian character. He was a member of the Methodist church and a faithful church worker. He was always identified with any movement

Methodist Missionary Society Notice.

The Woman's Missionary society of the Methodist church will hold its September meeting on Tuesday afternoon, next, at the church at five o'clock. After an enforced recess of a longer time than we ordinarily take in the summer, we are looking forward to renewing our efforts to the extent that we expect to make this a profitable and pleasant year in our missionary work. The service of each member and of each hoped-for new member is earnestly needed and most heartily spoken for. If we will unite our faith, love and works there is absolutely no estimate to be put upon results. Let us be loyal, consecrated workers! We shall have to be dependable and persevering if we members of our beloved organization succeed in making it the equal of the best. No one can afford to sit "idly by." Won't you meet with us and labor with us?
BESSIE LEE BLACK, Rec. Sec.

Surprise Party.

Thursday evening last the friends of Mr. V. J. Hartzog, on the occasion of his 65th anniversary, gave him a surprise party. Without giving him any hint as to their intentions, quite a large number of friends assembled at his home to congratulate him and wish him many more happy birthdays. The guests of the evening were served with delightful refreshments, and a very pleasant evening was spent by all. The affair came as quite a delightful surprise to Mr. Hartzog, whose friends are quite as numerous as his acquaintances, and there are few hereabouts who do not know him most pleasantly.

Keep It Up.

When in June, 1913, the superintendent of the Wesley Bible class department visited St. Paul's church, Orangeburg, S. C., the Sir Galahads Bible class, Mr. John S. Bowman teacher, had just been organized with a membership of thirty-nine. The average attendance at the class session was about twenty-five until last May, when the class took on new life. In rivalry with the Bamberg and Sumter Wesley Bible classes the attendance of the Sir Galahads ran up to an average of two hundred and seven during the month of June. Such achievements have made South Carolina the banner Bible class State.—The Adult Student.

Old Residence Burns.

The residence of T. J. Deer, three miles east of Ulmers, was completely destroyed by fire Tuesday morning. The structure was a two-story frame building and was one of the oldest homes in that community, having been built some 50 years ago. It was colonial in style and made entirely of heart pine lumber, being practically as good as new. One singularity of its construction was that every piece of weather boarding, ceiling and flooring was hand dressed. The fire was first discovered on the roof of the dining room and is supposed to have originated from a defective stove flue. The total loss is estimated to be about $3,500 with no insurance, very little of the contents being saved.

The cut glass fruit bowl will be given away on Friday night September 17th. Also six reels, including "Love's Refrain," with the two screen stars, Mary Pickford and King Baggot. Thielens Theatre.—adv.
